Ten Thousand Present At Blessing of Graves In Holy Sepulchre Cemetery

Solemn Ceremony in City of the Dead Attended by Great Crowd of People—Bishop O'Hern Tells of Plans For the Beautifying of Cemetery.

More than 10,000 people attended the ceremony of the blessing of the graves in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery last Sunday afternoon and came away thoughtful and impressed, and with a better understanding of the beauty and meaning of prayers for the dead and respect for the dead. The Rt. Rev. John Francis O'Hern, D.D., Bishop of Rochester, gave a timely and appropriate talk, and he was heard with deep appreciation.

A Solemn Procession With students from St. Andrew's Preparatory Seminary and St. Bernard's Seminary in line, and with the entire Commandery of the Knights of St. John acting as escort to Bishop O'Hern, a solemn procession was held from St. Bernard's Seminary to the cemetery, and to the mortuary chapel, where vespers for the dead were chanted. Following the blessing of the graves, Bishop O'Hern gave a talk to the great congregation. He told of the significance of the ceremony just held, and of the age old practice of honoring the dead in the Catholic Church. He told of the development of Holy Sepulchre Cemetery and of the improvements made in the past year and contemplated improvements in the future.

"During the past year," said Bishop O'Hern, "many important improvements and developments have been made in the cemetery. The most noticeable and efficient superintendent and his helpers. Electricity has been installed in the chapel and vault, with appropriate fixtures, and for use for it was come at the very service this afternoon. This lighting effect will reveal the beauties of our mortuary chapel, which is one of the finest specimens of English Gothic in the world. Several hundred feet of new roads have been built around the west entrance and the green house, and 1,500 feet of new road will be constructed this fall westward to the West Avenue entrance, which we hope to develop during the coming Spring and Summer.

New Plots Opened Two new plots were opened in the cemetery, one on the east and one on the west side, for the burial of families which, through mixed marriages, include Catholics, and a new plot in the northeast corner of the cemetery for deceased members of the various sisterhoods.

Bishop O'Hern said a new public entrance on Lake Avenue was being planned, and would probably be completed by Spring. He told of the plans for perpetual care of the graves in the cemetery, and said it was a necessary factor in keeping up the appearance of the cemetery. He told of the consolation of Christian burial, and said that cremation is forbidden by the Church, except in times of great disaster. He was heard with deep attention by all of the people, and his talk was appreciated by everybody.

Many Clergymen At The Funeral of Mrs. Zwierlein

Requiem Mass for Beloved Women Celebrated by Her Son—Bishop and Two Archbishops Present at Funeral.

The funeral of Mrs. Lucy Zwierlein, who died in Brockton, Sept. 24th, was held in St. John's Church at 10 o'clock Saturday morning. One Bishop, two Archbishops, a number of priests and Sisters and a large number of lay friends were among the mourners.

The Requiem Mass was celebrated by the son, the Rev. Dr. Frederick Zwierlein, with the Rev. John J. Brophy as deacon, Rev. Ferdinand Borner of Hoboken, N. J., sub-deacon; Rev. George V. Burns, sub-deacon; Rev. William Ryan and Rev. Andrew Byrne, master of ceremonies to Bishop O'Hern, Rev. Francis Reynolds, book bearer, Rev. Joseph M. Hart, candle bearer, Rev. Peter Jankowski, cantor. The two Archbishops in attendance were the Most Rev. Thomas F. Hickey, D.D., Archbishop of Cincinnati, and the Most Rev. Edward J. Hanna, D.D., Archbishop of San Francisco. The priests in attendance included the Rt. Rev. Msgr. William M. Hart, V.G., the Rt. Rev. Msgr. A. B. McManus, the Rt. Rev. Msgr. M. J. Nolan, and the Revs. J. J. Boppel, Eugene Golding, John Peltzer, William Cowen, Edward Meagher, Sebastian Englert, Leo V. Mooney, William Dwyer, William Murphy, C. J. Bruton, J. J. Neary, J. E. Sullivan, J. J. Baird, Howard Glick, Theodore Keroth, Albert J. Gelsker, Edward Hartman, George S. Hogan, Prosper Liebert, Joseph Otte, Michael Krieg, George Ekl, Arthur A. Hughes, J. W. Keefe, George Predmore, Edmund J. P. O'Beirne, William J. Brien, William Davis, Francis Luddy, Alexander MacIsaac, and the Rev. Thomas O'Hern of Buffalo. The blessing at the church was given by Bishop O'Hern. Burial was in Holy Sepulchre Cemetery.

Bearers were Frederick and Anthony Zwierlein, Walter Eisenberg, Joseph Hasenauer, John Eckert and Joseph Frank. Members of the Sacred Heart Society of Holy Angels Church were among the attendants. Services at the grave were conducted by Most Rev. Thomas F. Hickey, D.D., assisted by Bishop O'Hern, Monsignor Hart, and Fathers Zwierlein, Bognor, Burns, Byrne, Bruton, O'Rourke, Ryan, Baird, Byrne and Liebert.

