

"In vain will you find missions and built schools, if you are not able to wield the offensive and defensive weapons of a loyal Catholic press."
—Pope Pius X.

CATHOLIC COURIER AND JOURNAL

VOL. I, No. 2

Catholic Courier and Journal, Friday, March 29, 1929.

Baltimore Honor Pays To Archbishop Curley

Dignitaries Of Church Send Congratulation On Silver Jubilee—Dinner And Radio Concert Follow Anniversary Mass

Baltimore, March 28.—His Holiness Pope Pius XI: His Excellency, Cardinal Gasparri, Papal Secretary of State; Their Eminences, William Cardinal O'Connell, Dennis Cardinal Dougherty, Patrick Cardinal Hayes; His Excellency, the Most Rev. Pietro Pomasoni-Blondi, Apostolic Delegate to the United States and about 40 bishops and Archbishops of the American Hierarchy sent messages of congratulation on Tuesday to the Most Rev. Michael J. Curley, Archbishop of Baltimore on the occasion of the silver jubilee of his ordination to the priesthood.

His Holiness in his message conferred his Apostolic Benediction upon the jubilarian and upon the priests and the faithful of the Archdiocese of Baltimore.

Church Bells Are Ringing

At 10:30 o'clock, the hour at which Archbishop Curley began the pontification of his solemn jubilee Mass all the church bells of the Archdiocese were rung and thousands of Catholics in offices, workshops, homes and on the streets offered up silent prayers for His Grace. Sunday morning thousands of Catholics received Holy Communion for His Grace's intention, and thousands again received on Tuesday morning.

More than a thousand ecclesiastics, seminarians, priests and monsignori were in the procession which preceded the celebration of the jubilee Mass. The Right Rev. John M. McNamara, Auxiliary Bishop of Baltimore, was the only bishop attending, as the celebration was purely a diocesan affair. The jubilee sermon was delivered by Monsignor Joseph A. Cunnane, the oldest active priest in the Archdiocese of Baltimore.

The chalice which His Grace used at the Mass was the gift of his 88-year-old mother in Athlone, Ireland. The Archbishop consecrated the chalice early Tuesday morning, the feast of St. Joseph and one of His Grace's patronal feast days.

Greatest At Dinner

Following the Mass His Grace was the guest of honor at a dinner at Alcazar. Several hundred priests attended, including representatives of practically every religious order in the Archdiocese.

At night thousands listened into a radio concert broadcast under the auspices of The Baltimore Catholic Review in honor of His Grace's jubilee. The concert was concluded with the playing of "Holy God, We Praise Thy Name" and "The Star Spangled Banner." The Archbishop and members of the Cathedral household listened in at the archiepiscopal residence.

Two civic celebrations will be held next month in honor of the Archbishop's jubilee. The first will be in Baltimore on April 18 when a purse will be presented to His Grace by the priests and people of the Archdiocese. Governor Ritchie and Mayor Broening will be among the speakers. The second celebration will be held in Washington, April 22.

John Carroll University Plans $2,500,000 Buildings

Obtained—Old Home Has Few Educational Facilities.

Cleveland, March 28.—John Carroll University's plans for its new buildings in University Heights were announced recently by the university's new president, the Rev. Benedict J. Rodman, S. J.

Estimated to cost between $2,000,000 and $2,500,000, the new John Carroll group includes plans for a main or administration building; a faculty home, a dormitory and union, a gymnasium, a power plant and necessary grading.

To raise this money by contribution is the object of a financing program in Cleveland and other cities of the Cleveland Diocese. It was explained by Father Rodman. The new buildings are to be located in a 46-acre tract, adjacent to the University School, Hathaway-Brown School, Laurel School and Notre Dame College.

John Carroll was established in 1887 by the Jesuit order. Then and continuing until 1923 it was known as St. Ignatius. Occupying a shamb-ling out-of-date structure, the university has a reputation of being the poorest equipped of the twenty-seven Jesuit colleges in the principal cities of the United States.

The new administration building will be three stories high, with a memorial tower rising 160 ft. The building will have cross wings at either end and a projecting auditorium and chapel at the rear of the tower. The estimated cost of this building is $1,000,000.

The faculty building will contain a chapel, library, dining room, office space, lounge, reception rooms and living quarters for a staff of fifty. The cost of this building is estimated to be $2,000,000.

