5,000 People Get Encyclical On Labor in N. C.

Raleigh, N. C., Feb. 21.—Wide-spread and favorable comment has been received by the Rt. Rev. William J. Hays, Bishop of Raleigh, in response to his distribution of 5,000 copies of Pope Leo's Encyclical Letter, "The Condition of Labor."

Bishop Hays had the Encyclical printed and bound at his own expense, and distributed it to leading industrialists, clergymen and journalists in the state. The volume contains, as a foreword, a letter explaining the purposes of the Encyclical, and a distribution, in which Bishop Hays calls attention to the increasing industrialism in North Carolina and the resultant problem of capital and labor.

"North Carolina," says the Bishop's letter, "has the opportunity of enlightening the minds of its citizens on the vital question of the hour. North Carolina, in union with the other industrial states of the South, has the opportunity of giving to America the example of an amicable compact between Capital and Labor. I deem it my duty as a citizen, as well as Bishop of the Catholic Church in North Carolina, to assist those who in any special way by reason of talents or position are able to inform and guide the citizenry of this Commonwealth."

The Encyclical was circulated by the Bishop in a state numbering less than 8,000 Catholics, and consequently had its widest circulation among non-Catholics. The letter went to educators, legislators, superior court judges, bankers, heads of furniture factories and cotton mills, and newspaper editors.

Among the comments received by the Bishop, the following are typical:

"I wish to acknowledge with thanks the copy of the Encyclical Letter. The message is quite timely. I unite in wishing that the principles enunciated, based on the teachings of Our Lord, might be put into practice by employers and employees alike. What a changed world it would be if men would only follow the footsteps of Our Lord and Master!"

"I received the Encyclical Letter of Pope Leo XIII on the Condition of Labor and read it with interest. If the letter had been written this year instead of 1891 it could not have been more appropriate. If Labor and Capital would meet on the grounds as outlined in the letter, this problem would be solved."

"If the Encyclical is a masterful presentation of the rights of Labor and an uncontested showing that these rights cannot be attained through the medium of Socialism."

"If the truths in this letter are followed, what a great and glorious brotherhood would come to us all! My sincere wish is that it may bear fruit."

"The letter of Pope Leo XIII in 1891 is very pertinent to the problems before us today."

Six Hundred Candidates For the Sodality at Nazareth Observe Lady of Lourdes Day

To visit the Shrine of Our Lady of Lourdes, even in imagination, is a stimulus to devotion as well as a source of spiritual ardor. On the feast day of Our Lady of Lourdes, February 11, the candidates for the Sodality which is being organized in Nazareth Academy, were given an opportunity to visit, in imagination, this famed shrine.

The school auditorium was transformed for the day into a chapel, and there, in the morning, Mass was attended by the expectant candidates for membership in the Sodality. An atmosphere of piety and devotion hovered around the chapel, in which had been erected a grotto, representing the Blessed Virgin as she appeared to little Bernadette nearly three score and ten years ago. To each and every girl, eager to enter the Sodality, it seemed as though the Virgin was appearing to her, welcoming her with outstretched arms, as she, a candidate, was being received into the Sodality. The closing services in the afternoon consisted of the invocation of the Holy Ghost by the hymn, "Veni Creator," the Act of Consecration, by Miss Estelle Mehan; a short sermon on the virtues of every Sodality, by the Rev. Father Keefer; Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament, and the chanting of the "Magnificat."

Slowly, the 600 candidates, each one an Apostle in the great army of Christ, filed out of the chapel, carrying with them that never-to-be-forgotten scene, and the memory of the beautiful celebration in honor of Our Lady of Lourdes, which will doubtless remain in their minds long after they have passed beyond the portals of dear old Nazareth. They are all candidates for Our Lady's Sodality "Because They Want To," so "Why Not?"

"Varieties Of 1930" Ready For Public February 24, 25, 26

"Varieties of 1930," which has been rehearsed for some time by the Sacred Heart Dramatic Club, is ready to offer its performances on February 24th, 25th and 26th. At the finishing rehearsals, this modern revue programme has revealed itself as a novel entertainment, mingling laughter, thrills and mystery into one big surprise package.

