IN THE WORLD OF SPORTS

St. Bonaventure To Pay Tribute To John McGraw

Will Also Honor George Sausce, the Youngest and Oldest Big-League Alumni

Thirty-five years ago a young man entered St. Bonaventure's College as a student. He came from Truxton, N. Y., a village in Cortland County about as big as the hats that Texans wear. His mother had died when he was a youngster, and he had grown up in the school of hard knocks—a boy virtually thrown loose upon the world, left to his own resources, largely, and knowing full well the bitter blight of poverty and deprivation.

That boy was John McGraw, the "Little Napoleon" of baseball; the greatest leader of them all; the greatest manager, and for years one of the greatest players. He played ball on the St. Bonaventure team, and from that team he took the highways to the big league, to success, fame and fortune. As manager of the New York "Giants" for years he has been the outstanding figure of the baseball world. But in all these years he has never forgotten his happy days at St. Bonaventure, and has never missed an opportunity to honor his Alma Mater in every possible way.

Next Thursday, April 18, his Alma Mater will honor him as the oldest alumnus in the major leagues, and at the same time will honor George Sausce as the youngest one. They are to be honored by the student body of St. Bonaventure's at Philadelphia.

A fund has been solicited among the students for gifts to the two former students. St. Bonaventure's baseball team which will be in Philadelphia on the 18th, will march to home plate in Baker's Bowl just before the scheduled National League game between the Giants and the Phillies. The presentation of gifts will be made by Rev. Thomas Plasmann of St. Bonaventure's.

Sausce attended St. Bonaventure's last fall, leaving in March for a trial with the Phillies. He made good as third string catcher and will be retained by Manager Burt Shotton.

McGraw was a student there in 1894 and 1895. His pal, the late Hughie Jennings, attended St. Bonaventure at that time. McGraw is bringing his Giants to the college at Allegany for an exhibition game with the St. Bonaventure team on May 31.

ST. FRANCIS PLAYERS APRIL 21, 22, 23 and 24

The rectory of Our Lady of Mercy Church, Gloucester, Mass., with its soul-stirring and dramatic episode, will furnish the principal scene of "The Confession", which will be presented by the St. Francis Players on the evenings of April 21, 22, 23 and 24, in St. Francis Xavier Hall, 328 Bay St., at 8:15 o'clock. Other important scenes will be the Gloucester court-room and the Charlestown prison. The drama is being rehearsed by Claude Roosevelt, who has selected the following cast: Mrs. Claude Roosevelt, Thelma Flaherty, Mrs. Rhea Wagner, Leo Hogan, George McGrath, Val Rauber, Stephen Flaherty, Raymond Mooney, Richard Wilhelm, Whalen Flaherty, Everett Haenlin, Walter Kolb, Leo Rauber and John Raynor. The public is invited to attend.

Bowling Congress Diamond Medal Goes To Priest

The Rev. Father M. E. Halpenney, pastor of St. Bridgid's Church, Detroit, rolled a perfect score in the Knights of Columbus National Bowling Congress in Chicago. Father Halpenney's twelve straight strikes came on his third game in the five-man event, and a demonstration lasting several minutes followed his achievement. Directors of the tournament voted to present Father Halpenney with a diamond medal. His was the first 300 score in national Knights of Columbus competition.

Fourteen Teams In Notre Dame Baseball Tournament

Notre Dame, Ind., April 11.—Each of the fourteen residence halls on the campus at the University of Notre Dame will enter teams in the annual spring playground baseball tournament which is being sponsored by the Chicago Club of Notre Dame. The schedule will be drafted this week, and play will start immediately.

The hall winning the championship will be presented with a large silver loving cup by the Chicago Club, of which Edmund A. Collins is president.

ARCHBISHOP OFFICIATES WHEN 14 POSTULANTS TAKE THEIR VOWS daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Holleran, 505 East Market Street, Elmira; Frances Madigan, Sister Marie Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Madigan, 661 Beecher Street, Elmira; Marguerite Hendrick, Sister Rose Anthony, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Hendrick, 44 Carleton Street, Margaret McCarthy, Sister M. Raymond, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. McCarthy, 1334 Lake Avenue; Elizabeth McGraw, Sister M. Anselm, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William McGraw of Industry.

In addition to the above, Sister M. Consolata of Rochester and Sister Mary Lourdes of Elmira made their perpetual vows, and Sister Helen Frances of Elmira her first vows.

SERMON BY ARCHBISHOP

The altars of the sanctuary were prettily decorated with Easter lilies, red and white roses and palms. The talk to the postulants was given by Archbishop Hickey, and he gave a discourse that appealed to the hearts of all in attendance. He said in part: "This morning you have come here for the reception of the habit of the religious life. This act, so simple, is yet so great, so full of meaning, so rich in spiritual heroism, that the world cannot appreciate it. Man has gifts of soul that make him like unto God. The soul has free will and understanding, and free will is the highest gift of God to man. Man's knowledge is directed by his free will. It was an act of free will which brought these children of God to the Altar last this morning, that they might change the garb of the world for the garb of the Sisterhood. After weighing all that the world has to offer them, and all that God has to offer them, of their own free will they have decided to leave the world and consecrate their lives to God. It means sacrifice, unselfishness, love and devotion to serve God all the days of their lives. "It might appear to the world extraordinary that anyone might want to leave the world and go into seclusion. Our reception of this act of religion is not visioned by the things of the world, but by the things of God. It is like a masterpiece of art or of music, it takes a trained eye, a trained ear, to appreciate the real beauty of these treasures. And so it takes a religious spirit to envision a religious life. This is what gives comfort and strength to you all when you become children of Christ. "For Benefit of Humanity "You have come here because you thought it was God's wish for you to come. You have come wholeheartedly. You have come because you want to give to God, to dedicate to God, the things God has given you, for the benefit of humanity, for the welfare of the Church and for the glory of Almighty God. You fathers and mothers may well feel that God has entered your homes because your children have taken God's pathway. "The vow you have taken is the highest and noblest kind of a vow—to observe poverty, chastity and

RICHARD J. TOOLE
The many friends of Richard J. Toole of 152 Weldon Street, Captain Regimental Adjutant of the 121st Cavalry Unit, will be glad to know that he is out again after a long sojourn of illness, and is fast regaining his usual good health. Capt. Toole was taken to the Highland Hospital last October, suffering from influenza and complications, and was a patient there for five months. His fight was a hard one, but he made it with a fine spirit of resignation and determination, and finally won. Capt. Toole served overseas with the U. S. Marines during the World War, and has long been active in military life in Rochester. He has a world of friends, and they showed unusual interest and kindness towards him during his long illness, for which he is greatly appreciative.
