Geneva Church Celebrates Twenty-Fifth Anniversary And Raises Fund of $26,000

Bishop O'Hern of Rochester, Forty Priests and Many Former Parishioners Join Pastor and People in Jubilee

Geneva, July 11.—The 25th anniversary of the founding of St. Stephen's Church in this city was happily celebrated last Sunday by the Rev. William McPadden, pastor of the church, and his people. Pastors and people were honored by the presence of the Rt. Rev. John Francis O'Hern, D.D., Bishop of Rochester, who celebrated a Pontifical Mass and preached a jubilee sermon that gave joy and gladness to the hearts of all people. More than 40 priests were present at the service, and the solemnity and beauty of the ceremony will remain long in the memory of the people of this parish.

Bishop O'Hern, wearing red and gold vestments, occupied a red and gold throne for the service. His assistant priest was the Rev. Walter J. Lee, pastor of St. Francis de Sales Church. The deacons of honor were the Rev. Arthur Hughes of Holy Rosary Church, Rochester, and Rev. Michael Wall of Canandaigua.

The deacons of the Pontifical Mass were the Rev. Henry Mantley and the Rev. William Davis, both formerly of Geneva. The Rev. William F. Bergin of St. Ann's, Genoa, was master of ceremonies, with Rev. Michael Tydings as his assistant. Paul Cuddy and Austin Hanna were acolytes; Joseph Sullivan, cantor; Albert Simonetti, book bearer; Gordon McGillich, cross bearer; Frank Hinkle, mitre bearer; James Lano, candle bearer. Boys of the parish acted as train, torch and vestment bearers.

The church was decorated in an appropriate manner for the event. Crimson rambler roses set off the plain wood finish and brick pillars of the interior and of the sanctuary. A spacious congregation filled the church to overflowing, and there were many former parishioners present, men and women who come home to Geneva with joy in their hearts to help celebrate a great event in the life of the Church they loved.

Fund of $26,000 Subscribed
A beautiful souvenir booklet was distributed during the service. It was dedicated to the late Rev. Stephen V. McPadden, founder of the church, and it contained 1,100 names of subscribers totaling $26,000 to the jubilee fund. The goal of the fund had been fixed at $25,000 but the generosity of the people went beyond that in a substantial way. The booklet contained a history of the church, several photographs, and on the cover was a photograph of the new shrine of St. Stephen located in the transept of the church.

Following the ceremony Bishop O'Hern and the visiting priests were guests of Father McPadden at dinner in the church rectory. They were most hospitably entertained.

A Marvellous Growth
The growth of St. Stephen's parish is a marvellous one. From a parish of 125 families, holding services in a small building that had been purchased from the Dutch Reformed Church on Main Street, it has grown to a parish of 525 families, owning a church built at a cost of more than $110,000, a rectory costing upwards of $25,000, a convent, a parochial grammar school and a site for a future high school.

Artistic Buildings
The church buildings are noteworthy from an architectural standpoint and have been visited by noted church architects from distant parts of the country. They form a group which will eventually be united about a great central tower that is to be built in the future. While the present great grey stone buildings attract and hold attention, the completed edifice with a central tower overlooking the present structures, will be imposing.

The church was built in the first dozen years of the existence of the new St. Stephen's parish. The acknowledged designer and founder of the church is the late Rev. Stephen V. McPadden, who until his appointment as first rector of the new parish by the late Rev. Bernard J. McQuaid, bishop of the diocese, had been for nine years assistant pastor of St. Francis de Sales Church here, where he was then pastor. It was Father McDonald who selected and purchased the site in Pulteney Street for the new church and parochial buildings.

Father McPadden and his parishioners received the hearty congratulations of Bishop O'Hern and the priests of the diocese on the jubilee anniversary, and on the great accomplishments of the parish and its people.

MACEDON

First Communion Class In St. Patrick's Church

Macedon, July 11.—A class of 16 children made their first communion in St. Patrick's Church here last Sunday. It was the first class under the direction of the new pastor of the church, Rev. Dr. George F. Kettell, and the children made a fine appearance and showed evidences of the best kind of training. The service was a beautiful one, and an inspiration to the large congregation in attendance.

Bequests of $1,000 To Two Churches

Geneva, July 11.—Bequests of $1,000 each for the Church of St. Francis de Sales and St. Stephen's Church in this city were provided for in the will of Abraham Hawkins. Mr. Hawkins left property valued at $22,235.52, according to the transfer tax appraisal. The bequests were as follows:

Mary Hawkins, widow, $1,458.11; Mary J. Doohan, sister of 265 Ridgeway Avenue, Rochester, Theresa Ryan, sister of Elmira, Thomas Hawkins, brother of Akron, O.; D. R. Hawkins, brother of Geneva and Abigail Healy, sister of Salem, Mass.; $1,000 each; Michael C. Hawkins, cousin of Ypsilanti, Mich.; and Mabel McEann, niece of Geneva, $500 each. St. Francis de Sales Church and St. Stephen's Church of Geneva, $1,000 each; Abraham R. Ryan, of Elmira, Arthur Doohan of 265 Ridgeway Avenue, Rochester, and Catherine Healy of Salem, Mass., nephews, and niece, $21,761.07 each. A transfer tax of $2,641.83 was levied.

ELMIRA

St. Cecilia's Church Scene of Marriage Of Popular Couple

Elmira, July 11.—One of the prettiest weddings of the year took place in St. Cecilia's Church at 9 o'clock Sunday morning, June 22, when Miss Genevieve Elizabeth Neagle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Neagle of Upper Lake Street, was united in marriage to Earl J. Westcott of Lansing, Mich. This Rev. J. A. Maley, rector of the church, performed the ceremony.

