Elmira, July 25.—The Knights of Columbus of Elmira gave a great boost to athletics when they held a banquet last Thursday evening at the club house of Elmira Council in honor of the baseball team of St. Patrick's Parish School, the champion team of the Parochial School League. The event brought together leaders of professional and amateur athletes in Elmira, and the spirit of sport was infused into the crowd.

Arthur Hark, athletic director of the Elmira High School, told of the inter-relation of sports and studies in school, and urged the boys to try for all sports when they enter high school.

How the Parish League was developed was told by Harry Pean, commissioner of the Knights of Columbus Parochial League. Jake Pitler, manager of the Colonels, received an ovation and told the boys that athletics were important in the lives of all boys.

Dave Schoonover, commissioner of the City Recreation baseball league, urged the organization of more city leagues in this city. "Ted" Pritchard, Colonel pitcher, spoke briefly.

The Rev. Leo G. Schwab, assistant pastor of St. Patrick's Church, spoke on ideals of parochial school athletics. Leo J. Houshian, chairman of the K. of C. committee for the arrangement of the banquet, gave a good talk.

A silver trophy was presented to Thomas Gaffey, manager of St. Patrick's team. Cornelius J. Milliken, speaking for the Knights, remarked that the trophy was in recognition of sportsmanship of high calibre. Each member of the team was given a gold baseball souvenir. Grand Knight A. D. Merrill spoke briefly and well.

Irene Gordon, Margaret Sullivan, Clarence Whiting and James Cummings, pupils of the Cummings Dance Studio, entertained with several dance acrobatic performances.

George F. Glynn led the group singing. Francis Collins played the piano.

For aching limbs, weak feet or flat feet wear flexible, lightweight arch supports, which we make to order only, from a cast of the foot in corrected position. Worn in any shoe. Positive comfort at once. Many continue to suffer from foot troubles through the use of such makeshifts as ready-made arch supports or so-called corrective shoes, which cannot fit properly the vastly different shapes of feet; may as well wear ready-made eyeglasses or false teeth. Funeral Masses Said
For Rev. Thos. Duggan
In Rochester and Elmira
Eulogy by Bishop O'Horn
At the conclusion of the Mass Bishop O'Horn delivered a sermon in which he eulogized the life and work of Father Duggan. He spoke as follows:
"Today we are confronted with the fact and the mystery of death. A young man, in the prime of life, a young priest with the Holy Gospels still fresh upon his hands lies cold in death before us. Hence, of the awful reality of the fact of death there can be no question. But it is also a mystery.
"Why one so young, so talented, so seemingly necessary to the work of the Church and the Diocese, should be called to his eternal home, is indeed a mystery which we cannot comprehend. After all the long years of training and preparation, just as he had reached the threshold of life, just as he had put his hand to the plow, he has been summoned by death surely the ways of God are different from the ways of men!
"Faith is Needed
"Of course, human nature is shocked. Poor, weak, fallen humanity cannot understand the reason of it all. It is only in the light of faith that the mystery of life and death can be fully and perfectly interpreted.
"Here we have the close of a life but 23 years and when a child was born in the world of poor, humble parents. They offered him to God, no doubt, as we read in the Lives of the Saints. Who knows but that good, pious mother offered her unborn child to serve the Living God; offered him again in baptism; offered him when he went to the seminary. She who had born him, and had looked forward so fondly to that eventful day of ordination, was called to her eternal reward only a few months before the great day; but she would have offered him finally as he knelt for the imposition of hands and elevation to the supreme dignity of the priesthood. Oh, what a joyful hour that must have been for father, family and friends when he stood before the altar of God a newly-ordained priest!
"His Work as a Priest
"This all happened only five years ago. Another Christ was given to the world. Then he was assigned, by his bishop, to help minister to
