IN THE WORLD OF SPORTS

Holy Cross Leads Baseball World In College Games

Holy Cross leads all Eastern college teams in the baseball world, having at the beginning of this week the remarkable percentage of 95.3. It has played 21 games, won 20 and lost one. Only 30 runs have been scored against Holy Cross in the 21 games, while it has scored 203 against its opponents.

Next in line comes Amherst, with a percentage of 91.7. But Amherst has played only 12 games, won 11 and lost one. Boston College, a Catholic institution like Holy Cross, stands third, with a percentage of 82.4, having won 14 games and lost three.

Fifty-three colleges are listed in the mythical college baseball race by sport writers. The Catholic colleges do not all show the speed of Holy Cross. Fordham is in 10th place; Georgetown, 33d; Villanova, 41st; Catholic University, 43d; Manhattan, 50th; Seton Hall, 51st.

Harvard is in sixth place; Navy, 15th; Colgate, 24th; Cornell, 31st; Yale, 32d; Syracuse, 36th. Boston University is at the bottom of the list, with one game won and seven lost.

One of the interesting matches of the past week was played on Thursday, when Holy Cross shut out Boston College, 6 to 0. Boston College was crowding the Crusaders for the top of the standing and was particularly anxious to take this game, but Holy Cross was in top form and breezed to a shut-out.

In addition to setting the pace in the standing, Holy Cross has the added honor of being the first team to pass the 300 mark in run-scoring. It has sent 303 men across the plate and has allowed the opposition to tally only 30 markers. Boston College comes second in run-making, with a total of 180, and Temple is next with 177. The latter team has a percentage of .600 on 9 games won and 6 lost, but this has not forced it to keep from making a big total of runs.

Boston College Ends 10-Yr. Split With Harvard

Cambridge, Mass., June 6.—For the first time in ten years, Harvard and Boston College will meet in intercollegiate competition when track teams from both institutions will take part in the Greater Boston intercollegiate meet at the Harvard Stadium, May 2 and 3, 1930. Announcement of plans for the meet was made by William J. Bingham, Harvard athletic director.

In 1920, when Harvard failed to book a football game with Boston College, the latter retaliated by canceling the annual two-game baseball series. Since then the two institutions have not met one another.

City Tournament For Next Year On Buonomo Alleys

The City Bowling Tournament will be held next year on the Buonomo Alleys, 78 Charlotte Street. This will be good news to all bowlers, for the Buonomo alleys are fine, modern, well-conducted, and a most desirable place for a tournament of this kind. Charles and Anthony Buonomo, managers of the alleys, are among the best known bowlers of Rochester, and are very popular with all tournament patrons and participants.

Seminary Student Champion Orator

Toronto, June 7.—Roche Plinard of Quebec has been declared winner of the Canadian oratory championship for secondary school pupils. He is a student of the Seminaire De Joliette. Representatives of seven provinces took part in the final contest.

Nicholas Cody Ordained Sunday In Missouri

Former Student of St. Bernard's Seminary Will Be Elevated to Priesthood by Archbishop Glendon

Nicholas Cody of County Wexford, Ireland, formerly a student at St. Bernard's Seminary, will be ordained at 7:30 o'clock next Sunday morning in Webster Grove Seminary, Mo., by Archbishop Glennon of St. Louis, Mo. Invitations to the ordination have been received by a number of Rochester relatives and friends.

Nicholas Cody and his brother John came to Rochester from Ireland several years ago. Both studied at St. Bernard's Seminary. John's health failed, and he went West to Denver, Col., where he was ordained to the priesthood some time ago. He is now stationed at Wichita, Kansas. Nicholas also suffered from poor health, and he left the seminary for a time, found employment in Rochester, went to Brooklyn afterwards, and then went to Webster Grove Seminary, where he completed his course. He has a number of cousins, and many friends, in Rochester, and all will be delighted to know that at last he has achieved his life's ambition—to enter the priesthood.

Weekly Calendar

Sunday, June 9.—Sts. Primus and Felicianus, martyrs, were brothers who lived in Rome toward the latter part of the third century because they professed the Faith—they were cruelly tortured and finally beheaded.

