Britain is Blamed By League Nations For Palestine Riots

Mandates Commission of League Issues Report Which Criticizes British Regime, and Says Proper Precautions Were Not Taken—Police Protection Was Inadequate

BRITISH GOVERNMENT IS RESENTFUL OF THE CHARGE AND MAKES SHARP REPLY

Geneva, Switzerland, Aug. 29.—The League of Nations Mandates Commission has just issued its long-expected report on the Palestine riots between Jews and Arabs last August, which cost some 200 odd lives and property damage on a vast scale. The report criticizes the British mandatory regime in Palestine, and attributes the riots to the inadequacy of the military and police forces in Palestine, and to the failure of the mandatory power to anticipate the trouble and take preventive steps.

Government Caught Napping
The Mandates Commission intimates that the British Government should have foreseen the trouble and adequately provided against it, but instead was caught napping and did not have a sufficient police force to meet the emergency. It takes Britain to task for failing to suppress inciting Jewish and Arab papers.

Satisfaction Not Given
The Mandates Commission states that the task of the mandatory power was to "insure simultaneously the establishment of a Jewish national home in Palestine and the development of self-governing institutions for the population, of which the great majority are Arabs." The commission's comment on the manner in which these tasks have been fulfilled is as follows:

Wailing Wall Unsettled
The mandatory power is criticized by the commission for not having defined the status of the Wailing Wall before the disturbances.

More Than Ten Millions Left To Catholic Institutions Since First of the Year in Bequests

Survey Shows That Gifts to Charitable and Educational Institutions Amount to an Impressive Total—What the Figures Show

Milwaukee, Aug. 29.—The Catholic Citizen of this city has compiled a list of bequests and gifts of $50,000 and more to Catholic educational and charitable institutions, made since the first of the year. These gifts amount to the impressive total of more than $10,000,000, and they emphasize the fact that, more and more, our people are awakening to the joy of giving to our institutions. Smaller gifts, unreported bequests and funds donated in drives and campaigns would swell the total by many millions of dollars.

Elmhurst on the List
The largest bequest was the reported estate of Daniel Reidinger, Louisville, Ky., willed to Catholic causes and estimated at about $3,000,000.

Other Large Gifts
Among other large gifts were $500,000 or more from the estate of Conrad Hubert, New York; $500,000 from James W. Byrne, San Francisco; $500,000 from Mrs. C. Miltenberger, New Orleans; $400,000 from Mrs. Madeline Ottman, New York; $300,000 from George C. Jenkins, Baltimore; $300,000 from Captain Payson, San Mateo, Calif.; $300,000 from Michael Grinn, Sioux Falls, S. D.; $300,000 from Mrs. Bessie Safford, Marshall, N. C.; and $230,000 from Ex-Senator James D. Phelan, San Francisco.

Senator Phelan's Will
The will of James D. Phelan of San Francisco was a splendid example of Catholic generosity and charity. Bequests were made as follows to Catholic institutions:

The University of Santa Clara, $50,000; St. Ignace college, $50,000; Notre Dame convent, Belmont, $25,000; Presentation convent, San Francisco, $20,000; Old St. Mary's (Pasilla Fathers), $50,000; Mission Dolores church, $20,000; the Roman Catholic Orphan Asylum, $10,000; St. Joseph's Training School for Paris—France's latest hero is not a battle-scarred warrior. He is Victor Rivet, mayor of a little town in Normandy. He is laureled by ordering all radios be silenced in his town after 10 o'clock at night. Neither does he permit them to be turned on again before 7 o'clock in the morning. His edict is being observed. Radio enthusiasts have condemned him but the majority of his stammer-loving townspeople are predicting that his good example will be followed in other parts, even in the United States when Mayor Rivet's fame spreads.

Reading Matter Is Bequeathed By Seamen's Mission

Brooklyn, N. Y., Aug. 29.—Rev. Bernard Quinn, pastor of St. Peter Claver's Church, Brooklyn, N. Y., has introduced something new in the way of Catholic mission activity. Under the auspices of Rev. Both in regard to the personal progress of the individual, and to the spiritual fruits, aids, and advantages for others, which may be derived from them, spiritual exercises are the best thing that I can conceive, feel, or comprehend in this life.—St. Ignace Loyola.

Notre Dame Head Will Be Speaker On Catholic Hour

The Rev. Dr. Charles L. O'Donnell, C. S. C., Will Give Radio Talks on September 7th, 14th and 21st.

New York, Aug. 29.—Beginning on Sunday, September 7th, the Rev. Dr. Charles L. O'Donnell, C. S. C., President of Notre Dame University, will give three radio talks in the Catholic Hour series. Dr. O'Donnell is a gifted writer and speaker, and there are many people who will be glad of the opportunity to hear him on the radio.

