St. Paul Sister Is Guest of Honor Of College Women

Cedar Rapids, Ia., June 6.—Sister Antonia, President of the College of St. Catherine, St. Paul, Minnesota, was the guest of honor and the speaker at a luncheon given on the occasion of the sectional conference of the American Association of University Women held recently at Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

The College of St. Catherine, of which Sister Antonia is president, has long been on the list of colleges whose graduates are eligible for membership in the American Association of University Women.

To the number of Catholic colleges and universities already on this approved list, the American Association of University Women announce the addition of the College of Notre Dame, Maryland. This institution was admitted recently.

Fine New St. Margaret Mary School

Ground was broken Sunday for the new St. Margaret Mary School, on Rogers Parkway, off St. Paul Blvd. The Rt. Rev. Emmett M. Walsh, D.D. Bishop of Charleston, S. C., turned the first sod. He was assisted by the Rt. Rev. Most Rev. William M. Hart, V. G., Rev. John Muecke, Rev. Walter Kohl, Rev. Charles J. Bruton, rector of the Church, and the two trustees of the school, John J. Burke and Frank Feery.

The school will be near the church and will be ready for occupancy this Fall. Members of the Sisters of St. Francis will be in charge.

The new building will be a strictly modern one. Plans were drawn for it by Architect George F. Lorens, 411 Alexander Street and they were approved by the Diocesan Building Committee.

The school, a two-story brick building, will be 140 feet wide by 136 feet long and will have five classrooms, two on the ground floor and three above, an auditorium which will seat 600 persons, a clinic, principal's office and meeting room. Each room and the auditorium will be equipped with radio.

Mission Work Among Negroes Rich in Results

Vatican City, June 6.—Catholicity in Africa refutes any grave charge that the Negro has been neglected. There the Church counts almost 2,000,000 native African members, while there are over 100 Negro priests and 2,100 seminarians. Thus we have the curious phenomenon of the so-called "Dark Continent" with this splendid beginning in a Negro clergy while in the United States, where the Negroes are supposed socially and educationally better off than their African brothers, Negro priests are but a handful.

In one area in Uganda Negro priests have taken over entirely the conduct of Church affairs, the splendid Catholic flocks supporting every parish. While this is the high level in development, in several other sections of East and Central Africa the missionaries speak proudly of their zealous and intelligent native priests.

$25,000 Check By Rockefeller Sent to Cardinal

New York, June 6.—John D. Rockefeller, Jr., has just sent a check for $25,000 to Cardinal Hayes for the Catholic Charities of Greater New York. The "Charities" campaign, which netted more than one million dollars, closed about two weeks ago. Mr. Rockefeller was not solicited during the campaign. He contributed $25,000 to the Catholic Charities last year, and that gift was also uncollected.

Famous Author

Seventy-six years of age, but still active as Spain's leading writer, is Palacie Valdes, Catholic author, whose latest book, a retrospect of his life, has just been introduced here.

Study of Spanish Increases

Spanish held an insignificant place on the public high school program as late as 1910, but enrolled 2.4 per cent of the total enrollment in 1915, 11.3 per cent in 1922, and 9.5 per cent in 1928, at which time 20 per cent of the total foreign-language enrollment was studying the language, according to the United States Office of Education.

Enacting Laws Will Not Change Nation's Morals

Washington, June 6.—The Rt. James E. Freeman, Episcopal Bishop of Washington, in a Memorial Day address here, questioned the wisdom of attempting to change the moral character of a people by legislative enactment.

"Are we seeking the impossible," asked the Bishop, whose sermon was broadcast over a national radio network, "attempting through legal enactment to change the moral character of our people? Is it reasonable to suppose that you can make a people temperate, or chaste, or honest merely by law or by a watchful and vigilant constabulary?"

Discussing the sermon the later Bishop Freeman said that the Volstead act is "an outstanding example of such legislative attempts," but emphasized that he did not intend to single out the prohibition law alone.

"We have demonstrated in our homes," the Bishop asserted in the sermon, "that the imposition of pro-rius rules and inhibition and exacting disciplines with penalties for their infraction fail of large results."

Long-Standing Trouble Between Vatican and Malta Is Near Final Settlement

Vatican City, June 6.—The long-standing trouble between the Vatican and the Government of the Island of Malta, a British naval base in the Mediterranean, is believed to be near a final settlement. Henry Getty Chilton, the retiring British Minister to the Court of Pope Pius XI, signed with the Secretary of State, Cardinal Pacelli a protocol which, when ratified, is expected to develop into a treaty in a short time regulating ecclesiastical and political affairs on the Island of Malta.

The treaty is expected to end a conflict between Church and State in the island which had existed for more than 30 years, with particularly heated conversations and demonstrations during the last 15 months. The treaty will be the second international covenant entered into by the Vatican State. The first, after the promulgation of the Lateran Treaty, was with Prussia, also signed by Cardinal Pacelli, when he was Papal Nuncio at Berlin, June 14, 1929.

Trouble Over a Monk

The matter began to assume a serious aspect last March when Father Carta, Italian head of the Minorite Order of Malta, attempted to discipline Father Micaliet—a Franciscan monk and a British subject, by sending him to Sicily. Lord Criceland, the Premier, ordered that no passport be issued to the monk as he was being punished on a political charge, because of his pro-British sentiments and his Majesty could not permit one of his loyal subjects to be treated in that manner.

