Items of Interest from WHAM

The first precept of the Church to hear Mass on Sundays and Holy Days of obligation will be explained as one of the most important factors of Catholic life in the address which Rev. Charles F. Shay will deliver during the St. Patrick's Cathedral Hour over WHAM at 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon, November 16th. A religious discussion by Father Benedict Ehrmann and music by the Cathedral Male Octet complete the program.

"The Role of Conscience" is the subject which Rev. James M. Gillis, C.S.P., editor of the "Catholic Hour" will discuss during the Catholic Hour which will be broadcast through the NBC network, including WHAM, Buffalo, at 6 o'clock Sunday, November 16. The surrounding musical program will be provided by the Paulist chorists under the direction of Father Finn.

David Popper's "Requiem for Three Cell and Oboe," and a "Festive March" based on a popular Russian song, are sympathetic highlights of the Rochester Civic Orchestra's concert to be broadcast from WHAM during the Stromberg-Carlson Program at 10 o'clock Monday night. Listeners of 33 stations will hear the presentation, which includes also "Tilly in Our Alley," "The Overture of Mignon" and the "Scherzo from Schubert's 'Seventh Symphony'."

The second of the season's matinee concerts by the Rochester Philharmonic Orchestra will be broadcast over WHAM and an NBC network at 3:15 o'clock Friday afternoon, November 21st. The symphony is conducted by Eugene Goossens and will present Alexander Leventon as violin soloist.

The uses of two woodwind instruments, the flute and clarinet, will be demonstrated by the Rochester Civic Orchestra during its educational concert over WHAM at 2 o'clock and 3:15 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, November 18th.

"Animals in Music" will be the subject of the second half of the concert which Walter Damrosch and the National Orchestra will present over WHAM during the NBC Music Appreciation Hour at 11 o'clock Friday morning, November 21st. Many composers have written musical depictions of animals by either imitating the sounds made by the animal or by suggesting its characteristic movements.

Rochester Knights Plan Big Revival of Interest; Mammoth Smoker Nov. 17

"Happy Days Are Here Again," Says Announcement Sent Out Inviting All Present and Past Members to the Boxing Carnival.

Rochester Council, Knights of Columbus, rejoicing greatly over the recently announced re-financing of the Columbus Civic Center, is planning a big revival of interest, and is inaugurating this revival with a gigantic Smoker and Boxing Carnival, to be given in the Columbus Civic Center Auditorium next Monday evening, Nov. 17, beginning at 8 P. M. This event is free to all present and past members, and a cordial invitation is extended to each and every one to attend. The bill, it is announced, will be a bigger surprise than the recent election.

Entertainment galore is promised in the announcement sent out from K. of C. headquarters. There will be smokes, boxing, wrestling and vaudeville, every act classy, and every act worth while. "Everything Free," says the announcement. And that goes. There will be no solicitation of any kind, no charge of any kind, and no expense to any patron. The officers of the Council hope to fill the big auditorium to the doors Monday evening. The program will be in the nature of a celebration over the successful re-financing of the Columbus Civic Center, home of the Rochester Knights, and it is planned to make it an evening of great rejoicing.

1,840 Men at Church in One Day To Receive Five Cents Each From Franciscan Fathers in Charity

Unique Method of Distributing Alms to the Needy Emphasizes the Dire Need of Many People in New York City

New York, Nov. 13.—A total of 1,840 men received a five-cent check each Saturday from the Franciscan Fathers at the Roman Catholic Church of St. Francis of Assisi, 125 West Thirty-first Street. This marked the largest number of unemployed men in the line-up since the Franciscan Fathers began this method of distributing alms, twice daily, on September 30.

When the Fathers started this relief work, they placed a sign outside the church announcing that five-cent pieces would be given to the needy, no matter what their creed, at 10 A. M. and 3 P. M. daily. On the first day, 130 men sought these alms, and every day since then the line-up has been growing steadily.

Brother Gabriel, who has charge of the relief work, said the morning line usually started forming between 7 and 7 o'clock. Yesterday afternoon, the queue extended from the church door to Seventh Avenue and half way around the block to Thirtieth Street.

Priests Care For Wounded Bandits In Murder Zone

Shanghai, China, Nov. 14. A remarkable example of returning good for evil is found in the Vicariate of Ichang, Hupé, where priests are caring for wounded bandits, whose fellow-murderers were responsible for the death of Bishop Jans and his companions last year. At Nanchin station, Father Gentili, assisted by two neighboring missionaries, cares for 200 gravely wounded brigands. At Li-chuan Father Robert treats more than fifty a day in his dispensary. These acts of charity have caused the bandits to leave the priests in peace of late and no further depredations are reported in this territory of blood and suffering. The communists, however, are still in power, in many places, especially Li-chuan, which is continually occupied.

Chesterton Is Given a Degree By Notre Dame

Famous English Writer Is Made Doctor of Law— Tells of His First Impressions of the U. S.

