Will Discuss Big Problems Of Industry

Wages, Unemployment and Other Subjects to Come Before Conference

CATHOLIC TEACHING TO SOLVE PROBLEMS

Noted Speakers Will Have Prominent Places in the Various Sessions

Washington, April 3.—The Catholic Conference on Industrial Problems has just announced two important meetings to be held under its auspices in the Great Lakes area during the next few weeks. The first of these meetings, to be held at Detroit, April 13th and 14th, under the joint auspices of the Conference and the League of Catholic Women, will be the first meeting of the Conference has ever devoted exclusively to a consideration of the problems of "Women in Industry." The second meeting—a regional meeting of the Conference—will be held at Green Bay, Wis., April 30th and May 1st, at the invitation of the Rt. Rev. Paul P. Rhode, Bishop of Green Bay.

It is the plan of those arranging for the Detroit meeting to take up all phases of industrial conditions in their relation to women and the family, and to discuss Catholic social teaching and the various proposals brought forward to remedy particular evils. Miss Elizabeth Morrissey, Professor of History and Economics at Notre Dame College, Baltimore, and chairman of the Committee on Women in Industry of the National Council of Catholic Women, will take an active part in the program. The Rt. Rev. Michael J. Gallagher, Bishop of Detroit, has extended the Conference a welcome to his diocese. The first day of the meeting at Green Bay will feature two sessions devoted to a discussion of wages. An evening session will consider a general topic, not yet announced.

On the second day, the meeting will consider unemployment, will listen to talks on organization in industry and will discuss industrial legislation. A banquet will bring the meeting to a close.

Among those who already have accepted places as speakers on the program for this meeting are: the Rev. Dr. Francis J. Haas, the Rev. Dr. Aloystus J. Muench and Dr. John A. Lapp, all of Milwaukee. It was planned originally to hold the Detroit meeting on April 6 and 7, and the Green Bay meeting on April 29 and 30, but these dates were abandoned in favor of the ones now announced.

Marshal Foch Second Of 3 Honorary K. of C. Members to Pass On Washington, April 4.—The death of Marshal Foch removed the second of three distinguished Europeans who were made honorary members of the Knights of Columbus, in post-war years. Of the trio Cardinal Mercier, Foch, and King Albert of Belgium, only Albert remains.

Marshal Foch was made an honorary member in Chicago, on November 6, 1921. He had been presented with a gold and gem studded baton by representatives of the Order, who visited Metz in 1920, to assist at the dedication of the Lafayette statue and his trip to this country was partly prompted by a desire to return that visit.

News of the death of Marshal Foch was received at Supreme Headquarters of the Order, at New Haven, with great regret. The flag atop the building was immediately lowered to the half-staff position in tribute to the gallant warrior.

Seminary Opened In Dalmatian City

Mr. Quinn was president of the Quinn Holding Corporation, New York City. The body will be taken to Sedalia, Mo., his old home, for burial.

Catholic Publishers To Hold Conference For Important Work

Will Discuss Use of Books and Pamphlets in Defense of Doctrines of the Church

Washington, April 4.—To ascertain ways and means by which the printed word can best be used in the apologetical movement being promoted by the National Council of Catholic Men and its affiliated organizations, a conference, to be attended by representatives of nationally-known Catholic publishing houses, will be held in the headquarters of the Council here, April 10 and 11.

The conference was called by Walter T. Johnson, president of the N. C. C. M., to get for the Council's bureau of apologetics the opinions of the publishers' representatives on the subject of selecting, publishing and circulating apologetical material. Nine companies and societies, thus far, have signified their intention to send representatives to the conference. Two others are expected to be represented.

Those publishing houses which have accepted the invitation of Mr. Johnson include the Calvert Associates, the Catholic Laymen's Association of Georgia, the John Murphy Company of Baltimore, The International Catholic Truth Society, Benz-ger Bros., John Jos. McVey of Philadelphia, the Paulist Press, the American Press and the Universal Knowledge Foundation.

The subjects proposed for discussion at the conference include:

I. Present and prospective opportunities for employing books, pamphlets and leaflets in the exposition and defense of Catholic doctrines and practices.

II. Appropriateness of present apologetical literature, for general and special requirements.

III. Advisability of revision of certain apologetical material now in use.

IV. Need for new literature.

V. Necessity for creating an editorial committee to aid the National Council of Catholic Men in preparing, revising and selecting apologetical literature.

VI. (1) Present agencies of distribution. (2) Methods of co-ordinating these agencies through the Bureau of Apologetics of the N. C. C. M.

VII. Correlation of radio broadcasting and the printed word in the apologetical movement.

In addition to the publisher's representatives attending the meeting, several members of the clergy interested in the program of the Bureau of Apologetics will attend.

Says a Nation's Soul Is Its Destiny, Ideals And Its Sacred Honor

Rev. Joseph Lonergan, Past Chaplain of American Legion, Vigorously Denounces Pacifism

Portland, Ore., April 4.—Speaking at the dedication of the new veterans' hospital in Saint Jackson Park, the Rev. Joseph Lonergan of Rockford, Ill., past chaplain of the American Legion and at present national chaplain of the Forty and Eight, vigorously denounced pacifism.

"A nation's soul," said Father Lonergan, "is its destiny, its sovereignty, its ideals and its sacred honor. Sometimes a nation must cut off its right arm or pluck out its eye, so down to physical death and give its citizens that it may defend its ideals and its honor."

"You have the responsibility," he continued, "to preserve the honor of the nation and the honor of those men who are unable to attend this ceremony because they are confined to their hospital beds. The price of liberty is eternal vigilance and that can be attained not alone by talking.

