Bishop, Priest, Three Nuns Killed by Chinese Bandits When Ransom Is Not Paid

(By N.C.W.C. News Service) London, March 7.—The Salesian Bishop, Msgr. Versiglia, Father Caravario and three Chinese nuns, who were captured by Communist bandits on February 26th, have been killed, according to a Hong Kong dispatch just received.
The bandits, the dispatch relates, attacked a boat on which the missionary party was traveling at Suiping. After an initial demand for $500, which was refused, the brigands fought the boat crew and others in a successful attempt to carry off the Bishop, priest and sisters.
The party was taken into the mountains, according to the dispatch, and there murdered. Two other priests who went to the stronghold of the bandits in an effort to obtain the freedom of the five mission workers were too late to save them.
The party was visiting missions in Yingtak District when the bandits attacked it. Several Chinese Christians are reported also to have been captured, but their fate has not been learned.
Bishop Versiglia was born in Piedmont, Italy, nearly sixty years ago. He was ordained in 1894 and became a Bishop in 1920, when he was placed in charge of the Vicariate Apostolic at Shichow, China.
The Bishop first went to China in 1905 as a priest. He founded the first Salesian mission in the country, and established many other works, most of them for the benefit of Chinese children. The difficulties that faced him were tremendous, but he overcame them with great success, as is attested by the fact that there are now more than 100 Salesians in China caring for the spiritual needs of 4,000 Christians in schools and missions. Bishop Versiglia also established the Order of Chinese Salesian Sisters.
The Bishop studied at the Gregorian University in Rome, and entered the Salesian Order in Turin. This order was founded by Dom Bosco, who was recently beatified.

Three Catholic Schools Closed By Gil's Order

(By N. C. W. C. News Service) Mexico City, March 7.—Secretary of Interior Flores Gil has ordered three Catholic schools to be closed on the grounds that they have violated the clause in the Constitution which prohibits religious education, according to an announcement just made here. It was not stated in what way the schools are alleged to have violated this clause.
The schools ordered closed are located in Chihuahua, Puebla and Saitillo.

Ninth In His Family To Become Religious

(By N.C.W.C. News Service) Vatican City, March 7.—When the nephew of Dom Rinaldi, Superior-General of the Salesians, entered that order, he was the ninth member of his immediate family to enter the religious life. He has eight brothers and sisters who are members of either the Salesians or the Daughters of Mary. Dom Rinaldi, who was followed into the order by two of his brothers, has seen 16 members of the Rinaldi family become Salesians.
There is scarcely a family in their native village of Lu-de-Montferat, between Genoa and Turin, that has not given a son or a daughter to the Church. There are only 4,000 inhabitants, almost all members of large families. The village boasts of one bishop and 304 priests, monks and nuns. It is a striking confirmation of the proverb, "Where the families are numerous, the Faith is preserved and nourishes incessantly the source of vocations."

Rev. T. I. Gasson, Noted Educator, Dies in Montreal

Montreal, March 7.—The Rev. Thomas I. Gasson, S. J., head of Boston College from 1907 to 1914, and for 50 years a noted educator in Catholic colleges and universities, died here on Thursday, February 27th, in his 71st year. He was dean of studies and lecturer of ethics and philosophy at Loyola College, Montreal, at the time of his death.
Father Gasson made a notable record as rector of Boston College from 1907 to 1914. After that he was dean of the postgraduate department of Georgetown University, Washington, from 1914 to 1922, when he was placed in charge of the Retreat House at Staten Island, N. Y. He came to Loyola in 1924.
Father Gasson was born on September 28, 1859, near Knowle Castle, Seven Oaks, Kent, England. On November 17, 1875, he entered the Society of Jesus at Frederick, Md., and later studied philosophy at Woodstock, Md. He taught the freshman, sophomore and junior classes at Baltimore and from 1886 to 1888 taught at St. Francis Xavier College, New York.
Subsequently to this came his four years of theology at the Imperial Royal University at Innsbruck, Austria, and in July, 1891, he was ordained a priest by the Prince Bishop of Brixen in the Tyrol. Returning to the United States he was instructor at Frederick, Md., later finishing aesthetic studies of the Jesuit course. He was appointed to Boston College as professor of philosophy and ethics.
In 1907 he purchased the site for the new college at Chestnut Hill, Boston, supervised the plans for its development and erected the first building of the new group. He was a splendid executive and a capable and brilliant teacher.
William H. DeLacy, Noted Jurist, Dead In Washington, D. C.
Washington, March 7.—William Henry DeLacy, a prominent attorney of this city, acting Dean of the Law School of the Catholic University of America and President Roosevelt's first appointee as judge of the juvenile court in this city, died at his home here Monday. Judge DeLacy was 67 years old.