Monday, June 10.—St. Margaret of Scotland, daughter of an English King, became the bride of Malcolm of Scotland and reigned as Queen until her death in 1093. She built many churches and monasteries and would not rest until she brought about the observance of the law of God throughout the kingdom. She spared no pains in the education of her eight children and their sanctity was the result of her prudence and zeal. On her death bed she received word that her husband and eldest son had been slain in battle and she thanked God for this last affliction.

Tuesday, June 11.—St. Barnabas, Apostle, was chosen to preach the Faith in Antioch and in this capacity he enlisted the aid of St. Paul. Later St. Barnabas went to Cyprus where he won his martyr's crown.

Wednesday, June 12.—St. John of Fagondez, was a hermit of the Augustinian Order in Salamanca, after he had resigned a number of benefices in the diocese of Burgos. A woman of noble birth but evil life, whose companion in sin St. John had converted, contrived to administer a fatal poison to the Saint and after several months of terrible suffering he died in 1479.

Thursday, June 13.—St. Anthony of Padua, known as the "Hammer of the Heretics," preached in France, Italy and Sicily, working many miracles and converting thousands to the Faith. He died in 1231.

Friday, June 14.—St. Basil the Great was born in Asia Minor. Two of his brothers became Bishops and together with his mother and sister are honored as Saints. He was known as the father of monastic life in the East and later was chosen Bishop of Caesarea in which capacity he courageously combated the Arian heresy. He died in 379 and is venerated as a Doctor of the Church.

Saturday June 15.—Sts. Vitus, Crescentia and Modestus, Martyrs. St. Vitus was a child of noble parents, who was instructed in Faith by his Christian nurse Crescentia and her husband Modestus. To escape the persecution of his pagan father and the civil authorities, Vitus and his companions fled into Italy, where they received the crown of martyrdom during the persecution of Diocletian.

Pope Pius Takes Mussolini Sharply to Task for His Worse Than Heretical Statements

Criticizes in No Uncertain Terms the Statements of the Italian Premier on the Vatican Treaty

The Church instead, he added, had never asked the State anything except to fight for a just and legitimate collaboration for the common good.

About Other Religions
The fact that all other religions are freely admitted in the Italian State does not find objections on the Pope's part, "provided," he says, "it is clearly and loyally understood that the Catholic religion and the Catholic religion alone is the State religion with all the logical and juridical consequences that that state implies, especially where propaganda is concerned and provided it is no less clearly and loyally understood that the Catholic religion is not merely one of the many tolerated or permitted religions, but is what the letter and spirit of the Lateran treaties and Concordat make it."

The Marriage Question
Turning his attention to the articles of the Concordat regulating marriage, Pope Pius said: "In the matter of marriage the Concordat ensures such benefits for the Italian people that we would gladly have sacrificed our life for it."

The Pope comments on the Premier's statement that it is juridically impossible to oblige a Catholic to marry in the Church in preference to only a civil marriage ceremony. "The Church," he says, "can and must do this with the means at its disposal. It does so even now, declaring those faithful outside that communion who prefer a civil marriage to a religious one."

The Pope's letter ends with a renewed expression of his regret that the joy of all good Catholics and all good citizens throughout the world at the Italo-Vatican conciliation should have received such a painful interruption.

Worse Than Heretical
Especially severe is the Pope in his condemnation of the passage in the Premier's speech before the Chamber in which the Premier said that the Christian religion was born in Palestine and became Catholic in Rome, and that it had remained in Palestine it might have flickered out like one of the many sects which flourished in that land.

The Pontiff unhesitatingly brands this as "heretical and worse than heretical."

Premier Mussolini's whole attitude toward the Church came under the Pope's criticism. He was displeased, he said, by the Premier's frequent references to the fact that the State had not made concessions to the Church, that the State kept all of its means of watching over the Church and its clergy. "As if," wrote the Pope, "they were suspicious characters or as if the Church had ever attempted the usurpation or spoliation of the State, while the contrary is historically and notoriously true."