It is gained in righteousness. No nation was ever lost because of impaired finances or the personal transgressions of those in private and public life. But a nation will be lost if it does not preserve its principles of justice and righteousness."

On the platform with Father Lonergan was Major General Charles H. Martin, U. S. A., retired, who commanded Camp Grant, when Father Lonergan was with that command. When the priest had concluded his address, General Martin embraced him before the great assembly.

Speaking later at a banquet tendered to visiting veterans, Father Lonergan touched upon immigration and the problems connected with the national origins plan. Declaring that the United States should receive only as many immigrants as it can assimilate and make good American citizens, he deplored the tendency to discriminate against persons of one nationality as being less fitted than others to become Americans, and urged that the American Legion sponsor no such movement.

$2,500,000 Sought In Drive To Locate Irish Center In N. Y.

New York City, April 4.—A campaign to raise $2,500,000 for an Irish Center here was announced recently at a breakfast given at the Hotel Astor by the Irish Counties Committee in honor of Michael MacWhite, Minister at Washington of the Irish Free State. The drive will be nation-wide. It was announced by Major Stanley Howe, who presided. The center will include an exhibition of Irish industry at Grand Central Palace late in September, and an exhibition of Irish art.

Real estate valued at $1,500,000, Major Howe indicated, might be contributed toward the center. He gave no information, however, as to the donors of the site. A campaign, he said, will be made to raise the remaining $1,000,000.

"It is just and fitting," Mr. MacWhite declared, "that the people of the Irish race in New York should have a center for all those elements associated with Ireland."

Community Chest Praises Schools In San Francisco

San Francisco, April 4.—The part played by the parochial schools of San Francisco in the recent Community Chest drive was praised in a letter received by the Rev. James J. McHugh, archdiocesan superintendent of schools. The letter was written by Ruth A. Turner, chairman of the cooperation committee. It said, in part:

"May I take this opportunity to tell you how deeply we, at the Community Chest, and I, personally, appreciate the cooperation which you have extended to us in the schools under your jurisdiction.

"There is no part, to my mind, of the Community Chest activities so important as the work carried on in the schools. Your interest is a real inspiration to us and we are most grateful for the letters which you sent to the parochial schools, and for the work which the children did for the Community Chest."

A Call For Volunteers From Amarillo, Texas

The new Diocese of Amarillo in Texas, embracing a vast territory of over seventy counties, represents the most pioneer mission field in the United States. Four-fifths of the faithful are poor Mexicans driven from their native land by bitter persecution. They are scattered over this extensive territory, where for the greater part they are deprived of the benefits of the Catholic Church and school, with the result that thousands have already been lost to Mother Church. Missionary workers of every other denomination find a fertile field among them. The scarcity of priests and sisters and catechists and the urgent importance of relief in the situation at once has called forth a plan which is along the lines of that used by our country when an emergency arises—a call for volunteers.

Catholic young women, with a fair education, are invited to give one year of free service, under the direction of sisters, to teach in mission schools. Experienced and qualified teachers are preferred, though there is an opening to others, for useful service in the classroom and as visitors to the homes. Those requiring it will be given a brief period of several months training along practical lines in connection with a large Mexican school in Amarillo under the direction of the Sisters of Mercy. We proposed to provide for these "Mercy Workers" as long as they remain with us by appealing to the generosity of better situated Catholics over the country for their support at the rate of $25.00 a month or $300.00 a year.

On the missions we will use some forty chapels as schools. An humble cottage can be erected and furnished for light housekeeping for approximately $1,000.00, and will serve as a home for the teachers and workers. No doubt generous Catholics will be found who will assist in making these little homes possible.

Several young women have already volunteered for this urgent need. Others are invited to follow their good example. The climate is most healthful because of the altitude of from three to four thousand feet. Winters are mild and summer heat not at all severe because never oppressive. They are asked to volunteer for only one year at a time. Sisters will direct their work and visit each school monthly, spending a week or so with the workers. A knowledge of Spanish is not essential. A little practical Spanish will be taught in the training school and the workers will here be brought into actual contact with the Mexican children in the classroom.

Nor is the work to be among Mexican children only but it is to be extended to all Catholic children. Though the work is that of religious and under the direction of the Sisters, these workers are to constitute a distinctive lay organization, who are asked to give at least one year of service in the Lord's Vineyard, who will be their faithful and generous rewarder. Those who cannot serve in the front lines are asked to donate of their means for the sustenance of those who are giving time and service.

The Sisters of Mercy will have immediate care of this work and the young ladies volunteering for it may expect every consideration from them. Transportation will be provided where necessary to worthy applicants.

A few years ago our country called for volunteers and the response was most generous, although in many instances it entailed the supreme sacrifice. Now the Lord calls for volunteers to serve His Church in an emergency. No severe sacrifice is demanded. Give Him your time and service for one year if possible! At least give Him of your means which He has blessed you and He will bless you more abundantly.

All inquiries will be promptly answered by:

Yours most sincerely in X to, (Signed) R. A. GERKEN, Bishop of Amarillo. P. O. Box 1484, Amarillo, Texas.

Little Flower Mass Sung Easter Sunday

"The Little Flower Mass," the composition of Sister M. Joseph of the Blessed Sacrament Convent, was sung for the first time in Our Lady of Lourdes Church at the 10 o'clock Mass on Easter Sunday. The church choir, under the direction of Robert Bestor organist and leader, rendered the mass in an excellent manner, showing good training and careful preparation. "Regina Coeli," by Lotti, was sung at the offertory.

This was the first Easter Sunday for Our Lady of Lourdes Church, and all of the masses were attended by large congregations. The pastor, Rev. Frank W. Mason, was greatly pleased by the large attendance, by the generous collection, and by the piety and interest shown by the people.