Alhambra Fixes Its Dinner-Dance Date for April 22d

Musa Caravan, Order of the Alhambra, will hold a dinner-dance at the Alhambra on Tuesday evening, April 22. Lieut. Edward F. Burke of the Rochester Police Department has been appointed chairman of the event, and he will be assisted by a large number of active Alhambra members.
The annual dinner-dances of the Alhambra are always popular events, and they attract a large patronage. Chairman Burke is planning to have an exceptionally fine affair this year, with features that will appeal to all patrons.

Collections For Indian and Negro Missions Sunday

The annual collection for the Indian and Negro Missions in this country will be taken up on Sunday in all churches in the Diocese. The Rt. Rev. John Francis O'Hern, D. D., Bishop of Rochester, urges all the faithful to give generously to this collection.
The importance of this work may be judged by the fact that, according to a report just published, the spiritual needs of 211,437 Negroes and 54,995 Indians are being cared for by Missionaries. There are 189 Negro mission churches and 327 for Indians. A total of 33,851 Negro students are enrolled in 204 schools, while 6,901 Indians are being taught in 81 schools. Negro converts totaled 3,049 for the year, an increase of 238 over the previous year.
Two hundred priests devote their efforts to work among Indians, while 208 watch over the needs of Negroes, the report states. About 1,600 children are being sheltered in 15 child caring homes, while charitable activities of other sorts are being conducted throughout the missions area in the United States.
The Commission in charge of these missions is governed by a board of directors comprising His Eminence, Dennis Cardinal Dougherty, chairman; His Eminence, Patrick Cardinal Hayes; and The Most Rev. Michael J. Curley, Archbishop of Baltimore. The Rev. F. B. Tennely, S. S. D. D., is secretary.

Recent Outrages Against the Church in Tabasco, Mexico

"They are destroying the Cathedral, opening doors where the altars were; the tower has been demolished until the place where the clock bell was has been exposed; and it is claimed that Tomas Garrido Canabal (considered the power behind the throne of Ascencio Cruz, Governor of Tabasco) intends to destroy the side chapels, so that the building will not present the aspect of a church. All the bells have been removed, and it is said they plan to make a statue of General Obregon from them. The big organ has been removed and taken to the nationalistic school of the government."
This letter, from the capital of the state, is the work of a man with great interests in Mexico, and with many friends in various sections of it, and is regarded here as authoritative.
Church Windows Destroyed
Another letter, dated Teapa, Tabasco, reads:
"They have taken the pulpits so the beasts can eat in them; the ornaments for several uses; the glass windows, for several uses; the bells have been destroyed; the bells have been thrown down, as well as the altars; and they are going to demolish the towers."
Despite promises by the federal government that worship would be permitted throughout the republic, nothing has been done to better conditions in the state, where Cruz and Canabal have set up a virtual monarchy.
Nothing definite has leaked out of the investigation into the attempted assassination of President Pascual Ortiz Rubio, which has been handled by military authorities. The latter have just handed over to the attorney general the files on the case, supposedly by direction of the president.
Why the army should have handled the investigation is causing considerable gossip here. The law states that none but civil authorities has the power to handle cases of this nature.
Several solutions of the assault are offered in rumors in Mexico City. One is that before the President took office some differences had arisen between some of the members of the political party, and that the attack was one of vengeance by the discontented members of the party. Others hold to the theory that the attempted assassination was inspired by communistic hatred, caused by the withdrawal of ambassadors between the Soviet and Mexico.