The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Madeline Neagle, and by Miss Theresa R. Van Heady, Walter Westcott of Lansing, brother of the groom, was the best man. Following the ceremony, a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents. After a trip to Wilmington, D. C., and a month in City, Mr. and Mrs. Westcott will reside in their newly furnished apartment in Detroit.

Many pre-nuptial parties were given in honor of Miss Neagle. Miss Cecelia Winnick of 700 John street entertained at a variety shower in the bride-elect's honor. Twenty-five were present. Miss Madeline Neagle gave an apron shower for her sister. Bridge and 500 were enjoyed, three tables being in play. Miss Theresa R. VanHeady of Southport Street was hostess at a linen shower for the bride-to-be. Thirty guests were present.

Prior to Miss Neagle's return to Elmira from a sojourn in Lansing, many parties were given for her in that city. Among those who entertained at showers were: Mrs. Charles McGillich, Miss Helen McRoney, Miss Lillian Hengeman, Mrs. Joseph Goulet, Miss Anne Ryan, Miss Marie Daley, Miss Helen Bennett, Miss Esther Belen, Mrs. Joseph Snyder.

Miss Neagle is a very charming young woman, and she has a host of friends here and in Lansing. All who know her will unite in wishing her and her husband a happy married life, rich in blessings.

DANSVILLE

Greenmount Cemetery Mausoleum Completed

Dansville, July 11.—The granite William VanHeuveler mausoleum in Greenmount cemetery, has been completed and the remains of William VanHeuveler, (who will be remembered as Lillian May, formerly of this village), of Washington, D. C., were transferred from the Greenmount vault, where they were placed at her death four months ago, to their new resting place in the crypt reserved for her in the mausoleum. Before the committal Rev. Leo G. Holschneider, pastor of St. Mary's Church, blessed the crypt. Present at the services were Mrs. VanHeuveler's husband, William VanHeuveler; her son, Arthur, and daughter, Miss Anna VanHeuveler, of Washington, D. C.; the Misses Ruff, Mrs. Rose Klauke, Mr. and Mrs. William Yochum of Dansville and Mr. and Mrs. Charles May the former a brother of Mrs. VanHeuveler; of Rochester.

The exterior of the mausoleum is entirely of granite, with solid bronze doors. There are six crypts with white marble plates for inscriptions. The total weight of the mausoleum is over 27 tons.

JOSEPH JOHANTZEN
Dansville, July 11.—Joseph Johantzen, 74, died on July 6th at his home in Liberty Street. He had always resided here and for many years was a day watchman and janitor at the Foster Wheeler Corporation plant. Mr. Johantzen leaves his widow, Mary; three daughters, Mrs. Daniel Young and Mrs. Verna Kinney of Dansville, and Mrs. B. H. Hanahan of New York city; one son, George, of Dansville; one sister, Mrs. Louis Myers and one brother, Fred of Dansville. The funeral was held July 9th at 9 o'clock in the home, and 9:30 o'clock at St. Mary's Church, and it was attended by many friends.

HAVE YOU LAME FEET?
The foot has trouble in itself, especially in the heel. Weak feet, fallen arches, flat foot, bunions and calluses, are not natural to normal feet, and will disappear through corrective treatment and adjustment of the bones, when wearing the proper shoes.
Many continue to suffer from foot troubles through trying to make-shifts or ready-made shoes, which cannot fit properly. The ready different pattern of feet, made as well as the made-up shoes, or shoes made to order, are adjusted to the shape of the foot, which admits of no failure.
It costs nothing to call and talk it over.
Free advice upon the correct shoes for YOUR feet, often a smaller, more stylish shoe may be worn. We have no interest in any shoe for sale.

THE MERMAID'S WARNING

When heading first you dive,
Into the water cold and deep.
Impetative is hustling out,
Exempt from cramps to keep.
The sudden change of temperature,
To your body it will feel.
Like the old-time blacksmith,
Tempering red hot steel.
When your blood courses normal,
Your heart acclimates the shock.
And you hear it tick-a-tock,
Like Grandpa's old Cuckoo Clock.
Then in the water you can stay,
From daylight until dark.
From larm you'll be as safe,
As old Noah in the Ark.
Poor mortal keep from water deep,
If only a novice you be.
The proper depth for thee,
Is say water to the knee.
Courage will not sustain you,
Or keep you in the swim.
It's down, down, for yours,
With a whirl and a vim.
Your hands and feet in union,
The water must be cleaving.
Like big billy bull frog,
When bad company he is leaving.
Patient be with hands and feet,
When they don't strike together.
Just keep your mind abiding,
From one to the other.
Then a glad surprise awaits you,
When they're gliding and tother
And you're gliding the water,
As buoyant as a feather.

Note:
This Poem was inspired by the following, forty years ago, a professional long distance swimmer, after eating a hearty dinner, dived off the old Atlantic City iron pier, he swam out a half mile or more, suddenly up went both hands, his body was never found, cramps. Fifteen years ago, a young lady picnicking at Sodus Point, could not swim a stroke, was cautioned to keep from deep water, replied: "I got courage, she was drowned. Her mother, a young woman died soon afterwards. The father threw up a lucrative position, and became a traveling salesman.

Wanderlust
Nature tempts with wanderlust,
From lost loved ones afar.
To relieve a state of mind,
Then heals the silent scar.
