Catholic Alumni Meet to Discuss Social Justice

Remedies Presented In Papal Encyclycals for Present Economic Ills Treated at Conference In Catholic University

Washington - A conference alumni representing nearly a score of colleges and universities, taking as its subject "Social Justice in the Present Economic Crisis" was held at the Catholic University of America here, on Sunday, November 27, as one of a series of four regional meet ings conducted by the National Cath-olic Alumni Federation in different parts of the United States.

The conference discussed the present economic crists in the United States in the light of the principles of Social Justice expressed in the encyclicals "Rerum Novarum" of Leo YIII and "Quadregesimo Anno" of l'ius XI The object of the conference is to bring together for thought and discussion the alumni and their guests, who conscious of the danger in the present widespread economic unrest seek "in all sincerity a remedy against the lamentable disorder al ready existing in society and a firm barrier against worse dangers to (Quadragesimo Anno) Seek Practical Methods

The meeting opened with an out line of the purposes of the confer a brief resume of the high points of the encyclicals, the high points of the present economic crisis and a presentation of the problems to be considered by the members of the conference by John A. Ball of the Economics Department of the Catholic University. This was followed by a round table discussion on the practical applications of the Encyclicals to our problems today which was opened by the Rev Dr John A. Ryan. Professor of Moral Theology at the Catholic University. The rights and duties of the laboring man were pre-sented by Edward Heffron of the N

Forsees Strife For Christians With Paganism

Catholics Told They Must Enter More Fully Into Public Affairs By British King's Counsel In Birmingham

London,—"Make no mistake shout," Sir Reginald Mitchell Banks told Birmingham Town Hall, "before long we shall have to do battle again with paganism It may be sooner than we suppose. We shall have to fight for Christianity and for that civiliza-tion which is based on the foundation of the Christian faith and Christian

The Archbishop of Birmingham. the Most Rev. Thomas Williams, presided at the meeting, which was hold in celebration of the Feast of Christ the King. Clergy and prominent laity rowded the spacious platform.
Isolation Not Justified

The coming contest, said Sir Reg-inald Mitchell Banks, who is a King's Counsel and a Member of Parliament, will not be, as in the days of Elizabeth, between Protestants and Catholics. It will be between all genuine Phristians on the one hand and the Catholic Writers forces of Antichrist on the other.

He said Catholics today have not the justification that their fathers had for segregating and isolating themselves. The days of the penal laws and Catholic disabilities were over, and if the faith of their young men was not robust enough to strive in the open air, outside a religious not-house it was scarcely worth calling faith at all.

The idea of collecting fruits and vegetables from rural parishioners was suggested by Bishop Gallagher two weeks ago. He mailed to each rural parish a blank form to be filled out and sent to the Vincentians' headquarters at 611 McDougall Avenue. Word has heen received at the Chancery Office from the Apostolic Delegate in Washington that a certain self-styled "Magr. Dr. C. Ridder Verheijen v. Estvelt" has put in an appearance in different parts of the country, representing himself as the Bishop-elect of the Diocese of Pelotas in Brazil and alleging that he was not allowed by the government there to take possession of that see because he was a foreigner,

According to the warning received, this gentleman visited at the University of Ottawa, in the diocese of Vancouver and in various dioeses in the state of Minnesota Everywhere, it is reported, he created curpicions as in his real status.

information received by the Apostolic Delegate is to the effect that the gentleman in question is the Rev. O. Verheljen, sometime a priest of the discuse of Ogdensburg. He is reported to have left Ogdensburg in 1921 and was duly incardinated in the dicesse of Caetife in Brazil. After a while he was reported to have left the tatter diocese and to have begun his travels with certain alleged testimonial letters which the warning states do not deserve to be honored.
