Babe Herman, who is outfielding for the Cubs this season, has been the subject of many an amusing baseball yarn and nearly all of them are both humorous and true. Here's the latest one to break.

When Max Carey went to Brooklyn to be Wilbert Robinson's first lieutenant he tried to teach the Dodgers—Herman included—some inside baseball. It was difficult, for the team, it seems, didn't even have a hit and run sign.

Carey worked hard on Herman who, it is said, believes a head is something to wear a hat on and that's all. Some of Max's stuff did sink in, however, if only to be forgotten.

The Pirates were in Brooklyn one hot afternoon. With Paul Waner at bat, Herman astounded Carey by moving in close to the infield. Max waived him back. Frantic as were Carey's gestures, Babe paid no attention. He's right in behind the second baseman.

Waner hit a terrific line drive to right field. If Herman had played his position correctly it would have been a single. All Babe had to do however was stick up his glove to snare the drive. Self defense forced him to catch it. It would have killed him if he hadn't.

Carey is on top of the dugout steps waiting to tell Babe what a dumb—but lucky—duck he is, but tumbled down onto the bench when Herman dashed in and exclaimed joyfully: "Max, that inside stuff is beginning to work out, isn't it?"

"The pitchers are ahead of the hitters." Have you ever wondered about the origin of that well known statement of fact—s. o. f. if, and when, the pitchers are—and how the phrase came to gain such wide quotation? Here's the low-down.

It seems that Colonel Jake Ruppert knew much about beer but little about baseball when he purchased the Yankees. At training camp his first year Ruppert was disappointed that the Yank sluggers weren't knocking down any fences. He voiced his complaint to little Miller Huggins. "Hug" said, "It's nothing unusual this early, Colonel. The pitchers are simply ahead of the hitters."

That evening a friend said to Jake, "I saw your team at practice today. They seem weak at the plate." The Colonel puffed a dollar cheroot and replied sophistically, "It's nothing unusual this early. Our hitters are simply behind the pitchers."

It took a broken wrist to prove to a big league umpire that he was wrong. Bill Terry, manager-first baseman for the New York Giants, was recently hit by a pitched ball. Umpire Ernie Quigley refused Bill his base, claiming Terry had not been struck by the sphere. His wrist pained him so much that Terry had it X-rayed. The picture showed a fracture.

A similar case happened in the American League several years ago. "Silk" O'Loughlin, one of Rochester's many contributions to mask and indicator to big league ball, thought Addie Joss, of Cleveland, hadn't hit Lave Cross, of the Athletics, with a pitch. In intense pain Cross argued long and loud with "Silk" but the batter was firm. Lave had to return to the plate.

The next day Cross, wrist in splints, accosted O'Loughlin on the field. He rode Silk to a fare-thee-well. "Bah—the perfect umpire, eh? Joss breaks my wrist and you can't see it. It would have been just the same, I suppose, if he'd beaned me." The quiet, erudite O'Loughlin, answered: "I'm not infallible, Cross. Perhaps I missed it and I'm sorry. However," Silk purred on—"had you been struck on the head, the use of splints wouldn't have been necessary. You'd be out playing in today's game instead of resting on the bench."

In case you don't know it, Leon Riley, center fielder, and Harland Wysons, southpaw flipper, who were with the Red Wings last season, are now wearing the livery of Elmita, N. Y. P. League—"Bubber" Jonnard is first string-catcher for Dallas—Homer Summa, old Tribe outfielder in the George Stallings days, is with Seattle and one of the leading hitters of the Coast League—George Selkirk, Rochester boy, seems to have landed a regular outfield job with the Newark Bears—Charley Gelbert has been placed on the suspended list by the Cardinals—"Showboat" Fisher got his first homer of the season last week. He's hitting in the clean-up slot for Milwaukee—The Durham club of the St. Boniface Sodality Will Have Card Party The Spring Card Party of the Sodality of Mary of St. Boniface Church will be held Wednesday evening, May 10, in the school hall. There will be a prize for each table and refreshments will be served. The admission will be $25.

The committee in charge is Miss Dorothy Snider, chairman, assisted by Misses Dorothy Amann, Agnes Ehmman, Imelda Ehmman, Ruth Ehmman, Ruth Geratner, Margaret Herbst, Margaret Miles, Catherine Newman, Anne Rita, Ruth Roy, and Louise Walzel.

