Rochester Missionary in China Now Safe from Attack by Reds

Arrival of a large Cantonese army has allayed for a time the danger of raids by the Reds on the Catholic Mission, Tsiaoliang Shaolok, China, presided over by Rev. Charles P. Hilbert, M.M., formerly of this city. Father Hilbert wrote recently in a letter to the Catholic Students Mission Crusade Unit of Aquinas Institute.

The uncertainty of threatening forces has not dampened Father Hilbert's ardor and he is carrying on his work among the Chinese people with vigor. In his letter he states:

"Aquinas C. S. M. Unit,
"Aquinas Institute,
Rochester, N. Y.

"Dear Friends:

"Quite a large part of the new year has already passed and many things have come to pass since its inception. I know that you will be interested to hear a few of them.

"When I wrote you last I told you that I was contemplating the repairing and enlarging of my chapel. I began the work last fall and now the first and main part is already nearing completion. It looks very nice. How happy I am to have so nice a place for our Divine Lord. The old chapel, which was constructed of mud brick, after sixty years of rains and storms, had ceased to be a decent place for God's House. I am very grateful to all of you as it was with your help that I was able to do what I have done.

"During the month of January we had a parish mission. I invited a Chinese priest from a neighboring vicariate to come here and preach it. He is an eloquent speaker and the mission was a great success. The Chapel was crowded three times a day to hear him. Among the listeners were many pagans. During the retreat four or five hundred Catholics went to Holy Communion daily. Many lukewarm members of the flock were brought back to their pristine fervor. At the end of the mission the Catholics took up a collection among themselves and gave the Chinese priest a hundred dollars. A fine evidence of their appreciation.

"Despite the troubled times in China we are having our usual number of conversions. I especially rejoice in having among my present Catechumens some of the higher and more educated class, namely, one university graduate who is at present assistant principal of a college, two elementary school professors and a merchant. May God grant that we will get many more like them as such conversions make a great impression in the surrounding districts.

"For the past two months we have been threatened with the invasion of large Communist armies. The latter overran all the southern part of Fokien Province and came to with a day's march of us. We were all ready to pack and flee to the mountains. Last week, however, there came to there parts a large Cantonese army to destroy the Reds so now for the present we are safe. Say some prayers, won't you, that we shall be spared the calamity of the Communists ravaging our missions. We place our hope in God.

"Our schools are running along in fine style. We have about two hundred Catholic pupils enrolled. They are our hope for the future.

"I am enclosing a few snaps taken around this section. They will give you an idea of our beautiful scenery, etc.

"By the time this letter reaches you, you will be preparing for examinations. I assure you that I shall remember you at the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass that you may all pass with high marks.

"Give my best regards to your teachers. May God bless you.

"Devotedly in Christ,
"(Signed) Charles P. Hilbert, M.M."

Warden's Opinion Career of Crime Is Not Profitable

Head of Auburn State Prison Tells Audience of Boys and Girls That Criminals Die Paupers among Strangers

"The way of the transgressor is hard."

"No matter how hard you try, you cannot beat the law."

"Crime does not pay."

Thus did Warden Joseph H. Brophy of Auburn State Prison sum up his lecture on the subject "Does Crime Pay?" at Columbus Civic Center on last Friday evening. The lecture was sponsored by Rochester Council, Knights of Columbus. School children and their parents attended.

From an experience of forty years in the police business Warden Brophy presented fact after fact to discredit the so-called master criminals and to reveal that with all of their reputed gain, they die paupers. He said that 95% of the criminals die among strangers and are buried in a pauper's grave. This has been demonstrated to Mr. Brophy very clearly during his administration of Auburn prison.

"If ever you are tempted to commit a mean or contemptible act, one that will put you within the reaches of the law," Warden Brophy told the children present, "Think of your mother and what it will do to her to have you in disgrace. Never cause her head to bow in shame. If your mother has passed on, honor her memory by leading an upright, clean life so that when you meet again you can look into her eyes, with pride and conviction that you have fulfilled her dream for your success in life."

