Sudbury, Ont., Canada, Aug. 9. The hung between life and death, and To be stricken with a deadly illnes; was saved only by the skillful and at a lonely mission post in the fastnesses of the Far North, to be discovered and removed by a Roman Catholic priest to a Catholic Mission time for meals or sleep until the Thospital, where he was cared for and nursed back to life by a Roman Catholic Sister, and finally to be transported by airplane some 450 miles to St. Joseph's Catholic Hospital in this place, where he now is, was the recent harrowing and unusual experience of the Rev. P. A. Northam, missionary in charge of the Anglican mission at Albany. James Bay.

Nursed Back to Life

Réturning, about a month ago from an outpost, the Rev. Mr. Northam arrived at his mission house at Albany in a weakened and serious condition. He lay in his bed ill and unattended until the news of his plight was brought by an Indian servant to the Rev. E. Saindon O.M.I., Superior of the Roman Catholic Mission at Attawapiscat Albany. Father Saindon rushed to the minister's assistance. and, with the help of the Hudson Bay Post manager and the Indian servant, moved the stricken missionary by cance to the Catholic mis-sion hospital. There, for two weeks,