In addition to his prominence as educator, Dr. O'Donnell has achieved distinction in the English-speaking world as a poet and editor. For 13 months during the World War he was chaplain of an American regiment in France. Before succeeding to the presidency of Notre Dame he was editor of Ave Maria, outstanding Catholic literary magazine. Provincial of the Congregation of the Holy Cross in the United States, and its Assistant Superior (deceased) throughout the World.

Master Jack Kearney, popular boy soprano of the 60 Psalm Chorists, who furnished the vocal numbers of the Catholic Hour last Spring, will sing with the Mediaevalists in the program on August 31st. Jack has been on a vacation since June.

Most of the vocal and instrumental music in the hour on August 31st, will have for its theme the Catholic doctrine of the Real Presence of Jesus Christ in the Blessed Sacrament. The Church's traditional hymns will be sung in this program.

Johnny Farrell's Infectious Way Is Help To Golf

NEW YORK—One reason for the popularity of the miniature golf course all over the country, if you believe what newspaper columnists say, is the infectious smile of an open champion, Johnny Farrell who, since going to work for a golf product, has started out as a caddy, and soon found himself winning amateur championships.

Belgian Doctor Has 16,270 Cases To Treat in Year

Medical Missionary in the Belgian Congo Works Ceaselessly Caring for the Natives Who Need His Help.

Vatican City, Aug. 29.—A Hungarian surgeon, Dr. Molnar, since February, 1928, has been serving as a medical missionary for the Belgian Congo, and at present lives with his young wife at Lubumbashi. The mass proportions of his treatments may be judged from the fact that from July, 1928, to July, 1929, he handled 16,270 cases, an average of 45 for every day of the year. During this time he likewise gave attention to 24 cases of sleeping sickness.

Both European colonists and missionaries have been deeply impressed with the power for good this young doctor, already a widower, among the Congo blacks through his medical activities. Besides his high competence, this lay apostle is blessed likewise with exquisite affability and a tireless devotion. His success is to be attributed, therefore, not merely to his skill with the knife, but also well to qualities of heart and soul which inspire his work. A tribute is due, too, to his devoted wife, who serves him, he the blacks.

Surgeon Gave His Own Blood To Help Priest

Windhoek (Southwest Africa), Aug. 29.—A local surgeon, Dr. Eggers, is subject of warm eulogy these days as a result of his devotion to a Catholic missionary, Father Jakob of the Windhoek Apostolate of Windhoek, whom he tried in vain to save. Doctor Eggers performed a stomach operation on Father Jakob which, though in itself successful, necessitated a second operation a few days later. During this second operation, however, the patient was in such a condition from loss of blood and without hesitation immediately transfused a quantity of his own. Unfortunately the patient was too far gone and could not be saved.

Two Colonies Abandoned

An appropriation of $25,000 was also made for the reconstruction of the destroyed colonies and the rehabilitation of the settlers. Of the five ruined colonies two, Kfar Uria and Huda, no longer exist. The reason for this, according to Dr. Hexter, is that the American and British trustees agreed not to recreate "un-economic centers." The three other colonies, Motza, Har Toy and Beer-tuvia, are now being rebuilt.

Non-Catholic Doctor Shows Severe Christian Spirit Towards Missionary Priest upon Whom He Had Operated

Dr. Eggers, through the kindness of a Catholic missionary, was able to save the patient's life. It is of note that there are practically no Catholic doctors in the vicinity of the patient. Always have received the attention from Dr. Schatzberg, the patient's physician, who is a Jew. It is well to remember that the patient was in a condition of extreme weakness and it is well to remember that the patient was in a condition of extreme weakness and it is well to remember that the patient was in a condition of extreme weakness.

$2,780,000 Palestine Fund, That Was Raised in America and in England, Used in Rebuilding After Riots

New Colonies Established, Roads Improved, Widows and Orphans Cared For—Homes Erected and Loans Made to Families Financially Affected By the Riots.

New York, Aug. 29.—Dr. Maurice B. Hexter, American member in charge of the Palestine Relief Fund, has just issued a report telling what has been done with the $2,945,000 raised in this country and in England. The money was raised after the Arab riots last year, and nearly all of it has been used in communities affected by the riots.

Of the total sum, $2,038,493 was raised in America. Allocations of $2,780,000 have already been made for relief and rehabilitation. Dr. Hexter reported, and $1,659,020 of this was expended up to June 30th, on a large program of relief and reconstruction. General relief funds during and immediately following the riots, he said, amounted to $207,780, the sum of $140,000 having been set aside to care for widows, orphans and invalids for the next twelve or fifteen years. Loans of $225,000 have been made to families financially affected by the riots.
