Weekly Calendar

By the Rev. Paul C. Brussard

Sunday, October 6.—St. Bruno, was born at Cologne about the year 1030. He cultivated his rare natural gifts at Paris and was later made canon of Cologne and later of Rhims. Resolving to forsake the world, he and six other applied to Hugh, Bishop of Grenoble, who led them into a wilderness called the Chartreuse. There they lived in poverty, solitude and silence, awaiting only for the worship of God. Bruno was called to Rome by Pope Urban II but the excess of the great city disturbed his serene and, after receiving high honors, he obtained permission from the Pope to resume his monastic life in Calabria. There he died in humility and mortification until his death by 1101.

Monday, October 7.—St. Mark, Apostle, succeeded St. Peter in the Apostolic Chair on the 18th of January, 754. He reigned only eight months and twenty days. He was buried in a cemetery in the Ardeatine Way which has since borne his name.

Tuesday, October 8.—St. Bridget of Sweden was a member of the Swedish royal family born in 1304. In obedience to her father's wishes she was married to Prince Hilda of Sweden and became the mother of six children. After a number of years she and her husband separated by mutual consent. He entered the Cistercian Order and Bridget founded the order of St. Saviour, in the abbey of Wasteln. She died A.D. 1373.

Wednesday, October 9.—St. Dionysius and his companion martyr. Of all the Roman missionaries sent into Gaul, St. Dionysius penetrated furthest into that country. He fixed his See at Paris and through his efforts and those of his disciples the names of Chartres, Sens, Meaux and Cologne were erected in the fourth century. During the persecution of Valerian he was imprisoned and later beheaded together with St.

Rusticus, a priest, and Eleutherius, a deacon.

Thursday, October 10.—St. Francis Borgia, Duke of Gandia and Captain-General of Catalonia, was chosen in 1539 to escort the remains of Queen Isabella to the royal burying place at Granada. When the coffin was opened in order that he might verify the body, the sight that met his eyes was so foul that he vowed never again to serve a sovereign who could suffer so base a change. He entered the Society of Jesus and was later chosen as its head. When the Turks menaced Christendom, St. Francis was sent by the Pope on a mission to enlist the aid of the Christian princes. The fatigues of this mission exhausted him, and he died on his return to Rome in 1572.

Friday, October 11.—St. Tarachus and his companions. In the year 304 Tarachus, Probus and Andronicus, differing in age and nationality but united in faith, were denounced as Christians. They were tortured three times and finally exposed to the wild beasts. The ferocious animals, however, refused to harm them and the judge ordered the martyrs killed by the gladiators.

Saturday, October 12.—St. Wilfrid, Bishop, was born about 634 and was trained by the Celtic monks at Lindisfarne in the peculiar rites and usages of the British church. Even as a boy he longed for perfect conformity in discipline as in doctrine with the Holy See and after a trip to Rome he founded a strictly Roman monastery at Ripon, under the rule of St. Benedict. In 664 he was made Bishop of Lindisfarne and five years later was transferred to York. He finally succeeded in establishing a vigorous Catholic discipline modeled and dependent on Rome.

St. Andrew House Chapel Dedicated to Cure of Ars By Bishop of Diocese

On Thursday evening last week the Rt. Rev. John Francis O'Hern, D.D., Bishop of Rochester, accompanied by the Rev. Father Victor of Aquinas Institute, visited the St. Andrew House, the Diocesan home at 46 Greig Street for non resident students at St. Andrew's Preparatory Seminary. The visitors were warmly greeted by the Rev. Edward M. Lyons, resident director of the House, and by about 30 students who are making their home there.

Bishop O'Hern officiated at Benediction in the Chapel and he dedicated the chapel to Cure of Ars. He urged the students to imitate the piety, the zeal and the virtues of the saintly Cure, and he gave a talk that was greatly appreciated by the students and their Reverend Director.

Organ and Canned Goods Needed. The St. Andrew House is badly in need of an organ for the Chapel, and Father Lyons is hoping that some interested person, glad of the opportunity to do something for the students in this home, will donate a small organ. A new or used instrument will be welcomed.

Two Catholic Hospitals Get $50,000 Each

White Plains, N. Y., Oct. 4.—Two $50,000 bequests to Catholic hospitals in New York City are made in the will of John B. Manning, millionaire Catholic, who died at his home in Davenport Neck, New Rochelle, early this month. St. Vincent's Hospital, in Manhattan, and St. Joseph's, The Bronx, benefit by the terms of the testament.

The home also needs a supply of canned goods, and it is hoped that kindly women will fill this need at once. Canned fruits, pickles, etc., will be welcomed, and will help these students keep down the cost of living. Some donations of this kind were received when the house was opened, but not enough to last 30 healthy, happy students.