A dormitory for 100 boys and a union or recreation lounge for all of the students will also be three stories. The estimated cost of this building is $250,000. A gymnasium including a large auditorium, has been planned to cost upwards of $400,000.

London Police War On Offensive Books

London, March 26.—Scotland Yard is showing special vigilance in seeking to prevent the publication of books alleged to offend against morals. Detectives armed with a search warrant obtained under the Obscene Publications Act, 1857, raided the premises of a publisher here and seized 289 copies of a book entitled "The Sleeveless Errand," written by Miss Norah C. James. Later 228 further copies of the book were seized.

Nagasaki Diocese Grateful for Aid

Nagasaki, Japan, March 21.—Under the title of "Non Recedat Memoria" (The Memory of These Things Does Not Fade), the diocese of Nagasaki, the first to be entrusted to the native clergy in Japan, has published a handsome volume containing the history of the Catholic Church in the Mission. Passages translated from the Latin preface read as follows:

"Sixty-three years have passed since the discovery (in 1865) of the descendants of the early Japanese Christians, and since the Paris Foreign Mission Society began work in this region. Words fail us to describe how many sacrifices and how many heavy labors the bishops and priests of that Society have since then unhesitatingly assumed.

"And, therefore, if we rejoice that God, in His unspeakable Bounty, has given us a bishop of our own nation (the Rt. Rev. Januarius Hayasaka, D. D.), let us at least remember that it is thanks to the Paris Foreign Mission Society that we enjoy this happiness. It is to keep alive the grateful memory of these facts that we have published this volume."

Catholic Hospital In Baltimore Shares Fund Of $1,000,000

Baltimore, March 21.—Morey Hospital, a Catholic institution, is one of eleven Baltimore hospitals to share in a $1,000,000 trust fund created by Frederick Bauernschmidt, local philanthropist.

Creation of the trust fund by Mr. Bauernschmidt came as a surprise to the eleven institutions named in the deed since none of their directors had been consulted by the donor and none was aware that the gift was to be made.

In November, 1927, Mr. Bauernschmidt provided $600,000 for the erection of an addition to the Union Memorial Hospital to be known as the Frederick Bauernschmidt Memorial Hospital. This institution will open in May.

Funeral of Marshal Foch Greatest of All

Impressive and Beautiful Religious Atmosphere—Nations Join France in Mourning National Hero

Paris, March 28.—The mortal body of Marshal of France, Generalissimo of the War, rests near that of Napoleon Bonaparte under the vault of the famous Invalides Chapel. The funeral of Marshal Foch held here on Tuesday, was the greatest of all times, ancient or modern history, have so many people mourned the body of any one man. Hundreds of thousands of people part in the funeral services; more than two million watched the funeral procession pass.

The beautiful and impressive religious atmosphere that enveloped the entire mourning period prior to the funeral is something that will not soon be forgotten. On the day Marshal Foch died two augs and a military guard kept watch beside his body in his small home in the Rue de Grenelle. A crucifix was in the hall of the dead. Above the bed the flags of the Allied nations were draped about another crucifix. There were no flowers in the room.

The end came suddenly to the great hero of the Great War. He had been lying on a lounge enjoying the Spring sunshine by his open window. His nurse came to inform him his bed had been made ready for him. The Marshal protested he did not want to go to bed. The orderly insisted and the Marshal prepared to obey. "Adieu!" he said (the soldier's familiar "Let's Go!") These were his last words.

He was carried to his bed. Suddenly his eyes closed and his hands went to his heart.

Madame Foch, seated beside his bed, saw the Marshal suddenly go pale. A medical attendant was summoned and two orderlies ran to the Church of St. Cloud, which Marshal Foch always attended when in Paris.

General John J. Pershing, who had been in Paris since his arrival in France, was among the mourners who followed the body to his tomb.

Government Census Of Church Growth

New York Leads in Members and in Churches—Catholics Few In Number in Some Southern States—What The Figures Show

Washington, March 28.—Detailed statistics on the Catholic Church, gathered by the Department of Commerce, were released here recently. Previously the department had made public its religious census showing that there were in the United States at the close of the year 1926 a total of 18,940 Catholic Churches with a membership of 18,605,003. The census showed that there are in the country 2,133 religious bodies with a total membership of 54,624,976, of which the Catholic Church is by far the largest. The statistics on the Catholic Church, given in the report issued today, are of far greater local interest.