Warden Brophy reviewed the careers of the exploited criminals from the days of the Jesse James Gang down to the present. He revealed the sordid careers of those people who had broken the laws and recounted their unhappy endings. He scored the sensational newspaper for putting a false halo around the heads of men like Gerald Chapman, "Dutch" Anderson, "Legs" Diamond and other over-publicized criminals.

On the other hand Warden Brophy spoke of the love and devotion for their mothers shown by such eminent men as David Jayne Hill and Job B. Hedges who despite the heavy demands on their time always found time to devote to their mothers.

Warden Brophy was introduced by Police Chief Andrew J. Kavanaugh. The meeting was presided over by Lecturer George J. Law. Guests who sat on the stage were: Deputy Grand Knight, Dr. Walter B. O'Neill; Sheriff, William C. Stallknecht, and Deputy Commissioner of Public Safety Curtis Barker.

A program of entertainment presented by Lecturer Law was given by children including "Daddy Sunshine's "Little Girls' Band, and several dancers and singers.

Parochial League Gets Start With St. Monica Win

The opening gun for the race for honors in the Catholic Parochial Grammar School baseball league was heard on Wednesday afternoon of last week at Genesee Valley Park when the St. Monica team, winners of last year's pennants, opposed the St. Boniface school team and defeated the latter by a score of 16 to 11.

About three hundred adults and children were on hand to cheer their favorites. The game was no walkaway for the winners, the St. Boniface team maintaining the lead until the last and fatal inning for them. With the line-up of last year practically intact, St. Monica's team was pushed to the limit to win.

The battery for the St. Monica team consisted of Whitehair, pitcher, and Berardi, catcher. St. Boniface had Rice serving them and Bittner and Gallagher on the receiving end.

All the color of an opening game was lent to the Parochial League opener. President, Rev. George Vogt and other league officials were on hand. St. Monica's School Band played several selections before the game.

The St. Monica-St. Boniface game was played at the same time as the Holy Apostles and Sacred Heart game, all four teams being in the Western Division of the League. The Sacred Heart team failed to show its strength of last year in its defeat at the hands of a hard-hitting Holy Apostles outfit to the tune of 10 to 4.

The Eastern Division opened up in full force on Friday of last week with four games scheduled as follows:

O. L. P. H. vs. St. Margaret's.
St. John's vs. St. Stanislaus.
St. Charles vs. St. Andrew's.
Corpus Christi vs. St. Ambrose.

The Western Division's schedule was completed on Friday with games between SS. Peter and Paul's and St. Augustine's; Cathedral and Holy Rosary.

Rain on Friday interfered with the schedule in both divisions. The Eastern Division played none of its scheduled games. In the Western Division Cathedral lost a close game to Holy Rosary. The score at the end of the fifth inning, when the game was ended because of rain, stood 8 to 7 in favor of Holy Rosary. St. Peter's held a safe margin of ten runs over St. Augustine's at the end of the fourth inning when the game was called because of rain.

The schedules for Friday, May 13th, are as follows:

Eastern Division

St. Stanislaus vs. Corpus Christi at Seneca Park.
O. L. P. H. vs. St. Ambrose at St. Andrew's Field.
St. Margaret's vs. St. John's at St. John's.
St. Charles vs. Holy Redeemer at St. Charles.

Western Division

St. Boniface vs. St. Peter's at Genesee Valley Park.
St. Augustine's vs. Cathedral at Genesee Valley Park.
St. Monica's vs. Holy Rosary at Edgerton Park.
Holy Apostles vs. Immaculate at Genesee Valley Park.

Aquinas Bands Heard in Annual Concert Monday

The annual demonstration of work done in the department of instrumental music at Aquinas Institute took place Monday evening in the school auditorium before a large audience of relatives and friends of the boys in the Aquinas orchestra, senior and junior bands. The school director of music is John W. Cummings.

