Limerick City Free From Crime When Court Opens

(By N. C. W. C. News Service)
Dublin, Feb. 28. At the January sitting of the Limerick Circuit Court the sheriff presented white gloves to Judge McEllikott, in recognition of the fact that there were no criminal cases to be tried. This means that since the previous sitting of the Circuit Court, three months ago, Limerick has been free from serious crime.

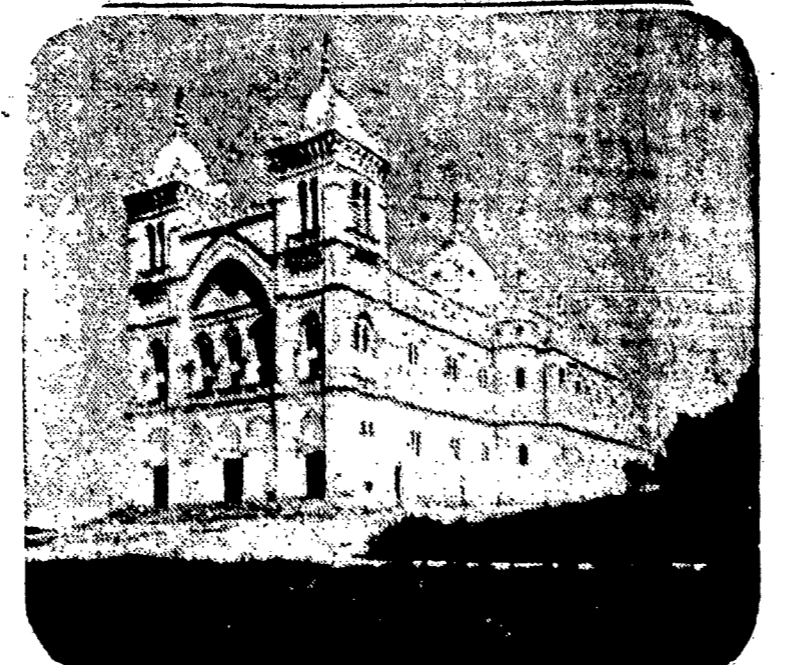

In congratulating the Sheriff on the peaceful condition of the City, Judge McEllikott said that speaking as a Catholic, he felt that in a very large degree the crimeless condition of the City was due to "the enormous moral uplift given to the citizens of Limerick by membership of the various confraternities and sodalities of the City."

"These contribute largely," added His Lordship, "towards the uplifting of the citizens, and I can well appreciate the influence for good they exercise on their members." The Judge added that the non-Catholic communities were also doing their share in the cause of peace and harmony.

The Confraternity of the Holy Name, attached to the Redemptorist Church, Limerick, claims to have the largest membership of any Confraternity attached to a single church in the world.

Secretary For Dublin Congress
(By N. C. W. C. News Service)
Dublin, Feb. 28. The Rev. D. Molony, C.C., Donnybrook, Dublin, has been appointed Secretary for the Eucharistic Congress 1930. Father Molony has received numerous congratulations on his appointment, especially from his Troop of Catholic Boy Scouts, of which he is Chaplain. He is an old pupil of the Holy Ghost Fathers, Blackrock, Dublin.

In Historic Carthage

The International Eucharistic Congress this year will be held May 7 to 11 in Carthage, ancient enemy of the great Roman Empire, and home of Hannibal, one of the greatest warriors of ancient times. The beautiful Cathedral of St. Louis, pictured above, was built in 1900 and was named in honor of St. Louis IX of France. It will be the scene of the meetings of the Congress. Carthage, crushed and destroyed by Rome, later became the center of Christianity in Africa, only to fall under the dominance of the Vandals, and then of the Arabs. But in the last 50 years the city has regained much of its lost prestige, and is again the center of a vigilant Christian life. The ancient ruins of the city, as well as the Congress itself, will attract many thousands of people.

Plans Are Complete For Great National Broadcasting Program

year. An additional $25,000 will be necessary, and this will be sought. It is the plan of the N. C. C. M. hereafter to raise $50,000 annually for this work.

Programs to be distinguished
The talks to be included in the programs will be given by priests noted for their scholarship and their eloquence, and by laymen of distinction. A wide range of Catholic subjects, but all of them of religious or cultural import, will be discussed by the speakers. Besides the Paulist Choir, there will be offerings by instrumental and vocal soloists. The music of every kind will be almost exclusively Catholic in theme and authorship.

This practically nation-wide employment of the radio as a means of promoting a better understanding of the Catholic Church and her doctrines and practices, and more friendly relations among the several religious groups in America fulfills the hope expressed at the Convention in Cincinnati in November, 1928. That convention by resolution, recommended that the N. C. C. M., with the aid of its affiliated organizations, undertake by printed word, and word of mouth, and the radio, an exposition of the Catholic faith.

Preparations for the initiation of a "Catholic Hour" on the radio were begun shortly after the Convention. The officials of the N. C. C. M. made a preliminary study of the conditions to be met in the country at large, an inquiry into the radio facilities obtainable, an estimate of the cost of the program, and a survey of the probable source of funds with which to finance the programs and auxiliary activities. The plans devised for the broadcasts were approved first by the Administrative Committee of the National Catholic Welfare Conference and subsequently by the General Meeting of the Bishops last November.

K. of C. Largest Subscriber
The initial sum of $30,000, which insures the commencement of the broadcasts, was subscribed by Bishops, priests, individual laymen and organizations of the laity. No general solicitation was attempted. The amount thus far obtained came from relatively few persons, and in contributions ranging from $5,000 to $1. The largest single subscription was $5,000, from the Knights of Columbus.

While the use of the National Broadcasting Company's facilities is without cost to the N. C. C. M., the program must bear the expense of the program worthy of the Church and maintain a staff at its headquarters to answer the thousands of inquiries expected as a result of the weekly talks.

It is the belief of the officials of the N. C. C. M. that when its programs have been heard by the Catholics of the country they will gladly contribute the remainder of
