MANGAN-SKUSE
Edward L. Mangan of 192 Sherwood Avenue, manager of Fahy's Market, and Miss Beesie L. Skuse, daughter of Richard Skuse of Ontario Street, were united in marriage on Tuesday, June 25th, at St. Augustine's Rectory. Rev. John O'Brien performed the ceremony. After an extended Eastern trip, Mr. and Mrs. Mangan will live at No. 192 Sherwood Avenue. Their friends will wish them every happiness.

WALLACE-MORRILL
Doris M. Morrill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence E. Morrill of Bartlett Street, and Stephen P. Wallace, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Wallace of Coldwater, were married June 28 in the rectory of the Holy Family Church. The attendants were John Strake and Miss Anna Sac. Mr. and Mrs. Wallace left for a trip through Canada and the Adirondacks.

KENNERSON-NEARY
Miss Margaret Alice Neary, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Neary of Stutson Street and John Vernon Kennerston of Lake Avenue, were married on June 24 in the rectory of the Holy Cross Church by the Rev. Alexander J. McCabe. Miss Anna L. Neary, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. Willis Kennerston, brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Mr. and Mrs. Kennerston left on a trip to Cleveland and Detroit and after July 1 will be at home at 960 Dewey Avenue.

Purely Feminine Duds for Milady

Bachelor Freedom Doomed in Fall Clothes, Paris Writer Says.

Paris is showing her midseason styles. Half are for hot weather and the other half took several months ahead to the time when the frost will be on the pumpkin. Liberty of person is being menaced by both, says a Paris fashion correspondent in the New York Times. The bachelor freedom of the straightline, the short skirt, and the simple style in general is, if possible, more threatened now than in the late spring fashions. More than that, fashionable women in and around Paris show in their costumes distinct indications of bending to the old yoke of the purely feminine in clothes with scarcely a struggle.

Fellow-women, the fact is we are about to be frocked, if Paris has her way, in frocks that absolutely demand lines, carriage and increased laundry bills. First of all, as to lines: When Jean Patou introduced his long princess bodices a few months ago many women were heard saying that only mannish could wear these restrictive, in-curving lines. Time and smart women have proved that this is wrong, for many are now appearing in these molded frocks without any loss of beauty, however greatly freedom of movement is hampered.

The molded upper silhouette, instead of dying a quick death, is now causing a long shadow over fashion forecasts. Some of the leading Paris dressmakers are showing dresses for evening, and for day also, with silhouettes that are molded almost to the knees, from which point the skirt is allowed to flare as extravagantly as possible.

There is no actual tightness in the fitting. Maggy Rouff, who has made such a sensational success here and abroad, uses the modified princess design for summer and beyond dresses.

Burned Sacred Heart Convent in Montreal Is To Be Rebuilt

Montreal, Quebec, July 5.—The historic Convent of the Sacred Heart at Sault au Recollet, a suburb of Montreal, which was destroyed by fire after being struck by lightning, June 23rd, will be rebuilt, the Rev. Mother Clappin, Superior, has announced. While some of the walls of the convent are still standing, the terrible heat to which they were subjected has rendered them unfit for building purposes, and they will be demolished.

Archbishop George Gauthier of Montreal already has visited the scene of the fire, and has offered to head a subscription fund for the rebuilding of the structure, if necessary. Little insurance was carried on the convent, which was valued at $1,000,000.

Fourth Degree K. C. Golf Tournament

The Fourth Degree Assembly, K. of C., golf tournament, scheduled for last week at the Brook-Len Club, was postponed until the second week in July so the members could participate in the orphans' outing. Chairman Elmer T. Thane announces that the same program will hold over until the adjourned date.

While she suggests the princess fit, there is, actually, no really close fit until the hips. The omission of belts, or any definite wasteline marking, gives more than anything else the effect of a princess line.

Coats are not escaping from the requirement of being feminine. They have a tendency to flare below the hips, and they are almost invariably treated to double faced collars or very high, flaring collars of fur. This may as well be put down in the stylish woman's mental or actual notebook for September.

Little News Items About Our People

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. O'Connor, 426 Magee Avenue, are the proud parents of a new son, born on Tuesday of last week. Four, fine healthy and active boys will be able to help "Tom" get news for The Echo by and by, as well as keeping busy in other ways.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Conolly of East Avenue visited T. F. Markey, at the Hotel Grossinger, Ferndale, en route to their lodge at Kennebunk, Maine, for several weeks.

Peter V. and Francis X. Connelly, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Peter J. Connelly of 994 N. Goodman Street, graduates of Aquinas Institute this year, will enter Notre Dame University in the Fall. Peter, aged 16 years, was the youngest member of his class, and both boys had a fine record in their studies.

The Misses Margaret and Theresa Hickey, Jeremiah Hickey, Jr., and Walter Hickey of St. Paul Street, left last Friday to join their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jeremiah G. Hickey, at the Hotel Belmont in West Harwich, Mass. They will be gone for about