Four difficult numbers were presented by the orchestra which was being heard in its fourth annual recital. This section of the program opened with Isemann's "Goddess of Liberty" and closed with a musical comedy selection from the "Student Prince" in the "Country Dance" by Hadley and "Schubert's Serenade," the orchestra did exceedingly well. In the latter, Chester Vogt was heard on the trumpet and Frank Doherty on the trombone.

Appearing for the first time, the Junior Band under the baton of Louis Menard and consisting, with the exception of three upper classmen, of all freshmen, was heard in four numbers, all of which were done creditably.

The third annual recital of the Senior Band was considered the best that has yet been done. For this part of the program the following numbers were played: Bendix "Sounds from Ireland," Hayes "Southern Melodies," Safranek's "Don Quixote Suite" and Victor Herbert's Musical Comedy Gems.

A saxophone ensemble conducted by Frank Doherty was a feature of the concert.

Character Building Agency Heads Visit, Inspect St. Joseph's Asylum

The fourth meeting of the Institute Committee of Character Building Agencies of the city was held Wednesday afternoon of last week at St. Joseph's Orphan Asylum on Andrews Street. Heads of the various character building institutions in Rochester and members of their staffs attended and expressed much admiration with the capable manner in which St. Joseph's Orphan Asylum is being conducted.

A dinner served in the main dining room of the Asylum started the afternoon's program. A tasty meal served by the Girl Scout Troop of the Asylum was followed by an informal meeting which was opened by Jacob S Hollender, superintendent of the Jewish Children's Home. Representing St. Joseph's Asylum in the absence of Rev. Louis J. Voffmer, C.S.S. R., rector of St Joseph's Church, who was at another important meeting, was William J Hauser, a member of the Board of Trustees.

Mr. Hauser welcomed the guests to the Asylum on behalf of the Sisters of Notre Dame who conduct the institution. He paid a glowing tribute to the excellent manner in which the asylum had been managed for over seventy years and commented upon the successful work done by the Sisters in a building so old and lacking in some respects the modern equipment of institutions of the kind.

Speaking of the children who had passed through the Asylum, Mr. Hauser recalled that many now occupied places of importance in the business and professional life of the city. Many of the boys have entered the priesthood, he said, and girls in great numbers have joined the Sisterhood of Notre Dame during the many years of the Asylum's existence. He invited all present to inspect the building and to see what is being accomplished in what he believed is one of the oldest institutions of its kind in the city.

Among others present at the dinner were: Rev John M Duffy, superintendent of Catholic schools; Occie Kuolt, secretary of the Council of Social Agencies, Monroe Smith, chairman of the Institute Committee; Rev. Francis X. Kelly, C.SS.R., Rev. Edward Crotty, C.SS.R., Sisters of Notre Dame in charge of St. Joseph's Asylum, Sisters of St. Joseph in charge of St. Mary's Boys Asylum and St. Patrick's Girls' Asylum and members of the Board of Trustees of St. Joseph's Asylum.

After a tour of inspection of the institution, the party went to the C. Y. M. A. gymnasium where a demonstration was given of activities entered into in training children in outdoor life.

A hiking and cooking demonstration was given by Harold Spaulding and Fred Raetz, scoutmasters, Boy Scouts of America. With full equipment, these two scout leaders showed what is being taught to the boy and girl scouts to enable them to take care of themselves when in the open.

A first aid demonstration was given by Herman G. Kantor, certified American Red Cross Examiner. Resusciation after being in the water and following fainting spells, as well as tendering first aid in accidents was ably shown by Mr. Kantor.

Sisters of Notre Dame who teach were present for the program and were particularly interested in a lecture by Miss Caroline Wells, director of Dramatics, Y W C A., who showed how various dramatic entertainments may be staged with little expense to keep the young girls in camp entertained.

These gatherings are proving to be an excellent medium of exchange of ideas for those in charge of the character building agencies of the city (previous meetings were held at Hillside Home, St Mary's Boys' Asylum, and Jewish Children's Home. It was decided to have an outing at the Girl Scout Camp at Sodus Bay in June for all who have been attending these meetings.