Father Duffy Named Vice President Of Drama Group

New York, Oct. 4.—The Rev. Francis P. Duffy has been elected vice president of the newly formed Church and Drama League of America, an organization intended to encourage the production of more and better plays and motion pictures. The group, founded recently, already has a membership of 20,800, with headquarters in New York and chapters in Chicago, Cincinnati, Indianapolis, Pittsburgh, Boston, Milwaukee, Pasadena, Tacoma, St. Petersburg and Ogden.

An effort has been made to include in the directorate and list of officers one outstanding member of each large church group in the country. In addition to Father Duffy, officials include Bishop William T. Manning, the Rev. Harry Emerson Fosdick, Rabbi Nathan Krass and Dr. S. Parkes Cadman, who is president.

Plays and pictures will be reviewed by the critical staff for members, and comment on them will be printed in the Church and Drama Bulletin, to be published monthly.

Catholics Honor Commodore Barry In New York Fete

New York, Oct. 4.—Twenty thousand persons gathered on the Mall of Central Park here Sunday, to pay honor to Commodore John Barry, Father of the American Navy. Speakers traced the life of Commodore Barry and demanded that the name of "the forgotten hero of the Revolution" be restored to its rightful place in history. Resolutions were unanimously adopted asking that an adequate navy be maintained to insure the safety of the country.

Mayor James J. Walker of New York, after commending the patriotism of those present, said: "Why are the Irish in America greater than in any other part of the world? It is not because of any particular quality of the soil, or the race, or because of any peculiar difference as to the climate. But may it not be justified to see something written into the Declaration of Independence to guarantee those who settle here opportunities to work and worship in freedom and without molestation which gave them a new identity? There was divine inspiration upon Barry and his fellow patriots who laid the foundation which made it possible for us to meet here today."

Catholic Institutions Bequeathed $12,000

New York, Oct. 4.—Bequests totaling $12,000 were left to Catholic institutions by the terms of the will of Miss Loretta L. Gallagher, who died here July 3rd. The testament leaves $5,000 each to St. Vincent's Hospital and the Society for the Propagation of the Faith; $1,000 to the Little Sisters of the Assumption; and $500 each to Maryknoll Convent, Ossining, N.Y., and the Helpers of the Holy Souls.

Seasoned Lumber Brings Strength and Durability

With over 90,000,000 Americans living in frame houses, it may truly be said that our civilization is built on wood. Unfortunately not all the lumber produced is put to use under proper condition of seasoning and assembly, and many millions of consumers suffer severe losses through failure to obtain maximum service.

Wood in its original state contains more moisture than is desired. Drying increases strength and durability, and reduces weight, so decreasing freight charges. Seasoning of lumber is in reality a tanning process, just as is the impregnation with preservatives.

Don't Try To Be YOUR Own Plumber!

THERE is more to plumbing than the faucets and fixtures in view.

When you tinker with plumbing you may be tinkering with your family's health. Often it is the unseen leak, or the admission of odorless gas from sewers that is dangerous to health.

Call an experienced, reputable plumber—one you can have faith in. We have earned the confidence of hundreds of customers you are acquainted with.

Minimum Effort in Housework an Appealing Feature of Bungalow

Shingles have been used effectively on the walls of this five-room bungalow. The unusual lines of the gable in the porch roof and the well-balanced windows make the exterior attractive. The house is 24 feet by 34 feet.

By W. A. RADFORD

When a bungalow is planned with a minimum of effort in housework, the exterior is attractive. This house is 24 feet by 34 feet and is of frame construction set on a concrete foundation. It contains five rooms—living room, dining room and kitchen on one side and two bedrooms with a bath between on the other.

The gables set in the roof are high enough for a great amount of attic space which through the use of so-called wall boards or insulating boards can be partitioned off into a playroom or bedrooms that will be available when needed.

The floor plan which accompanies the exterior view of the house shows the arrangement of the rooms and their sizes. It will be noted that the three rooms which are used in the daytime are together and are separate from the bedrooms. The bathroom is located in the center of the house and opens off a hall which connects the two bedrooms. This hall is reached by a door through the dining room.

An unusual feature of this home is the bedroom at the front. This is an unusually attractive room having five windows.

Harmony in Rooms

If we should carefully select a harmony of colors for the different rooms so that there would be a natural transition from one to the other, then not only would the small house or apartment gain in beauty and healthfulness, but the rooms themselves would appear larger. The expense of doors in such a case will fulfill their proper function, the house gaining in size.

Drive Must Look Well

If poorly planned, a service yard may be hidden from the street by plantings. Badly arranged plantings may not be conspicuous when flowers are blooming. A lawn filled with weeds may not show in winter. But the driveway, good or bad, is always on exhibition. It can be made attractive just as easily as not. Give thought to this subject early in the planning.
