

Tiny Muffs Attached to New Fur Scarfs

A fur scarf with little, tiny muffs attached permanently to one of its long ends is something new on the horizon. The idea is good for chilly weather, for there is no danger of leaving the muffs about on counters or benches when the momentary need for it has departed.

shall serve Him. No monopoly held. One nation, one locality or one tribe no longer hold a monopoly upon the sacrificial rite, but the Levites spoken of by Malachias are as numerous as the grains of sand on the shore. Even from the pagan nations will arise promulgators of the new ordinance, for justice the prophet writes: "And I will take of them to be priests and Levites, saith the Lord."

Sheridan's drama, "A School for Scandal," will be the Radio Guild offering over the NBC-WHAM chain Friday afternoon, December 11, at 4:15.

Old Jewish Burial Customs

The ancient Jewish custom buried their dead by placing the corpse either in the earth or in caves hewn out of the rock. Sometimes the sepulcher was dug in the ground in the neighborhood of the family dwelling.

Ancient Water Organ

One of the strongest musical instruments, and which, by the way, plays an important part in the history of music, is the ancient water organ or hydraulic. The water organ was the musical instrument of ancient Alexandria and Rome. One of these old organs was discovered in making excavations for a new electric plant in the suburbs of Budapest, Hungary. Despite the fact that it had been buried for centuries it was in a good state of preservation.

An Amazing Change

Two years ago by and Da Vinci still sought a character who would represent Judas Iscariot. Suddenly as he was passing through the slums of the city looking for the profigate, dishevelled, rough character of his mind's eye, he saw a drooping man, most despicable to behold and it was Judas Iscariot. Calling him, he issued the invitation. The man looked at Da Vinci with that far off, dissipated look in his eyes and, then spoke: "Two years ago, sir, you invited me to be the subject of your picture, the Christ; today you ask the same individual to pose as Judas Iscariot."

Items of Interest from WHAM

The chalice and its accessories will be the subject of Father Charles F. Shay's talk during the St. Patrick's Cathedral Hour over WHAM at 1:00 o'clock Sunday afternoon, December 6.

To pose the teachings of our holy faith into practice, it is not enough to convince ourselves that it is true; we must love it. Love united to faith makes us practice our religion.

NERVE TREATMENT WINS WORLD FAME

Over for many years ago a group of eminent physicians in Germany discovered a formula for the treatment of nervousness. It was their original intention only to use the prescription in their own hospital which specified 12 nervous ailments; but the reputation of the medicine spread so rapidly that a laboratory was opened to supply the public demand.