Father Carta was supported in his effort to remove the monk by the Maltese hierarchy and ultimately by

Msgr. C. A. Cassidy, A Beloved Priest, Buried on Friday

New York, June 6.—The Rt. Rev. Msgr. Charles A. Cassidy, dean of the Roman Catholic clergy on Staten Island and for the last 19 years pastor of St. Peter's Church in New Brighton, died on Monday in his rectory, 23 St. Mark's Place.

He was buried today from the church where he had served so long and so faithfully. The burial was thronged with priests and people.

Msgr. Cassidy was 64 years of age. He was educated in St. Bernard's Academy, New York, and went to Niagara University, where he studied for the priesthood and was ordained May 15, 1910.

He went to St. Peter's in 1912, and only the basement of the church had been built. He was a member of a relic of Civil War soldiers. By 1927 the church was almost completed. He was the pastor of the church for 19 years. His body rests beneath the main altar of the chapel.

Jesuit Novitiate Dedicated May 31, Wernersville, Pa.

Reading, Pa., June 6.—The new Jesuit novitiate of Blessed Isaac Jogues at Wernersville, costing nearly $2,000,000, was dedicated Saturday, May 31, by Cardinal Dougherty, Archbishop of Philadelphia, laid the cornerstone and presided at the ceremonies. A large number of persons from Philadelphia, New York and parts of New Jersey and Maryland attended.

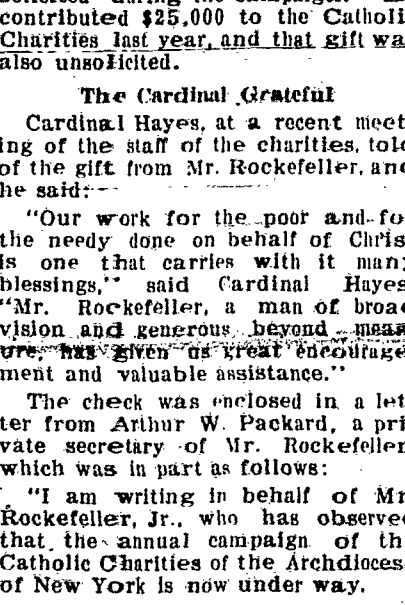

This novitiate is the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Brady, and Mr. Brady's body rests beneath the main altar of the chapel.

CHARLES E. MURPHY
Charles E. Murphy, lawyer and advertising counsel, has just been elected president of the New York City Advertising Club, a most important office. He is a devout Catholic, as well as an able attorney.

Into the Fields Go the 400, All Seeking Souls

Dakar, French West Africa, June 6.—The 400 Catholics of the Serero tribe who inhabit the town of Toungue, Senegal, French West Africa, will soon mount to 1500 if the villagers keep their good resolutions. In 1927 they asked the bishop for a church of their own. He promised them one as soon as they could accumulate 15,000 francs—$600. Several weeks later they brought to His Lordship 16,000 francs, and the church was built. Now they want a resident priest. The bishop has promised a priest when they have 1,500 Christians. They are scouring the countryside to gather Christians to swell the total.

THE CARDINAL GRATIAF
Cardinal Hayes, at a recent meeting of the staff of the charities, told of the gift from Mr. Rockefeller, and said:

"Our work for the poor and for the needy done on behalf of Christ is one that carries with it many blessings," said Cardinal Hayes. "Mr. Rockefeller, a man of broad vision and generous beyond measure, has given us great encouragement and valuable assistance."

The check was enclosed in a letter from Arthur W. Packard, a private secretary of Mr. Rockefeller, which was in part as follows:

"I am writing in behalf of Mr. Rockefeller, Jr., who has observed that the annual campaign of the Catholic Charities of the Archdiocese of New York is now under way.

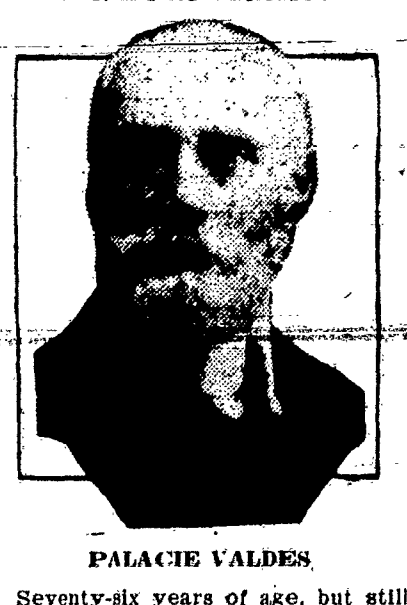

Catholic Work Praised

"To meet human needs, as these charities do, through hospitals, through homes for the aged, through Summer camps for children and through other relief agencies, is to claim the interest and support of New York citizens regardless of religious faith.

"Sympathy which reaches out to relieve suffering and to increase happiness knows no sectarian divisions. To that common objective we are all dedicated—Catholic, Jew and Protestant alike.

"With this thought in mind, although he has not been solicited for a contribution, Mr. Rockefeller would be grateful for the privilege of participating in this campaign.

At his request and on his behalf, therefore, I am taking the liberty of enclosing herewith his check."