Principal Admits Barring Catholic At State's Probe

(By N. C. W. C. News Service) Albany, N. Y., March 7.—William J. Hoffman, Harriman school principal, admitted at a hearing before Dr. Frank P. Graves, state commissioner of education, held yesterday, that he had told Miss Anna Mulholland he could not employ her as a teacher because of her Catholic faith.
Hoffman also admitted at the hearing that his attempt to shift the blame for the affair to the local board of education, by saying he was acting under instructions, was "a deliberate lie." He explained that he had said he was acting under directions from the board to summarize his "impression" of the general community preference for Protestant teaching in Harriman.
Apparently not convinced that the school board had no part in barring Miss Mulholland, representatives of Catholic organizations questioned Hoffman sharply on this point.
"Do you swear you have no agreement to protect the board?" asked Michael F. Walsh of Brooklyn, State Advocate of the Knights of Columbus.
"Principal Takes All Blame"
"I have not," the principal answered. "I take the blame. I know it was an error. I am ready to admit it."
Despite Hoffman's statement and denial from members of the board, it was indicated that counsel for the Rev. Patrick F. MacAran, Harriman priest who first brought the case to light, will petition Dr. Graves to oust the members of the board.
Pending filing of briefs, the decision on revocation of Hoffman's license was withheld.
Hoffman said he wrote Miss Mulholland that if she were a Protestant she should come to Harriman and a contract would await her, but that if she was a Catholic she should telegraph him. She wired, stating her faith, and in return was sent a letter which explained that while he (Hoffman) would personally welcome her, the board of education "has given me instructions not to pick any one unless he was a Protestant."
Teaching for Eight Years
Hoffman, a graduate of Franklin and Marshall College, said he has been teaching in New York and Pennsylvania for a period of eight years.
All teaching applications, he asserted, requested information on the religion of a teacher. He added that he had never seen Miss Mulholland's application, because a locally known teacher had applied and been accepted immediately.
Frank Watson, president, and three other members of the school board testified. They said they did not know of the Hoffman letters, and that they repudiated them, but that no steps had been taken to penalize or oust the principal.
"So I take it," said Eugene A. Danaher, counsel for Father MacAran, "that the violation of the United States Constitution and of the spirit of the State Constitution just merits a little criticism from your board."
Alexander Thompson, a member of the board, testified that Harriman has had Catholic teachers, adding that "his children were taught by one."

Ordinary of Mass Has Been Recorded For the First Time

The entire Ordinary of the Mass of the Gregorian Chant has just been recorded for the first time in America by the Plus X School of Liturgical Music of the College of the Sacred Heart, according to an announcement by the Victor Division of the RCA Victor Company.
The appearance of these recordings at this time coincides with the 25th anniversary of the Motu Proprio on church music issued by the late Pius X, and recently made a part of the new Apostolic Constitution on Sacred Music by Pope Pius XI, in which he urged the more general use of the Gregorian Chant in all Roman Catholic churches.
The records comprise the chants from the Missa Cum Jubilo, taken from a manuscript of the eleventh century, and embodied in the Solemn Edition. They include the Kyrie, Gloria, Credo, Sanctus, Benedictus, Pater Noster, Agnus Dei and the Missa Est. As a further step in advancing the Gregorian movement arrangements are being made the announcement stated, to record the Mass and Vespers as sung by the monks of the Abbey Solesmes, in France.

C. D. A. Class Is To Be Initiated Sunday Afternoon

About 25 members of Court Rochester, Catholic Daughters of America, attended the dedication ceremonies of the new Church of the Precious Blood, Lexington Avenue and Stenson Street, on Sunday last. At this time Bishop O'Hern publicly thanked the members of the Court for their work in furnishing the parochial house.
It is announced that Court Rochester will hold a ceremony of initiation for 25 new members on Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Columbus Club. Degrees will be conferred under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Harmon, District Deputy, of Auburn, N. Y., by the Officers of Court Canandaigua.

The Road to Wealth
A writer summarized the road to wealth as made up of three things. To:
Live upon less than your income;
Seek advice only from those specially fitted to give it;
Make your money work for you.
In plain words—keep part of what you earn for yourself and then give it a chance to grow—as "Great oak trees from little acorns grow."
