Nazareth College

The third annual senior ball of Nazareth College was held at Brook Lea Country Club, Thursday evening, June 5th. Preceding the dance, dinner was served to the members of the senior class and their parents. Music for the ball was furnished by Frank Skultety and his orchestra.

The entire proceeding was conducted with a regal grace and dignity that formed a fitting climax for the activities of Senior Week at Nazareth College.

Rev. V. G. O'Brien
Died on June 1st

Schenectady, N. Y., June 6.—The Rev. Vincent G. O'Brien, pastor of St. John the Baptist Church here, died at St. Mary's Hospital in Amsterdam June 1 after an illness of several months. Father O'Brien was pastor of the parish in this city since its formation in 1920. He was an army chaplain in the World War. He had served at St. Paul's Church in Hancock, N. Y., and at St. Peter's in Troy.

He was born in Albany in 1882. He was graduated from St. Charles College, Maryland, in 1903. Survivors are his mother, three brothers and two sisters.

Blessed Sacrament Graduates
Attend Reception and See Films
Of Themselves Taken 12 Years Ago

On Tuesday evening this week a reception was held for all graduates of the Blessed Sacrament School in the school auditorium. There was a very large attendance, and the event was an unusually pleasant and inspiring one. The Rev. Thomas F. Connors, rector of the Blessed Sacrament Church, greeted the graduates cordially, and the various classes had a pleasant time together.

The Blessed Sacrament School, founded by Father Connors in 1903, has graduated approximately 1,300 boys and girls, and all of these received their diplomas from the hands of their pastor. Father Connors maintains a personal interest, as far as it is possible, in the graduates of his school, and he is very happy over the success a large number of them have made in life, and in their fidelity to the better things of life.

Films Twelve Years Old

A surprise feature of the reception was the showing of films taken 12 years ago, after Mass on Palm Sunday, 1918. The pictures caused many a hearty laugh, illustrating as they did the styles of hair and dress that have changed so radically. There were a number of soldiers in uniform, ready for their trip across to the battle zone, some never to return.

The film also showed the services on Holy Thursday with the altar boys and children, marshaled by those outside, however, and the entire civil program will take place out of doors, and will be broadcast over WEAM.

The pastor of the church, the Rev. Daniel B. O'Rourke, and Senator Frederick J. Slater, chairman of the executive committee, are making preparations, with the other committees, for the handling of the thousands of persons expected to attend. Senator Slater says certain parishioners are coming from as far as Texas to attend the services. He said one family left Houston last week by automobile, expecting to arrive in Rochester in ample time for the ceremony.

Officers of the Mass

Officers of the Centennial Mass will be as follows: Celebrant, the Rt. Rev. John Francis O'Hern, D.D., Bishop of Rochester; high priest, Rev. George V. Burns; deacons of honor, Rev. F. B. Englert, Rev. A. J. McCabe; deacons of the Mass, Rev. John H. O'Brien, Rev. George W. Beck; master-of-ceremonies, the Rt. Rev. Magr. A. B. Meehan; assistant, Rev. William Borgan.

A Historic Church

Nearly 100 years ago Patrick Bulger, looking upon the cross of the newly completed church, standing in the midst of great towering trees, wrote a poem in which this verse appears:

"Now fields richly clad, where the forest once stood,
Excite the pleased Traveler's gaze
And Greece proudly boasts of the Church in the Wood,
Raised to the honor and glory of God,
Where man's voice is heard in His praise!"

This church was erected through the piety and zeal of early immigrants, chiefly Irish. These men, shortly before, had assisted in the construction of the first St. Patrick's Church in Rochester. Some of them had gone previously to Ulster and Albany, to receive the Sacraments once a year, then to Rochester where the first St. Patrick's was built, about the year 1823. Then they decided to build a church of their own—the first in any country place in the great State of New York. In 1829 they commenced the work.

A Pioneer Leader

Felix McGuire was the pioneer leader of the new enterprise and it is to Nicholas Reed and his wife, Orpha, that the congregation is indebted for the church property. Since the Catholic residents were both poor and few in number, the building was constructed piecemeal, the formal opening being delayed more than two years. During that time services were conducted part of the time in the little red house of the unfinished building.

