Head of Church in China Praises Work of Missionaries

There followed a period of anarchy, characterized by the rise of military dictators. Finally the party known as the Kuomintang succeeded, at least in name, in unifying China by overthrowing a government at Nanking, which has been recognized by the United States. There is a feeling that this government, though it is not perfect, is a step toward the country that good administration, order and peace are generally longed for by the Chinese people. The Chinese people are good and friendly, and I believe they are the most peaceful people on earth. They are workers who are able to do their work, caring little for political affairs which they leave to the military. But the disorder caused by the revolution, the slavery, the miserable sufferings and outrages, produced by the continual wars, have prepared the field for the spread of Communism and the spread of atheism. But we must not lose sight of the fact that the Chinese people are still in the dark. It is our duty to bring the light of the Gospel to them. We must be patient and persistent in our work. We must be practical in all of our work, and we must be bold in our preaching. We must be patient and persistent in our work. We must be practical in all of our work, and we must be bold in our preaching. We must be patient and persistent in our work. We must be practical in all of our work, and we must be bold in our preaching.

Seminary And Hospital to Get Two Millions

Jersey City, Jan. 30.—An estate of more than $2,000,000 will eventually be devoted to religious purposes, it was revealed Monday, when the will of Mrs. Anna Cassidy was filed in the office of Surrogate John H. Gavin in Jersey City. Mrs. Cassidy, who died January 15th, was the widow of Charles P. Cassidy, who made a fortune in the hay and grain business.

Mrs. Cassidy left $5,000 each to the Rev. William F. Lawler of Newark, and the Rev. Charles F. Shaw of Newark, both Catholic priests. The will contained a request that the beneficiaries offer masses for Mrs. Cassidy and her husband. A request of $25,000 was left to the Confraternity of the Holy Land, a Roman Catholic organization, as a fund for the maintenance of the holy places.

The residuary estate is left to the income to be made a for-legacy to the Sisters of the Holy Family, N. J., during her lifetime. The principal is to be divided between St. Francis Hospital in Jersey City and St. Joseph's Seminary at Callicoon, N. Y. The Confraternity is to be used for the education of young priests of the Franciscan Order.

Councils All Over America Are Co-Operating in Getting Jobs For Idle Men and Women—Some Practical Charity Work.

New Haven, Conn., Jan. 30.—Reports received at the national headquarters of the Knights of Columbus here indicate that excellent results are being obtained all over America by the various Councils of the Order in finding jobs for unemployed men and women. Some practical charitable work is being done by many of the councils, and the Knights are putting heart and soul into the great work they have undertaken for the jobless. No lines are drawn in their work. Creed, race or color makes no difference—every worthy person is being helped wherever and whenever it is possible to help them.

Where Work Is Done Among the highlights of the past week is a report from San Francisco, stating that San Francisco Chapter is now placing jobless men at the rate of 60 a month.

In Bellefontaine, Ohio, a meeting to consider the unemployment situation was held and as a result of that meeting, the Knights voted to finance their own employment work and to hire a permanent secretary, himself a previously unemployed man.

On the first day, the secretary registered 103 idle men and women. The following week the number was 125. Council No. 1362 at Delphos, Ohio, has recently opened an employment bureau, Council No. 189, in Utica, New York, has secured ten jobs during the past week and Council No. 285 in Pittsburgh has found eleven jobs.

In Ossining, New York, Council No. 311 staged a play which netted $300 for its employment work and the Knights of Columbus in Cincinnati are planning a circus to raise money with which to open an employment bureau.

Councils which report ten or more jobs secured during the past week are as follows: Bellefontaine, O. 84; Bridgeport, Conn. 10; New York City 25; Watervliet, N. Y. 10; Battle Creek, Mich. 16; Sharpsburg, Pa. 10; Cambridge, Mass. 10; Tonawanda, N. Y. 20; New York City 20; Indianapolis, Ind. 10; Waterloo, N. Y. 12; Jacksonville, Fla. 12; San Mateo, Calif. 10; W. Quincy, Mass. 10; Niagara Falls, N. Y. 10; Sacramento, Calif. 20.

Practical Charity Father Perez Council in Chicago has undertaken the job of supplying the families of 28 needy members with food and clothing until April. The cost will exceed $300 a month and every cent donated or otherwise provided will be used. Members of

"Let Us Live Right"

Oh, let us live while we are here, On every-day throughout the year As if that day would be our last. For life, at best, will soon be past. The flight of time no man can stay. Day follows night, night follows day. The clock hands move around the dial; Time swiftly passes all the while. The sun comes up, the sun goes down. Out in the country and in town, And soon for us the day will dawn. When from this earth we will be gone. And when that day of days is here, We will no reason have to fear. If, on each day, we do our best, For death will bring eternal rest. So let us spend our lives in prayer, For when God calls us over there, We'll be happy to be with Him for aye. Out in His bright eternal day. —John A. Twamley
