Diamond Jubilee of Sisters of St. Joseph in Diocese of Rochester

The Pioneer Sisters
Those who formed the nucleus of the new foundation were Mother Agnes Spencer, Sister Francis Joseph Ivory, Sister Petronella Roscoe, and Sister Theodosia Hageman.
The Sisters left St. Louis on December 3, 1854, and did not reach Canandaigua until late in the evening of December 7. The journey was a very tedious one, especially in its early stages. The little party traveled by boat to Alton, and thence onward over the Illinois prairies by rail to Chicago, where they were received most hospitably by Bishop O'Regan, a friend and benefactor of the community in St. Louis. The trip from Chicago to Buffalo was made memorable by a severe snow storm which blocked the tracks in several places and caused a delay of some hours. Arriving in Buffalo on the evening of December 6, the Sisters were obliged to remain there for the night. The next morning they were met by Rochester and upon reaching this city were told that it would be impossible to proceed to Canandaigua until the tracks could be cleared of snow.
Reached Destination at Night
Fortunately, the delay here was not a long one, and the Sisters were able to start for Canandaigua on the evening of the same day, December 7. It took nearly three hours to make the trip to Canandaigua, and when the train reached the village station, it was almost ten o'clock at night.

The house which the good priest had purchased for the Sisters was a pleasant little white frame dwelling on Saltonstall Street, set in the midst of what had formerly been a nursery, and still surrounded by small fruit trees and trim gardens, the purposes for which it was intended—a novitiate, a boarding school for young ladies, and a home for homeless girls.
The First School Opened
Early in January following their arrival, the Sisters opened an Academy and a free school in the convent building. A little later the building was incorporated as an Academy and Orphan Asylum. The object of this association as set forth in the articles of incorporation was "the care, support and instruction of orphans and other children who need such instruction, and for no other object or end whatsoever." This institution became known as St. Mary's Convent and Academy, and from the first it met with remarkable success.
The Catholic Almanac and Directory for 1856 contains this advertisement:
St. Mary's Academy
Canandaigua, Ontario County, New York
This institution, under the charge of the Sisters of St. Joseph, located in one of the most beautiful and beautiful parts of the State, is easy of access. The New York Central passes through here, the Canandaigua and Elmira, connecting with the New York Central and Erie terminates here, as does also the Canandaigua and Niagara Falls, connecting with Canada and the Great Western Railroad. A system of education embraces every useful and ornamental branch suitable for young ladies. Board and tuition for school year, $80.
Washing, mending, bed and bedding, $10.
Each pupil should pay on entrance, $5.
Music, Drawing and Language will form extra charges.
Books, stationery and postage charged to parents.
The school year begins the first Monday in September, ending the 17th of July.
All communications addressed to St. Mary's Convent, Canandaigua, N. Y.
An edition of the Buffalo Sentinel of the time contained the following extract from a letter of Father O'Connor: "The Sisters of St. Joseph in Canandaigua are devoting themselves to the various good works contemplated by their rule. They have opened an Academy which is numerously attended and which enables them to undertake other works of mercy. Besides an Orphan Asylum, they have founded a Home for poor girls of good character. As the Sisters have opened a novitiate, there is every prospect that the order is firmly planted in Canandaigua."

Opened Institution in Buffalo
In 1857 the little Community at Canandaigua was called upon to open an institution for deaf-mutes in Buffalo, N. Y. Three Sisters who had studied in France the best methods of instruction for such unfortunate, were sent from St. Louis to take charge of the projected work. This new foundation made slow progress at first, as its means of subsistence was very precarious. However, through the indomitable will of its founder, Bishop Timon, it was kept in existence until such time as it could make its worth known and obtain State aid. The foundation at Buffalo was under the care of the Mother House in Canandaigua until 1861, when the novitiate was transferred to Buffalo.
To quote the late Rev. James Dougherty of Canandaigua who spoke these memorable words on the 60th anniversary of the coming of the Sisters of St. Joseph to Canandaigua.
The Effect of Hallowed Lives
"No local chronicle records the comings of the good nuns to Canandaigua. They came in silence, and have continued their labors for 60

PARISH ACTIVITIES

Harvest Festival Of Corpus Christi November, 23-25-26

The Annual Harvest Festival of Corpus Christi Church will be held on Saturday, November 23, and on Monday and Tuesday, November 25 and 26, in the Parish Hall. The men of the parish under the direction of the Holy Name Society and the Knights of St. John are making the preliminary arrangements, and all things point to a most successful event. The Committees in charge promise to have on hand plenty of fine, fresh turkeys, ducks and chickens, all dressed and prepared for the approaching Thanksgiving dinner. H. B. Reynolds will be in charge at the door, and will receive tickets. The turkey booth will be in charge of John L. Heffernan, Louis Houck, Walter Maxwell, Frank Ruckert, Harold Behr. The chicken-booth will be conducted by John Carmody, Thomas O'Neill, Patrick Lyman and John Lyons. The duck booth will be in care of A. L. Hall, Dennis Tans, J. Whittington and Samuel Gore. The refreshment booth will be in charge of Bert Boyle, Mr. Martin, Charles Baker and Elmer Casey, and will dispense sweet cider and Coney Island hot dogs.
A combination booth in charge of our local Commandery of the Knights of St. John, with John Diringer presiding, will offer a variety of tempting viands proper to the Thanksgiving and harvest season. Remember the three nights, Saturday, Monday and Tuesday preceding Thanksgiving. Everybody is welcome to the festival.

