The beginning of the society was made in Almonte, Ottawa diocese. In 1919 Father Fraser founded a paper called "China." His work attracted the attention of Archbishop McNeil, and he was invited to locate in the Toronto archdiocese. In 1924 Father Fraser created the China Mission Seminary at Scarborough Bluffs, Ontario, near St. Augustine's Seminary. He went to Rome in 1925 to secure a field for his missionary priests and was assigned Chu-chou in the Chekiang Province. He returned to China with two priests that year, and because of his knowledge of Chinese customs, language and

Reconstructing the Social Order
(Forty-fourth of a weekly series of articles on Pope Pius' Encyclical, "Forty Years After," by the Department of Social Action, National Catholic Welfare Conference)

Pope Pius XI in his Encyclical "Forty Years After" reconstructs the Social Order" associates Catholics who give the Church a bad name by refusing to live up to its teachings on labor, and blames them for "calumnies and contumelies" the Church has suffered.

"Such men," he says, "are the cause that the Church, without deserving it, may have the appearance of being accused of taking sides with the wealthy and of being little moved by the needs and sufferings of the disinherited."

The passage follows immediately upon the section where an account is given of the many in Europe who were formerly, or even now are Catholics, and who have joined organizations socialist in theory or in reality. In excuse many of them at first: "The Church and those professing attachment to the Church favor justice and neglect workmen and have no care for them."

The Pope admits the charge in the case of some Catholics and denies it in the case of the Church.

Some Catholics "are well high unimpaired of that sublime law of justice and charity which binds us not only to give each man his due, but to honor our brethren as Christ Our Lord Himself." He goes on: "Worse still there are those who of greater gain do not seem to oppress the workman."

The Lumber Jack

I want the Penny depot.
I'm tired as tired could be.
Your looks' bold the part,
I'm a Lumber Jack side lie.

I'm the commonest man,
From your hum-drum town,
Human hives shut out the blue,
The sun beats sidewalk down.

I hate your boasted revelry,
I'd rather the Gray Wolf's howl,
From out the Arctic wastes,
Silence wings the snowy owl.

I'm on to the Horzlock's green,
And the resin perfume air,
There the great North Woods,
Love's wild heart lays bare.

—Michael Wolfe O'Shanian.

Pilgrims Will Go To Lisieux In July, 1923

Lisieux, Sept. 15.—Consecration of the Basilica of Peace in the Church of Sainte-Therese de Lisieux, France, is to take place July 2, 1923, after the close of the Eucharistic Congress to be held in Dublin. The pilgrimage to Lisieux, which the Knights of Columbus in the United States are organizing, will come to Lisieux after the conclusion of the meeting in the Irish capital.

Another American pilgrimage to Lisieux for next year's consecration is being organized by the Rev. John Dolan, pastor of the National Shrine of St. Therese in Chicago. This pilgrimage will be under the auspices of the American Society of the Little Flower.

Cardinal Dougherty, Philadelphia, is a member of the International committee sponsoring the Basilica of Peace. One of the side chapels in this basilica is the gift of Leopold Huffer, New York philanthropist, who died recently.

On a City Street

Often, when on a city street,
I watch the folk go by,
And some there are with smiling face,
And some with tearful eye.

I also wonder, as they pass,
As to where they all go,
These members of the endless throng
That pass to and fro.

Some of them may be churchward bound,
To spend a while in prayer,
While others may fall into sin
Along the street somewhere.

And some are young, and some are old,
And some are fair and sweet,
While other ones are ugly, quite,
Who pass along the street.

And ever, as I'm standing there,
I hope that sometime I,
Will stand on heaven's holy street,
While these same folk pass by.

A Good Tip

In a recent interview Bobby Jones—the great golf champion—said, "In order to play a good game of golf the player's mind must be free of worries—he must concentrate on golf."

Bobby is right—a man's or woman's mind must be free of worry in order to do his (or her) best at any play.

Regular savings will lessen your worries—and perhaps improve your golf game.

Give Us Back Wines and Beer Says N.J. AGH

Atlantic City, Sept. 15.—The National Association of Grocers has issued a statement in which it says that it is opposed to the proposed State law which would prohibit the sale of wine and beer in the State after the close of the Eucharistic Congress to be held in Dublin. The statement says that the proposed law would be a "disastrous blow" to the wine and beer industry in the State.