Mrs. Zwierlein died soon after returning from a trip to Europe with her son, the Rev. Dr. F. J. Zwierlein. Besides him she is survived by two other sons, Cornelius and Lewis; Zwierlein, two daughters, Mrs. George L. Schlitzer, and Mrs. Joseph Hoefler, and nine grandchildren.

Dr. G. M. Growney Married Sept. 9 To Buffalo Girl

Miss Polly Anne Redan, daughter of Henry E. Redan of Buffalo, and Dr. George M. Growney, Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. George M. Growney, Sr., of Webster Avenue, were married Tuesday, Sept. 9, at 9 o'clock in St. Mark's Church, Buffalo. The Rev. Vincent McCarthy, cousin of the bride, performed the ceremony, assisted by the Rev. J. Walsh.

The bride was given in marriage by her father, Mrs. Edward Soucie, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, and Herbert Growney, brother of the groom, was best man. The ushers were Otto Redanz, Thomas O'Reilly and Francis Conley.

Following the ceremony, a wedding breakfast was served to 23 guests at the Paris Lane.

Dr. and Mrs. Growney left on an Eastern trip and after their return will reside at the Westmoor Apartments in West Avenue.

Ground Is Broken For Auriesville Shrine That Will Seat 6,500

(Continued from Page One) will give the appearance of an open amph-theatre although it will be covered. This effect will be secured by the raising of the outside walls above the roof. The structural design submitted by Chester Oakley, Buffalo architect, was approved by Father Cusick, after competitive plans had been received from a number of nationally known designers. Mr. Oakley's design for the new chapel, which will follow the construction of the coliseum, is also a masterpiece of beauty. The tower effect will be similar to that of the shrine at Auriesville, scene in its character, that it may be seen clearly for miles across the valley. This will be illuminated at night by a floodlight from the shrine tower nearby. The chapel, as proposed, will have a seating capacity of 1,000 and will be constructed of Kittington brick, the same material as will be used in the building of the coliseum.

On New Location The new shrine will be visible from the opposite side of the Mohawk along a distance of more than four miles, from Tribes Hill to the entrance of Ponda. It is also easily seen from the Tribes Hill-Johnstown highway, the Fort Johnson-Johnstown road, the 55 route along the south shore route and the road from Amsterdam to Glen. Father Cusick stated that the work will progress as fast as conditions permit.

Celebration Held Sunday A civic celebration was held at Auriesville Sunday. John Boyd Thatcher, representing Governor Roosevelt, presided. The LaSalle Boys' Band of Albany played, patriotic songs were sung, and there were talks by the Rev. John J. Wynne, S.J., of New York; Very Rev. Edward C. Phillips, S.J., Provincial of the Maryland-New York Province; Dr. John H. Finley, associate editor of the New York Times; William Pierrpont White of Utica, a sterling promoter of historic places, and a blessing by the Rt. Rev. Edmund F. Gibbons, D.D., Bishop of Albany. About 10,000 people were present.

There is a difference between pity and sympathy. One is thrown at you, the other walks with you. —Lillian Bell.

Rev. T. J. Heafy Of Staten Island, Buried on Monday

West New Brighton, Oct. 3.—Monday morning the funeral of the Rev. Thomas J. Heafy, rector of the Church of the Sacred Heart in this village, was held in that church. Father Heafy died on Thursday, aged 64 years. He graduated from Manhattan College, class of 1876, and was captain of both the football and baseball teams of the college. He was ordained in the old Troy Seminary in 1887. He had served in St. Philip Ner's Church in the Bronx; St. Bernard's Church, New York; was pastor at Groton, N. Y., and for 16 years had been at West New Brighton. He was one of the most widely known clergymen on Staten Island, and was beloved by all people.

Makes An Appeal For the Gregorian Chant in Church

(Continued from Page One) Music Part of the Mass "One of the Catholic traditions is that the music of the mass shall be a part of the mass, expressing the mystery of the service, and not a musical diversion to be listened to as a concert—while the mass is in progress," said Father Rostagno. "The Catholic Church is rooted in traditions that have existed throughout the centuries and the music of the church was unchanged from the fourth century to the present, with the exception of the organ, which was introduced into the church shortly after the death of Palestrina." Father Rostagno said the Gregorian and polyphonic chant were losing ground in some Catholic churches in America because the music is difficult to read and interpret and the great organists may be able to attain only mediocrity in a group of singers, while the greatest of conductors could never attain a reputation as an organist. "The average choirmaster in America is a musician who turns his mind toward religious music, but once a week. Rarely is he an ecclesiastical musician who appreciates that the music of the mass is a definite part of the mass—an expression of worship rather than an embellishment."

Editor's Note: In the Diocese of Rochester Bishop O'Hern took steps some time ago to have the mass music in all thoroughly in harmony with the spirit and traditions of the Church, and he appointed a committee to assist in this work in every possible way.
