Porto Rican Association
Sends One Thousand Dollars
To the San Domingo Sufferers

Bishop A. J. Willinger of Porto Rico Shares Relief Funds
With Victims of Latest Tropical Hurricane—Great Sufferings On Island.

New York, Sept. 12.—Great suffering exists in San Domingo, Haiti, as a result of the disastrous hurricane which destroyed the greater part of the city on Wednesday of last week, killing more than 4,000 persons and injuring about 5,000. Many of the survivors were without food or water for several days, due to the impossibility of getting supplies into the city except by airplane.

Responding immediately to the dire need brought about in Santo Domingo by the hurricane, Bishop Aloysius J. Willinger of Porto Rico, cabled to the Rev. Frederick J. Toomey, J.C.D., General Secretary of the Catholic Porto Rican Child Welfare Association, whose headquarters are at 59 Union Square, New York City, to send $1,000 dollars for emergency relief. This fund was transmitted directly to the Most Rev. Adolphus A. Nouel, Archbishop of Santo Domingo, to be used at his discretion, especially in relieving the needs of children suffering in the disaster.

The Catholic Porto Rican Child Welfare Association is the outgrowth of the poverty and want brought about by the disastrous hurricane which devastated Porto Rico in 1928, and formed in New York by friends of Bishop Willinger soon after his consecration last year. It has been collecting funds to aid in the feeding, clothing and caring for the thou-

ON REARING CHILDREN FROM
CRIB TO COLLEGE

Compiled by the Editors of
THE PARENTS' MAGAZINE

By going up on the mountain top we enlarge our vision of the valley. We see new relations, new aspects of old things. It is the part of the parents as the transmitters of the social heritage to lead youth to the mountain top. Set up in plain view the best the race has achieved, for that best will hold the wisdom which is born of a knowledge of good and evil. That knowledge wisely achieved will lead to a deliberate choice of good.

POPE RECEIVES SAILORS

Rome, Sept. 12.—Pope Pius recently gave an audience to 450 sailors from the United States cruiser Chester, now anchored in the Bay of Naples. The Pope spoke briefly of his pleasure at seeing them and imparted his benediction to all of them and "those dear to them."

In-arranging furniture, room groups should be disposed so that one can read in the comfortable chairs without moving things about to make it feasible, and the groups should be inter-related so that the chairs which are most frequently offered to guests are not isolated, but are close enough to others to make a natural group, encouraging conversation in the room.

What modern education does is to stimulate the child's imagination so that he wants to learn. Learning is not forced upon him in groans and dismay on his part. It is eagerly sought because achievement lies at the end of the path of learning. The project method encourages in every child the power to recognize the creative desire within him and to translate it into form.

A happy bedtime is very necessary to the small child. The hours of sleep are influenced by his condition of mind upon going to bed. Bedtime is not the occasion for reproaches and disagreements. Ten minutes before bedtime tell him that in a few minutes it will be time to go to bed. Make the actual routine of getting ready and getting into bed a definite one repeated night after night in the same way at the same time without exception, and the child will accept it and co-operate.

Gay Printed Jacket Is to Be Good for Summer

Whether the gay-printed or embroidered linen jacket that accompanied the tennis frock last summer would survive this season is a question to be answered in the affirmative. The new version of the colorfast wrap, however, is very different from any that promulgated last summer's smart board walks. The designs are larger and more modernistic, the colors are even gay and the fitted, flared jacket of the new mode has nothing in common with the loosely hanging jackets of other years.