From 1829 to 1849 the parish was served by priests who came from Albany or Buffalo for short intervals to look after the spiritual needs of the people. In 1849 Rev. Joseph Biggio was appointed pastor and from that time to the present only four priests have filled that position, namely Father Biggio, Father Maurice, Father Quinn and the present rector, Father Daniel B. O'Rourke.

Children Had Part

It was when Father Maurice came in 1855 that plans for a new church building were begun and the old building was converted into a residence for the pastor, the use which it serves today. Patrick McGuire had died in June, 1855 and Mr. Reed was feeble and unable to be of great service in the building of the church, but many of the older residents of the parish who were children in the '50's tell how Patrick Rigney gathered the school children and had them carry away armfuls of wood that they might be able to say that they had a part in the work.

Present Church, 1860

The present church, a brick structure, was dedicated on September 16, 1860, and it is in a fine state of preservation. The tower was not completed, however, until 1876, though the bell in the tower was blessed on September 19, 1875, by the Rt. Rev. Bernard McQuaid, first Bishop of Rochester.

In 1862 Father Maurice imported from France the large painting of the Sorrowful Mother that hangs above the main altar. This was the first of six valuable paintings that were placed in the church. In the same year statues of the Blessed Virgin and St. Joseph were brought from Germany. Two vases of white Italian marble, three feet in height, were imported in 1864.

Far and near the children of the church are scattered, and from far and near will they come to the centennial celebration of this historic edifice next Sunday, when the hearts of all children of the Church in the Diocese of Rochester will be warmed by the historic fires of this historic church, mother of all country churches in the State.

Good Counsel
Church Bazaar
June 11, 12, 13, 14

Announcement was made today that a bazaar is to be held by the Church of Our Lady of Good Counsel, June 11, 12, 13 and 14, inclusive.

The General Chairman, Joseph H. Foley, reports that his committees are planning a gala event. The church grounds, Brooks Avenue, near Genesee Park Boulevard, are in readiness for the erection of the numerous booths that will afford much pleasure to the friends of the parish on the evenings of the bazaar.

Mr. Foley is being assisted in making arrangements by the Men's General Committee headed by Earl Harrington and a Women's Committee, of which Mrs. Vance Keeling is chairman.

Chairmen in charge of the various activities are: Joseph Statt; stock room, Robert L. Ferguson; tickets, George Lawson; publicity, David Brady; women, Mrs. Vance Keeling; prizes, Daniel McNulty; cashiers, Harold McGrath; treasurer, Luke Smith.

The Purchasing Committee is composed of Charles Rohrer, chairman, Nell Collins, Joseph Statt, Earl Harrington, James Ryan.

The various booths will be found on the grounds as follows:

Bingo booth, Ray Berkhold, chairman; blanket booth, Charis H. Rohrer, chairman; Harold Driscoll, chairman; toy booth, Jov. Fitzgerald, Chairman; Fred Sullivan; variety booth, Neil Collins; Walter Branigan; grocery booth, Joseph Ryan, Chairman; ham and bacon booth, Walter Listman, Chairman; hot dog booth, Joseph Haverty, chairman; ice cream booth, George Huxley, Chairman; lamp booth, Chester Ritter, Chairman.

A good deal of interest is being shown in the prizes that are going to be awarded to the workers. The first prize is a Pontiac Sedan. This prize will be awarded Saturday evening, June 14. Two electric radios are also to be awarded, together with a prize of $25 in gold. All those who wish to compete for these prizes should inquire of the general chairman or any of his assistants.

John A. Doyle
Is Re-Elected
Head of K. of C.

The annual meeting of Rochester Council, Knights of Columbus, was held in the quarters of the organization in the Columbus Civic Center on Thursday this week, with the John one voting in progress from 2 P. M. to 9 in the evening. Only one change was made in the slate of officers nominated—Cyril J. Statt was nominated Trustee for three years, to succeed Arthur N. Drayer, who retires after having served several terms faithfully and well. The entire slate, as nominated and voted upon, follows:

Grand Knight, John A. Doyle; deputy grand knight, Norbert J. Streb; chancellor, James E. Cuff; advocate, Frederick J. Mix; recorder, Thomas H. O'Connor; treasurer, George W. Henner; warden, Leo F. Rombaut; inside guard, William Kunz; outside guard, Angelo DiNeri; trustee, C. J. Statt; delegates to State Convention, Daniel F. Fitzgerald and John A. Doyle; alternates, Charles R. Barnes and John J. McInerney.

