Purchase Malt Products Before Taxing Starts

The public today gains immensely by patronizing a reliable, established firm. No profit is gained in visiting a firm operating on a "shoestring" without vision of the future, scarcely capable of taking care of the present. The Exchange Malt Products Company, 207-209 Exchange Street, is firmly established in Rochester. They conduct a wholesale and retail business and carry in stock every conceivable kind of apparatus and material necessary to making any kind of home beverage.

Rebuild Your Chairs Better Than Antiques

Rebuild those old chairs and have richer furnishings for your home. The antique hunter would perhaps make a real find if he looked through your attic. There usually go all the old chairs—just as soon as they break down, the upholstering becomes torn or worn out. Climb up into the old store room and look them over. Then, send them to Meagher's Upholstering, 40 Lake Avenue. They will rebuild those chairs. They will be modern as far as utility goes. They will be antiques as the world is accepted. They will be rich additions to your home surroundings.

STRANGE BUT TRUE Catholic Facts But Little Known

By M. J. MURRAY

Illustrated article about the Bridal Veil tradition, St. Nicholas of Myra, and the patron saint of lawyers. Includes text: 'The Bridal Veil is traditionally derived from the veil which in ancient Rome distinguished newly-married women from the unmarried' and 'St. Nicholas of Myra, whose relics are venerated at Bari, Italy, has become identified with the popular Santa Claus in several countries, but he is also the patron of mariners, merchants, bakers, etc.'

"The Patron Saint of Lawyers" Is Discussed in Legal Journal

(C. V. Service) The cult and veneration of the patron of lawyers has been discussed in the June issue of the 'Legal Journal'. The article discusses the historical background of St. Nicholas of Myra, who is considered the patron saint of lawyers. It mentions that St. Nicholas was a bishop in Myra, Lycia, in the fourth century, and was known for his generosity and his habit of secretly giving gold to the poor.

Spiritual Thoughts

There are no disappointments to those who are buried in the will of God. (Father Faber). O child hast thou fallen? Arise and go with childlike trust to thy Father, like the prodigal son, and humbly say with heart and mouth, "Father I have sinned against heaven and before Thee, and I am no more worthy to be called thy son; make me as one of the hired servants." And what will thy heavenly Father do but what the father did in the parable? Assuredly He will not change His essence, which is love, because of our misdeeds. Is it not His own precious treasure? And it is not a small thing with Him to forgive you your trespasses, if you believe in Him? For His hand is not shortened that it cannot make you fit to be saved. (John Tauler).

PROPAGATION OF THE FAITH SOCIETY HOME AND FOREIGN MISSIONS

Diocese of Rochester, N. Y. Rev. Leo C. Mooney, Director Columbus Civic Center, 50 Chestnut Street Stone 1492 This copy is edited by the Diocesan Office in connection with National Office. Inquiries concerning missions welcomed.

Home Missions Ever since 1846, the Brothers of the Sacred Heart have labored and struggled for God and Country in Alabama, Mississippi and Louisiana. In spite of the trials of the Civil War, in spite of the low fever epidemics which time and again decimated their ranks, in spite of the financial straits which time and again played havoc on their institutions, indeed they are ready to continue their labors in this field of predilection. But they need a material assistance. An unavoidable debt now weighing heavily upon the Brothers, little less than $100,000, has accumulated since they were first organized. Their little savings of $100,000 are barely sufficient to meet the interest on the debt. This situation is very distressing indeed. It imperils several of their institutions. In our sad plight, we appeal to our charitable friends to extend to us a helping hand. Their generous assistance will be a powerful incentive for our Brothers to do still more for the good of the Church in the South. Please do help us in this our hour of need. The Brothers of the Sacred Heart will receive your donation most safely if you will mention their name and send your letter to the Propagation of the Faith, Rev. Leo C. Mooney, 50 Chestnut St., Rochester, N. Y.

Colored News Appeal Dear Friends It has been said that the first hundred years are the hardest. It is the second hundred which gives us worry. A year ago we celebrated the two hundredth anniversary of the founding of our Community. Forty years before Lincoln freed the slaves it was our privilege to be the first community of colored nuns in the United States. While the survival of a colored sisterhood during the terrible days of the Civil War is a mark of divine approval and steadfast devotion, humanity's speaking it is no sweet thing to recall the weighty crosses we have had to bear during our first one hundred years. One hundred years is a long time to struggle alone without a cry for help; one hundred years of waiting, working, praying, and hoping for the dawn of a better day. And now at the very beginning of our second hundred years we find it necessary to send out our first appeal for aid. Perhaps you are weary of appeals to your charity; yet you must concede that a hand which stretches out but once in a hundred years is not a wearisome thing. There are 12,000,000 Negroes in this country of ours; 12,000,000 souls for which the Blood of Christ was spilled upon the Hill of Calvary. Six million of these souls have never even been baptized; and sadder still, only 294,000 belong to the Holy Church. What means this endless flood of souls arriving who know whence, departing who know whither? Shall it be said of them that Christ has died in vain? Our Sisters labor in the United States and Cuba for the conversion of the heathen. They are in the mountains, must send Sisters—daughters of their own flesh and blood—to these millions of Negroes who cry to us for help. But our present house of training is woefully inadequate to our needs; repairs will be a waste of money, our Sisters, with diminished less congested quarters and their proper training necessitates more modern equipment. Personally, we are more than willing to bear the hardships of our missionary life, but we must not let the missions suffer. They must be sent out efficient and healthy Sisters if we are to remain true to our vocation. We appeal to you—our first appeal in a hundred years—to help us build and so to meet the crowding demands of the 12,000,000 members of our race who look to us for help and inspiration in their quest for God. All too well we know that time is hard; but the harder it is to give a mite the sweeter will be the reward. We come to you in the name of Christ and for the colored children of God. Assuring you of a fervent remembrance in our prayers and good works, and asking you at least to pray for us and the millions of our colored people, I am Gratefully yours in Christ Jesus, Mother M. Consuela, O.S.F. (Mother Consuela is the superior of the Oblate Sisters of Providence, Chase and Forrest Streets, Baltimore Md. These good Sisters will receive your donation most safely if you will mention their name and send your letter to the Diocesan Office of the Society for the Propagation of the Faith, 50 Chestnut St.)

Where to Invest? This is a real problem these days, although it is senseless to lose faith in all banks. Stock-toss or broken jars make unsafe receptacles for money. Why not invest in a way that is absolutely safe and profitable, from both the material and spiritual view-point? Conditional Gifts to the Society for the Propagation of the Faith pay the donors interest at from four to six per cent, as long as they live and make them partners in the labors and merits of the missionaries. A SAFE INVESTMENT FOR LIFE AND FOR ETERNITY Society for the Propagation of the Faith Inquiries cheerfully answered by REV. LEO C. MOONEY, Diocesan Director COLUMBUS CIVIC CENTER 50 Chestnut Street Stone 1492