The programme is a delightfully different one and should appeal immensely to local amateur theatrical patrons. It is composed of three one-act plays and specialty numbers introduced in revue form.

Mrs. Mary Bailey has directed the plays and their casts, namely: "Who Kissed Barbara?", Miss Grace Kanada, Miss Betty Purchase, Charlie Foss, Thomas Amick and Jerry Purchase; "Oh, Helpless Ah!", Miss Corinne Leis, Miss Mona Sweeney, Clota Lochner and William Kennedy; "A Cure for Hypnotism," Miss Beatrice Soehner, John Wesley, and Arley Avery.

Fourth Degree: Knights St John, Had Fine Dinner

On Monday evening of this week, February 17th, the Rochester Chapter of Chevalliers No. 3, Fourth Degree, Knights of St. John, held one of their dinners and got-togethers in the Elks Club. About 125 Chevalliers were present and a fine dinner was served by the Elks' Club management.

Major Fred Wegman, newly-elected president of the Chevalliers, was the toastmaster of the evening. He called on Rev. Father Winterroth, Chaplain of the Chevalliers, for a few remarks. Father Winterroth showed his appreciation at the large attendance and spoke very highly of the work of the Chevalliers and urged all members of the Knights of St. John who were eligible to take the Fourth Degree when the opportunity was permitted. He also spoke very highly of the Catholic Sunday afternoon broadcasts from 1:30 to 2 o'clock over station WHAM, from St. Patrick's Cathedral, Rochester. "We cannot realize the great amount of good," said Father Winterroth, "that these Sunday studies of the Cathedral will do for our people and others. It is indeed, a great work and I personally urge all Catholics to tune in every Sunday afternoon and get the instructive teaching and advice that is given. Our good Bishop John Francis O'Hern and the Rev. Father Shay, of the Cathedral, are to be congratulated on their good judgment shown in preparing this series of broadcasts, and I am sure that much good will result from same."

Religious Conditions in Russia Continue to Increase in Seriousness

Retired, who is in charge. This plan of sending the mothers and widows abroad in small groups was adopted because of the advanced age of many Gold Star mothers, who require particular care and good accommodations.

As far as possible, the government will send parties from the same state to the same cemetery. In cases where the state quota for a particular cemetery is too large or small, however, pilgrims from other states will be added, to complete the party.

Disposition of Dead

There were 77,882 soldier dead buried in Europe at the end of the war. Of these, files of the Bureau of Historical Records show, 4,667 Catholics remain abroad in recorded graves; about 400 Catholics have not yet been located; 6,201 Catholics were returned to the United States or taken to countries other than France; and 3,155 still are being checked by the Bureau. Of the total, irrespective of creed, 46,220 have been returned to the United States; 605 were sent to other countries; 31 are in the Lafayette Escadrille Memorial Crypt; 28 were cared for personally by relatives; 70 are in graves not to be disturbed; 1,643 are unknown dead; and several hundred are unlocated.

Archbishop Hinsley's See

Rome, Feb. 21.—His Excellency Archbishop Arthur Hinsley, appointed on January 3, Apostolic Delegate to Africa, has been named Titular Archbishop of Sardes. Thus he succeeds to the title held by His Eminence Cardinal Pacelli previous to his election to the Sacred College. It had been previously announced, unofficially, that His Excellency had received the title of Nazareth.

How Much Do You Pay Yourself?

out of your income? You pay the taxes, insurance, the landlord, the grocer, butcher and baker, the clothing merchant and your church and many others, but how much do you set aside and say: "This is for me, and I will put it to work."

If you do not pay yourself you will never get ahead and you will not be prepared for any emergency, or misfortune, or a healthy opportunity.

Paying yourself means adding to your fortune, increasing your self respect, and enabling you to do the things you may not otherwise be able to do.