The office of Financial Secretary is an appointive one. It is now filled by Raymond J. Curran, who will undoubtedly be reappointed. The Chaplain of the Council is the Rev. Dr. W. F. Cowen, who is appointed by the Bishop of the Diocese. The Lecturer, George J. Law, is also appointed.

This is the first time in the history of the Council that officers have been elected in June. Elections have always occurred in September, but the Constitution of the order was amended last year, changing the time of the elections to June.

Archbishop Will Confer Degrees
At St. Joseph's

The commencement exercises at St. Joseph's College, Emmittsburg, Maryland, will be held next Tuesday afternoon, June 10th. Degrees will be conferred by Archbishop Michael J. Curley, D.D., of Baltimore.

Two New York women, one of them a Sister, will receive the LL.D. degree—Sister Mary dePaul, O.P., formerly Miss Clara I. Cogan of Brooklyn, N.Y., and now Superior of the Foreign Mission Sisters of St. Dominic at Washington, D.C., and Mrs. James J. Sheeran, formerly Miss Clara Douglas of Brooklyn, N.Y.

Both these candidates have substantially furthered the cause of Catholic Education so nobly founded in the United States by Mother Seton, pioneer educator. As alumnae of the institution co-founders in the past present of the I.F.C.A., they are well deserving of the honor granted by their Alma Mater.

First Regiment Band
Campaign Will Close
On Friday, June 13

"On Friday evening, June 13th, our campaign for the benefit of the First Regiment Band, Knights of St. John will come to a close," was the statement recently made by William C. Schwab, director of the band.

"In view of the fact that there is only one more week left in order to help the work of the band, all our members ought to make a special effort to put the campaign over the top. I am sure that all our loyal members will do their best in helping this worthy cause. In the past there were always some on whom we could depend upon to do their share in promoting the interests of the organization and of the band."

Continuing, Bandmaster Schwab said that the campaign will be successful only if each member keeps faith with the band and does his or her share. "The band has kept faith with the Rochester Regiment," said Mr. Schwab, "and now we will have a chance to see just how the members will show their appreciation and give us their support, by the disposal of tickets."

It is earnestly requested that all returns be made promptly on Friday evening, June 13th, at the Regiment's headquarters, in Franklin Street. Don't forget the date, therefore, and be on hand to witness the end of the campaign.

Summer School
By Loyola Univ.,
Opens on June 27

From June 27th to August 5th Loyola University of Chicago will conduct its Summer School on the Rogers Park campus along the shore of Lake Michigan.

Last year 800 students, including many nuns and brothers of religious orders, were in attendance. Advance registration indicates the number will be greater this year. Besides 40 regular courses in Arts and Sciences, Rev. Austin G. Schmidt, S. J., has organized a Demonstration School in Education covering the first six grades and conducted by lay and religious teachers from all parts of the country.

This is the first year that the Loyola University Summer school will be held on the Lake Shore campus, and it is thought that the environment will attract more students than formerly at the Downtown College. The Summer School is under the direction of Reverend Frederic Siedenburg, S. J.

The Catholic Courier and Journal is the Official Catholic Paper of the Diocese of Rochester. Published in Rochester by Rochester People.

ASILE I

New York Cop,
Yamasheta Once,
Is O'Connell Now

New York, June 6.—The Police Department of New York had another Irish name on its rolls today, a patrolman who until May 29 went by the name of Yamasheta, a son of Japan.

A petition was granted in city court permitting Patrolman George Francis Yamasheta to change his last name to O'Connell, and Police Commissioner Mulrooney directed that the department records be made to conform. Yamasheta is the son of a boxmaker of Osaka, Japan, and of an Irish mother. He joined the force last year, becoming the first Japanese-Irish member in the history of the city.
