Can we play with fire and escape the penalty of getting burned? Can we touch pitch and not be defiled? No, you say. How then can we connecton of the child's soul, expose our children to the evil influences of the printed matter spread over the columns of some of the daily papers and magazines of our time?

There is no substitute for the Catholic press of this day and age. The doctrine of the Church is defined clearly and condensely; important facts on every day basis are considered relatively important; and if your tastes turn to religion, we have it in full clear measure.