The report shows the State of New York leading in the number of Churches with 1,783 and in the number of members with 3,115,424. Pennsylvania is second with 1,730 Churches and 2,124,382 members. Illinois is third in the number of Churches with 1,064, but Massachusetts with only 705 Churches is third in membership with a total of 1,629,424. Illinois' Catholic population is listed at 1,352,719.

In this connection it is interesting to note that Minnesota, Michigan, Wisconsin, Ohio, Texas and California exceed Massachusetts in the number of Church buildings, although none approaches the Bay State in Catholic population. In the case of Minnesota the number of Catholics is but slightly more than

Special Palms For The Pope

Vatican City, March 28.—Pope Pius XI was presented with several elaborately-worked palms for Palm Sunday.

Monsignor Mingoli, for the Benedictine Monks, who since 1826 have had the privilege of preparing palms for the Apostolic Palace, prepared a palm surrounding a miniature showing Pope Pius XI in the act of blessing the Italian tricolor and the Fascist lictorio emblem. In the midst of the palm was a vase formed by palms with clusters of grapes and sheaves of grain.

Another palm was presented by the Bresca Family of San Remo. This family has had the honor of providing the palms used each year in St. Peter's on Palm Sunday. The privilege was accorded about three centuries ago by Pope Sixtus V in honor of the act of a young sailor named Bresca whose quick wit prevented a disastrous accident when the obelisk now standing in St. Peter's Square was erected.

Because of the recently concluded treaty between the Holy See and the Italian State, there was the Palm Sunday ceremony in Rome.

JEWISH SCIENTISTS UNEARTH MOSAICS

By Dr. Alexander Mombelli, Jerusalem Correspondent, N. C. W. C. News Service.

Jerusalem, March 11.—Continuing their work at Beit Alpha, the Jewish settlement in the Esdrelon valley, representatives of the Hebrew University of Jerusalem, have succeeded in clearing entirely the pavement of the Synagogue they have found there.

The last portion of the Zodiac, has been uncovered. To the north of the Zodiac a new portion of the mosaic has been unearthed, depicting the "Sacrifice of Isaac." The picture shows the patriarch Abraham and Isaac, the young man, with the ass, the ram and the thicket, etc. Hebrew inscriptions reading "Abraham," "Lay not thine hand," "And Behold a Ram" explain the contents of the pictures.

The new portion of the mosaic south of the Zodiac revealed the picture of an ark, flanked by seven branched candelsticks and lions. All the pictures are in a good state of preservation.

Cardinal Galli Dead 60 In Sacred College

Rome, Mar. 26.—Cardinal Aurelio Galli died here this morning at the age of sixty-three.

His death reduced the Sacred College to sixty Cardinals, of whom twenty-seven are Italians and thirty-three are other nationalities.

CALVERT ASSOCIATES INSTALL NEW CHAPTER

San Francisco, March 12.—A San Francisco Chapter of The Calvert Associates, national organization of Catholics and non-Catholics to combat bigotry, is being formed here with Archbishop Edward J. Hanna as Honorary Chairman and Edward J. Tobin, San Francisco banker, as chairman.

Organization of the Calvert Chapter for San Francisco and the bay region was perfected after a meeting at the residence of Archbishop Hanna at which Michael Williams, editor of The Commonwealth, national publication of the Calvert Associates was the guest of honor.

Buffalo Drive Over The Top

Catholic Charities Campaign Reaches Total of $407,000.00—The Best Ever

Buffalo, March 27.—The Catholic Charities campaign for the Buffalo diocese ended Monday, March 25, with a total of $467,000 pledged. This was $11,000 more than the quota. More checks are expected, to swell the total to $475,000. This was the most successful Catholic Charities drive ever held in Buffalo.

Rt. Rev. Bishop Turner issued a statement, thanking the people of Buffalo for their generosity, and stressing the fact that non-Catholics contributed without solicitation. The fund in 1928 was $442,000.