Christmas Sale, Mission Exhibit At St. Michael's

The Annual Mission Exhibit and Christmas Sale of the League of the Sacred Heart of St. Michael's Church will be held on Tuesday evening, November 26th, at 8 o'clock in the parish hall. The proceeds will be used for the missions.
Included in the exhibit are vestments, altar cloths, altar linens, surplices and children's clothing. These articles will be sent to various missions immediately after the exhibit. Many beautiful articles will be on sale which will be suitable for Christmas gifts. There will also be candy and poultry booths.
A one-act play entitled, "Down, Fido," will be presented by the following members of the Sacred Heart League, preceding the Exhibit and Sale: Marcella Fouquet, Anna Kowalski, Dolores Schirmer, Agnes Schweser, Ceclia Stodler, Elizabeth Trott, Teresa Trott, and Mildred Wolter.
Arrangements for this affair are being made by Elizabeth Thein, Caroline Roth and Gertrude Kern, assisted by Mrs. J. Zimmer, Mrs. L. Stoesser, Mrs. J. Kuchman, Elizabeth Metzler, Clara Derachang, Catherine Klinger, Mrs. M. Bach, Alice Kern, Mrs. A. Bogart, Mrs. M. Reinhart, Catherine Harter, Mrs. J. Klinger, Florence Knapp and Mrs. E. Schweikert. Rev. T. J. Winterroth is general chairman.
A cordial invitation is extended to the public.

John T. O'Neill Named Manager Of Victoria Theater

John J. O'Neill, formerly resident manager of the Eastman Theater, has been named manager of the Victoria Theater today.
Mr. O'Neill succeeds John J. Farren. Before going to the Eastman Theater, Mr. O'Neill was manager of Fay's Theater. He came to Rochester from Camden, N. J., where he was associated with William B. McCallum, present manager of Fay's. He is an experienced and capable showman.
years, not caring for worldly plaudits and looking only for the Master's approval. Their work constitutes one of those unwritten chapters in the history of our country which tell the things that have made for finer citizenship and better Christianity—the effect of hallowed lives in their uplifting influence upon three generations of this community."
(The story of the first foundations of the Sisters in the city and diocese of Rochester will appear in our next issue.)

Two New Troops Of Girl Scouts At Catholic Club

Two troops of Girl Scouts have been organized under the auspices of the Catholic Women's Club. Sixty-two applicants have joined already, and many more girls are expected to affiliate. Miss Rhea L. Wahl has been named Captain of the troops.
The organization meetings were held in the Catholic Women's Club, and the programs included the opening ceremony of a Girl Scout troop, songs and games, and instructions in Tenderfoot Girl Scout work. Miss Elizabeth Bartholomew, field captain, assisted in organizing the new troop.
The senior troop of 25 Girl Scouts will meet on Friday afternoons at 4 o'clock, and the junior troop of 34 girls on Saturday afternoons at 3 o'clock. Girl Scouts chosen as Patrol Leaders were: Senior troop, Patrol No. 1, Ruth Staub; No. 2, Corinne Belle Isle; No. 3, Marion Somerville; No. 4, Florence Heiber; Junior troop, No. 1, Rita Marie Grupp; No. 2, Eileen McCarthy; No. 3, Arlyne Smith; No. 4, Barbara Hasselt.
Girl Scout work done by the Catholic Women's Club is under the direction of Miss Alice Little, local director of all Girl Scout activities, with Miss Genevieve Haggart, 519 Cutler Building, Miss Rhea Wahl, captain of the troop, received her commission from national headquarters as the result of a local training course given by Miss Theresa Carson, director of the Hendrick Hudson region.

Plans Completed For Turkey Sale, St. Charles' Hall

The Church of St. Charles Borromeo on Dewey Avenue will hold its first annual Turkey Sale on Saturday evening this week, in the school hall. The Holy Name Society of the Church will have charge of the event, and a real live turkey is promised to all who attend. The sale is open to everybody, men and women.
The Rev. William A. Doran, new rector of the church, was Chaplain of St. Mary's Hospital for a number of years. He made a great many friends in this position, and he will be glad to welcome all of them to the turkey sale Saturday evening. The church is holding a series of card parties, one every Friday evening, in the school hall, and all members of the parish and friends are cordially invited to attend these parties. Big crowds are expected at the card parties and at the turkey sale.

Thanksgiving Bazaar For Church Benefit Big Event Nov. 28

Plans are completed for the big annual Thanksgiving Bazaar, to be held on Thanksgiving Day, November 28, in the Church of the Annunciation Hall, Norton Street, near North Goodman, and to be continued on Friday evening and Saturday afternoon and evening. Seven variety showers were held by parishioners during the past week to provide supplies for the various booths, and a fine assortment of beautiful and useful articles, many of them homemade, was obtained for the bazaar.
The Rev. George J. Weimann, rector of the church, will be present each day of the bazaar to give personal welcome to all people who attend, and to thank them for giving encouragement and help to the poorest parish in the Diocese.
The receipts of the bazaar will be used to help reduce the debt on the church, and to care for the spiritual needs of many poor families. Everybody will be welcome to the bazaar, ladies and gentlemen.
Bishop O'Leary Gains Slightly Montreal, Nov. 22.—The Rt. Rev. Louis L. O'Leary, bishop of Charlottetown, Prince Edward Island, who is seriously ill at Royal Victoria Hospital here, is slightly better, it was announced by hospital attaches.