Piedmont League has on its roster a Pipgras, Cochran, Zachary, Scharlein, and Richbourg. Each is the brother of a big league star, or an ex-major star—Hack Wilson, who has been cut $20,000 in two years, has known for a long time what it means to be off the gold standard—There were more foul balls at the hearing in Harrisburg over the Pennsylvania Sunday baseball bill than ever were seen at a major league ball park—This is baseball season but everyone is playing football with Art Shires—There is a report out that Colonel Ruppert's brewmaster will hold out next season for the same gravy given Babe Ruth—Babe and Joe McCarthy, they (the wise guys) say, aren't on kissing terms—Del Blaesotto will be first basing for Toronto soon—Kenny O'Dea, Lima boy, is regular backstop for Houston—"Lefty" Grove will be sold before midseason.

Parochial Baseball League A good day, parish loyalty and love of baseball, brought about five or six hundred people out for the opening game between St. Andrew's and St. Stanislaus parochial teams Monday. Father Vogt threw out the first ball.

The game was typical. St. Stanislaus-nosed out St. Andrew's in the last inning to take the game, 13 to 12. It was one of those exciting finishes where the winning run dances around on third base trying to come home. He finally arrived, and St. Stanislaus won. The close finish augurs well for many good games this year in the League.

For St. Andrew's, Eddie Tantillo, the pitcher, was easily the outstanding player. His speed and control were good but he did not get the "breaks". Schiffolet featured at the bat, driving them out cleanly and far. He is a "natural". A little pint-o-older named Tony Perry took the popular eye for his speed, ability to catch and hit. If he keeps up (he is only in the sixth grade now) he will have the Yankees scouting him.

When Tony Wentowski, left fielder for St. Stanislaus, ran out in to the street and snared a line drive while running at full speed, the crowd roared its applause. Nice work—Teddy Bobby Adamski, the catcher, also handles himself with some of the distinction that his old brother, Ray, star catcher for Benjamin Franklin, possesses. At a smart play, lobby, called to his brother, "Stick around, big boy, and learn something!"

IMPORTANT: Managers remember that the team mentioned first in the schedule has the home game and must furnish the baseballs, etc. Thus, St. Peter's vs. St. Andrew's, St. Peter's is the home team. This is the same as last year, but we forgot to mention it in the schedule.

Umpires—Keep track of the home runs. Send in the name of the boy with the report of your score. And, boys, if you want to get that trophy for the most home runs, report your homers at once to the President, or to Father Lambert. But be sure the umpire O.K.'s your report!

Complete Program Is Announced For Sodality Meeting

Miss Helen Guntert, General Chairman of the Rochester Diocesan Sodality Convention, to be held at the Columbus Civic Center Auditorium on Sunday, May 14, announces the complete program for that convocation.

Following the celebration of Holy Mass at St. Patrick's Cathedral, at which Most Rev. John Francis O'Hern, Bishop of Rochester, will officiate, there will be a formal registration of delegates at Columbus Auditorium at 10:00 p. m.

The principal speaker of the Convention, Rev. Daniel A. Lord, S.J., National Organizer of the Sodality movement, will address the gathering at 2:00 p. m. on such topics as the advantages of a Parish Sodality both to the Pastor and the clergy of the Diocese, and the aims of the active Parish Sodality. At 3:00 p. m. the Convention will be dispersed into separate factions under the supervision of Rev. D. A. Lord, S.J., and Miss Dorothy J. Willmann, National Executive Secretary of the Parish Union. Their addresses will center around committee work and the formal organization of the Sodality movement.

A round table discussion will take place at 4:00 p. m. Practical problems will be presented and solved. All the delegates are free to address the Chair and take part in open discussion.

For the benefit of out-of-town guests the Chairman of the Hospitality Committee, Miss Marie Bennett, 4 Wolf St., is receiving all registrations, which must be made before May 10.

FIRST HOLY NAME BOWLING TOURNEY GETS TOGETHER 107 CATHOLIC TEAMS

To the K. of C. Santos team goes the William F. Maier Memorial trophy for coming out ahead in Class B, in the Holy Name Bowling Tournament which came to a successful close on Saturday evening at Buono Hall. At the same time, the Weis and Fisher team was awarded championship honors in Class C.

Conducted for the first time in Rochester, this tournament comprising representative teams of Catholic bowlers, brought together 107 eleven-man teams and produced not only excellent bowling but fine, clean sportsmanship.

Credit for the success of the tourney goes to the committee headed by Secretary H. T. "Butch" Johnson, who worked energetically to make the first tournament of its kind the success that it proved to be. The Buono boys, Tony and Charlie, added greatly in staging the affair as did Joe Frank, Al Terharr and Ed Hefter, the last named being president of the Catholic Bowling League.

A formidable prize list was dangled before the players and they hit the mapsles with a vengeance. In coming out on top, the K. of C. Santos showed rare form with Brescia hitting 275, 236 and 186 and the team getting 1042, 946 and 923.

Friday night, Fisher's Liebo-schmaners with a 2749 score caused the other entries in Class B some misgivings. Thursday's rollings brought to the front two teams from
