The Catholic Women's Club will send Miss Alice F. Kirk, its president, as delegate to the Tenth Annual Convention of the National Council of Catholic Women this fall.

This year marks the first decade of service rendered the church by the National Council of Catholic Women. The convention will open with Pontifical High Mass Sunday morning, September 28th, at the Cathedral of the Immaculate Conception in Denver.

Two reports of unusual interest will be given during the course of the convention, one on "International Relations" by Miss Margaret T. Lynch, the official representative of the National Council at the recent meeting of Catholic Women's Leagues in Rome, Italy.

Vacation Time At the Vatican Except for Pope

Most of the Cardinals Have Left Rome, and Administrative Offices of the Church Are on Part Time.

Vatican City, Aug. 8.—It is vacation time at the Vatican. Nearly all of the Cardinals have gone on their vacations. Cardinal Pietro, former Papal Secretary of State, is at Montecatini, for the cure, and it is said, to write his memoirs. Cardinal Scapinelli is at his native castle of Legnano. Cardinal Corbelli is at his villa near Orsetto. Cardinals Sincero and Enrico Gasparri are in the Apennines at Passo Della Cifa as guests of the Marquis Fasel, and Cardinals Mori and Capostasi are in the Marche district, where they have the modest villas.

Each Cardinal obtained permission from the Pope before leaving Rome. The administrative offices of the Catholic Church, which from this bit of independent territory govern the Church throughout the world, are running on half-time or quarter-time throughout August, the month in which all Vatican vacations are concentrated as much as possible.

Pope Pius is staying in the Vatican, taking daily walks along the shady paths of the Vatican gardens, but practically all his assistants have betaken themselves to the Italian seashore, lakes or mountains or to Switzerland.

The Roman congregations, offices and dicasteries which constitute the administrative headquarters have been suspended until September. The audiences which the Pope gives once or several times a week to certain ecclesiastical officials have also been suspended. The Pontiff is limiting himself to general audiences, at which Americans compose a large portion of the attendance.

Arduently, and, if one may so speak, more than ardently, do I desire that the true love of God may become perfect in you, and that you may more and more consecrate your powers to the service and glory of God, our Master, so that I may always be able to love and serve you more.—St. Ignatius Loyola.

I need not tell you that deeds are more persuasive than words.—St. Francis Xavier.

We May Be Known As the Generation That Forgot God

Priest in Metropolitan Cathedral Declares That Children of Modern Parents Are Sunk in Selfishness.

New York, Aug. 8.—"Bringing his listeners to pray for the world's return to an appreciation of spiritual values, the Rev. Henry F. Hammer, preaching yesterday at solemn mass in St. Patrick's Cathedral, declared that children of modern parents 'sunk in a philosophy of selfishness and sensuality' are in danger of being 'down in history as the generation that forgot God.'

"Dante describes the most abandoned man in hell as the man who forgot God," Father Hammer said. "If we are to live according to the plan God made when He created us, we must keep God always in our thoughts. Instead of using our efforts to reap a vain harvest of gold, men and women should strive for spiritual supremacy, turning their backs on affairs of the flesh."

The gospel of Christ is openly profaned by men and women who profess to be Christians, while leading lives of which selfishness and sensuality are the obvious attributes, Father Hammer asserted.

Two Great Menaces "Selfishness and sensuality are the two great menaces to modern Christianity," he continued.

Orange Statue Of King William Sold For Junk

Cause of Many a Fight in the Good Old Days, and Subject of Many a Prank, Comes to a Bad End.

Boyle, Ireland, Aug. 8.—Like all agents of discord and hate, the famed statue of William, Prince of Orange and King of England, erected here 50 years ago by the Earl of Kingston, has come to an ignominious end. It has been sold to a junk dealer for a few shillings, and boiled down, as many a good Irishman in the old days would have liked to boil William himself.

William, Prince of Orange, is patron of all Orange lodges in the world, and in his name many a bitter fight, factional and religious, has blessed Ireland with the blood of her sons. When the Earl of Kingston erected the statue here, he therefore held a red flag in front of the face of every true Irishman.

The annual summer festival of St. Salome's Church will be held on the parish grounds, Culver Road, Point Pleasant, Aug. 21, 22 and 23. Those in charge of the event are: General chairman, E. J. Schuler; vice-chairman, John Spellman; secretary, George McAvoy; treasurer, Al Grass and Stewart Bermingham.

Chairmen of various committees and booths are: Lighting of grounds, Leo Zankle; decorations, Jack Haynor; parking, Ray Dornberger; advertising, Charles Suss; kitchen, Mrs. Ray Bohr; automobile table, Florence Roth; variety booth, Ladies Sodality; Mrs. Robert Glaw, chairman; dollar booth, Robert Glaw; candy booth, Philip Kasper; market booth, Arthur Schmitt; grocery, William Doran; handkerchief booth, Genevieve Dore; sausage, Oliver Waszensek; fish pond, Mrs. G. E. Davenport; dining room, Helen Iselhardt.

Scenes has done marvels for sight, hearing and touch, but so far has accomplished very little for our sense of smell. Think the Irish would leave him alone, with his head gone, was tripped off his pedestal and his chest caved in. His friend, the Earl, had left for other parts by this time, and there was no one to restore the poor fellow to his pedestal position. So he has been sold to a junk dealer, and if he isn't happy over a hot fire, may you and he in a land where no kings try to lord it over people who love liberty, if there isn't too much orange in it.

Chinese Admire The Architecture Of New Chapel

Kongmoon, China, Aug. 8.—The new chapel of the Maryknoll Fathers of the Kongmoon Vicariate, Kwangtung, China, is attracting considerable attention, due to its architecture and carvings. Recently 40 high school girls travelled from the city of Sunwai, a distance of nine miles, three of which they had to walk, to admire the edifice. They listened attentively to the explanation of the master-builder of Pentecost, the Holy Family, Mary Queen of China, the Stations of the Cross, and other symbols of doctrine and devotion. Special notice was given the carving in wood of the Last Supper, executed by Chinese artists. The design of the building is by the Rev. Fr. Albert M. M.