Preacher's Appeal Ignored; Students Hear Bishop

Baptist Members of Graduating Class At Tucson Attend Exercises Despite Opposition of Their Clergyman

San Antonio, Tex., June 6.—Enrique Gorostieta, leader of the "Laborators," religious rebels, in Mexico, has just announced that orders to his followers to disband and return to civil life have been issued. With other leaders of the religious rebels, Gorostieta met at the Church of Sierra Ibarra in the State of Guanajuato. On opening the assembly, it was stated, Gorostieta addressed the armed multitude telling them that they should either disband or surrender to the government because "arrangements now are being made with the government for the solution of the religious conflict."

Without exception, the dispatch further stated, the rebel chiefs announced that they agreed with the plan of Gorostieta. The mustering out of the troops, it was stated, already has begun.

"There still remain some armed groups operating in Guanajuato," the dispatch concluded, "but it is generally believed that this rebellion will soon be at an end."

Religious Rebels Disband, Mexican Dispatch States

Tucson, Ariz., June 6.—Despite a request to the Baptist Young People's Union by the Rev. Richard S. Beal, pastor of the First Baptist Church, that none of them attend the baccalaureate services in the High School recently, at which the Rev. Daniel J. Gereke, Bishop of Tucson, was the speaker, all-Baptist members of the graduating class were present, according to an account of the services published in the Arizona Daily Star.

The Rev. Beal, according to the Daily Star, in a letter to the union, made up largely of high school students, asked them to refrain from attendance because a Catholic Bishop was to be the speaker. The selection of Bishop Gereke had been by the vote of the entire senior class.

Women's Colleges Honor Society Is Being Organized

Webster Grove, Mo., June 6.—The organization of a new national honor society whose members will be graduates of Catholic women's colleges—a project that has been developed quietly for the last three years—is rapidly nearing completion. The society's plan of organization and program of activity will be determined, it is expected, at regional meetings to be held at Rosary College, River Forest, Ill., June 17 and 18, and at Mt. St. Vincent's College-on-the-Hudson, New York, June 21 to 23, which the recently nominated members will attend. The first national meeting will be held at a later date, at a place to be named next month.

The Rev. Francis V. Corcoran, C.M., Vice-President of Kenrick Seminary here, has been named moderator of the proposed society, and is taking an active interest in the completion of its organization.

Catholic Academy Beats 113 Schools In Scholastic Test

Grand Forks, N. Dak., June 7.—Competing against 113 other high schools in North Dakota, the Academy of St. James of Grand Forks conducted by the Sisters of St. Joseph, won the Lions' Club Sweepstakes trophy for general scholastic excellence at the Annual State High School Contests held at the University of North Dakota, May 16, 17th and 18th.

First-Class Broilers At R. O. Paul's Market

This is the time of year for broilers, sizzling from the fire, and dripping in savory grease. Very choice broilers, arranging in weight from three-quarters pounds to three pounds, may be obtained at R. O. Paul's market, 1442 Dewey Avenue. Mr. Paul knows a broiler by its first name, and all that is necessary to bring one of these tempting morsels right to your table is a phone call to Paul's store. In addition to fowl, Mr. Paul handles every variety of meats from soupmeat to tenderloin steaks, and he also carries all the popular vegetables.

If you want a choice Sunday dinner order a broiler and a dozen ears of corn. The Paul phone number is Glenwood 4044.

Catholic Policeman's Dying Wish Saves His Slayer From Death

Washington, June 6.—The dying wish of Policeman John F. McAuliffe, a Catholic, that mercy be shown his slayer was granted yesterday in the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia, when Samuel Jenkins, the slayer, was permitted to plead guilty to a charge of second-degree murder. In entering the plea Jenkins escaped the electric chair. The penalty for second-degree murder runs from 20 years to life imprisonment.

While intoxicated, Jenkins fired from a window upon Policeman McAuliffe, who was coming to investigate a disturbance in the house. After fatally wounding the policeman, Jenkins turned the gun on himself and inflicted a slight wound.