Hornell Doctor Widely Mourned

Funeral of Dr. George M. Lynch

Hornell, March 28.—Dr. George M. Lynch, one of the best known physicians in this city, was buried on Wednesday from St. Church. There was a large attendance of relatives and friends. Dr. Lynch will be widely mourned at his home, 18 Chestnut Street, Monday, following a stroke.

Dr. Lynch was a member of the Hornell Knights of Columbus, Hornell Lodge of the St. Vincent de Paul Society, and a member of the St. Vincent de Paul Society of the St. Vincent de Paul Society of the St. Vincent de Paul Society.

The funeral of Dr. Lynch was held Tuesday, when the coffin was transported to the Cathedral of Notre Dame to lie in state under its vault arches until the state funeral procession. Cardinal Dubois led the procession which was preceded by requiem high Mass.

The funeral service at the cathedral was brief and simple, in keeping with the simplicity of the dead. There was a low mass offered by the rector of the Paris church that Marshal Foch attended and a final blessing delivered by Cardinal Dubois, archbishop of Paris.

The cathedral services ended shortly before 10 a. m. and the mourners began to move slowly through the massive doors into the streets, where heavy forces of soldiers and police were posted.

The coffin was borne by a caisson preceded by a French legion of honor, and the Marshal's body in his small home in the Rue de Grenelle. A crucifix was in the hall of the dead. Above the bed the flags of the Allied nations were draped about another crucifix. There were no flowers in the room.

The end came suddenly to the great hero of the Great War. He had been lying on a lounge enjoying the Spring sunshine by his open window. His nurse came to inform him his bed had been made ready for him. The Marshal protested he did not want to go to bed. The orderly insisted and the Marshal prepared to obey. "Adieu!" he said (the soldier's familiar "Let's Go!") These were his last words.

He was carried to his bed. Suddenly his eyes closed and his hands went to his heart.

Madame Foch, seated beside his bed, saw the Marshal suddenly go pale. A medical attendant was summoned and two orderlies ran to the Church of St. Cloud, which Marshal Foch always attended when in Paris.

General John J. Pershing, who had been in Paris since his arrival in France, was among the mourners who followed the body to his tomb.

A Memorial For France

A Requiem Mass Offered For France

A requiem mass was offered for France at the Cathedral of Notre Dame on Tuesday, March 26. The mass was celebrated by the rector of the Paris church that Marshal Foch attended and a final blessing delivered by Cardinal Dubois, archbishop of Paris.

The cathedral services ended shortly before 10 a. m. and the mourners began to move slowly through the massive doors into the streets, where heavy forces of soldiers and police were posted.

The coffin was borne by a caisson preceded by a French legion of honor, and the Marshal's body in his small home in the Rue de Grenelle. A crucifix was in the hall of the dead. Above the bed the flags of the Allied nations were draped about another crucifix. There were no flowers in the room.

The end came suddenly to the great hero of the Great War. He had been lying on a lounge enjoying the Spring sunshine by his open window. His nurse came to inform him his bed had been made ready for him. The Marshal protested he did not want to go to bed. The orderly insisted and the Marshal prepared to obey. "Adieu!" he said (the soldier's familiar "Let's Go!") These were his last words.

He was carried to his bed. Suddenly his eyes closed and his hands went to his heart.

Madame Foch, seated beside his bed, saw the Marshal suddenly go pale. A medical attendant was summoned and two orderlies ran to the Church of St. Cloud, which Marshal Foch always attended when in Paris.

General John J. Pershing, who had been in Paris since his arrival in France, was among the mourners who followed the body to his tomb.

Dr. Lynch was a member of the Hornell Knights of Columbus, Hornell Lodge of the St. Vincent de Paul Society, and a member of the St. Vincent de Paul Society of the St. Vincent de Paul Society.

The funeral of Dr. Lynch was held Tuesday, when the coffin was transported to the Cathedral of Notre Dame to lie in state under its vault arches until the state funeral procession. Cardinal Dubois led the procession which was preceded by requiem high Mass.

The funeral service at the cathedral was brief and simple, in keeping with the simplicity of the dead. There was a low mass offered by the rector of the Paris church that Marshal Foch attended and a final blessing delivered by Cardinal Dubois, archbishop of Paris.

The cathedral services ended shortly before 10 a. m. and the mourners began to move slowly through the massive doors into the streets, where heavy forces of soldiers and police were posted.