Notre Dame, Nov. 14.—Gilbert Keith Chesterton, who has, for over a month, been the guest of the University of Notre Dame, and who has, during that time, been intimately acquainted with the life and spirit of the university, had the honorary degree of Doctor of Law conferred upon him Wednesday afternoon in Washington Hall. Chesterton, who has, during his long and varied career, accumulated a singularly distinctive number of achievements, received honours, and honours Notre Dame in being the recipient of the degree that was conferred upon him.

Many honorary degrees have been conferred by Notre Dame, but this is the first time in the history of the University that a special convocation of the Faculty has been called to participate in the conferring of a degree.

His life has been as interesting as his accomplishments are colorful. First an Anglican, later a Catholic, and now—ultimately—the greatest living exponent of Catholic thought in the English-speaking world, he is a man who might well be classed with Newman. As poet, critic, essayist, novelist, economist, and sociologist, he is exceedingly well known, but equally his efforts with the word Catholic and the sum of his achievements looms up all the more significant.

The Rev. Charles L. O'Donnell, C.S.C., conferred the degree, and spoke most appreciatively of Mr. Chesterton. Addressing the students, Father O'Donnell said:

Salads As Appetizers

By BETTY BARLAY
Although a salad is not usually looked upon as an appetizer it may quite easily be composed so that it will whet the appetite. Piquant and savory ingredients such as pickled cucumbers, cauliflower, and onions, added to the usual salad ingredients will make a salad that could quite properly be called an appetizer. Here are two suggestions:

Two Unusual Recipes

If you are always seeking unusual dishes that will both surprise and delight your guests, the two recipes below should prove valuable additions to your file:

Coffee Cocktail
4 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/3 cup seedless raisins
2 cups decaffeinated coffee infusion.
1/2 cup sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup cream, whipped
Add tapioca, salt, and raisins to coffee, and cook in double boiler 15 minutes, or until tapioca is clear, stirring frequently. Add sugar. Chill. Add vanilla; fold in cream. Serve in sherbet glasses. Serves 6.

Coffee Souffle
1 cup milk
1 tablespoon ground decaffeinated coffee
4 1/2 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca
Dash of salt
1/3 cup sugar
3 egg whites, stiffly beaten
3 egg yolks, beaten until thick and lemon-colored
Scald milk with coffee and strain immediately. Add tapioca and salt. 3 egg yolks, beaten until thick and oca is clear, stirring frequently. Add sugar. Cool. Add egg whites. Bake in greased, baking dish, placed in pan of hot water, in moderate oven (325 F.) 40 minutes. Serve with custard sauce. Serves 6.

Grecian Emeralds To Hold Minstrel Show Nov. 24-25

The Grecian Emeralds will hold a minstrel show in the Barnard School Hall, Dewey Avenue and the Stone Road, on Monday and Tuesday evenings, November 24th and 25th. The Emeralds have a fine company of entertainers, clever, well trained, and with a keen understanding of the dramatic value of their work. They have a classy show arranged for these two evenings, and plans are being made to care for capacity audiences both evenings.

Priest Elected To General Court In New Hampshire

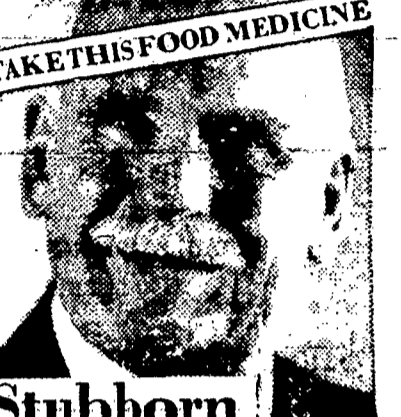

Hanks, N. H., Nov. 14.—Walter Hanks, who all counted in the village on election day, it was found that the Rev. M. J. Gilbert, pastor of Holy Rosary Church at Hooksett had been elected by a substantial majority as a representative to the General Court, despite his statement that he was not a candidate. His name was written in on the Democratic primary ticket at Father Hanks declines to accept office a special election will be necessary.

and story, in labor and in sacrifice, even though some of you be not of the Faith which is both the inspiration and the reward of his tireless and heroic endeavors.

Mr. Chesterton made a happy response. The only other honorary degree conferred upon him, he said, was at Edinburgh, Scotland, where, during the ceremony, he was lightly hit on the head with the cap of Calistote John Knox. He referred to his first visit to America 12 years ago, before he became a convert to the Church. He told of his terror in viewing this unfamiliar land, and of the unearthly strange mental impact he had received. But on his arrival here last month to make this, his second visit to the United States, he experienced an entirely different emotion—a sense and peace and tranquility. This change, he explained, as one coming from Notre Dame—Orr Lady. "Even if I were to visit the moon I would not feel alone if I were going to a place called Notre Dame," he said.
