Splendid Play For Holidays At Auditorium

Beginning Christmas night, the Auditorium Theater is presenting as a special holiday attraction...

Performances will continue through all next week with a special matinee on New Year's Day.

The regular matinee also will be given on Saturday, Dec. 26, Wednesday, Dec. 30, and Saturday, Jan. 3.

There will be no increase in the new regular scale of prices—50 cents and 75 cents evenings, 25 cents and 50 cents for Saturday matinee, and 25 cents for Wednesday matinee.

Reproduction was in the hearts of George S. Kaufman and Moss Hart, authors of "Once in a Lifetime."

They were anxious because their play points a merciless finger of fun at several of the mighty in the limelight.

But stars and near-stars, producers and directors, flocked to see "Once in a Lifetime" in Los Angeles, and if they found certain individuals and incidents of moviegoing richly caricatured, they only laughed with the keener appreciation.

The hilarious hero of "Once in a Lifetime" is George Lewis, a big-mouthed youth of the breed known in vaudeville as a "dead pan feeder."

His duty in a vaudeville act is to "feed" to his companion-performers certain provocative lines for their quips while he preserves an uncomprehending countenance.

George was born a natural "dead pan feeder"—which smart Jerry Hyland recognized when he lifted him out of an usher's job in Medallion, Pa., to put him in a gag-and-dance trio.

Third member of the act is May Daniels, an inclusive and good-looking young lady who knows what she wants.
