New York, Nov. 28.— Last Friday afternoon the Rev. Dr. Aloysius J. Hogan, S.J., was formally inducted as president of Fordham University at a ceremony presided over by Cardinal Hayes. The exercises included a procession on the Fordham campus of more than 100 robed delegates of colleges, universities and scientific and educational associations, clergy—men and about 300 members of men and about 300 members of the University faculty and alumni. Father Hogan is 38 years old, and one of the youngest college presidents in this mitry. He succeeded the Rev. William J. Duane.

Education the Soul of Christ Cardinal Hayes spoke briefly before pronouncing a benediction. He fore pronouncing a benediction. Al Smith Starts A Big Woodpile for The Home Fires

New York, Nov 28 A free woodpile to keep the home fires burning for the city's idle was established here Monday in a va-cant lot on West Thirtieth Street, by Alfred E. Smith, who au-nounced that the pile will be replenished every day with six truckloads of wood from construc-tion work on the 86-story Empire State building.

Mr. Smith is President and general manager of the company that is building the Empire State Building, and the wood-pile is his own idea. It became popular immediately, and hundreds of persons without fuel are taking armsfull and cartloads of the wood home every day.
