A pretty kettle of fish is stewing in the Catholic Indoor Baseball League...

Today the league standings find itself headed as follows: Won Lost P.C. Holy Rosary 5 0 1.000 St. Boniface 5 1 .833 St. Andrew's 5 1 .833

Any one of this trio of teams can win first prize on this championship. But to gain up any speculation, none of them, outside of Holy Rosary next Sunday, has anything that could be marked soft ahead of it.

Just this. St. Boniface will find itself pitted again Holy Rosary on July 2, closing date of the first half, with the grand opportunity of tying Holy Rosary if they win.

On paper, which is cheap these days, you like St. Boniface's chances.

bother than we like St. Andrew's. One reason—and a mighty big one—is that St. Andrew's have lost Tony Ferrar, who has moved to Schenectady.

Both St. Andrew's and Holy Rosary will have to regard St. Boniface's hitters. Ray Interbitzen, Clayton Gallagher, and Dick Palmer as mighty dangerous.

St. Boniface's hitters are a 250 hitter who drives over runs is more valuable than a 300 hitter who gets his safeties only when the bags are vacant.

In case you don't know the 200 ball players in the American League, 81 of them are Irish, which gives the Harps a superior domination over other nationalities.

born in Norway; Tony Freitas is a Portuguese; Joe Kubel, Slovak; Joe Vosnik, Bohemian; Roger Cramer, Holland Dutch; Tony Lazzari, Frank Crossetti, Oscar Mellillo, and Lin Storti, Italian; Al Simmons, Pole.

There are four Jewish boys in the American League, Moe Berk, Buddy Myer, Jim Levey, and Harry Greenberg.

Dizzy Dean, who shook over the air last week, after characterizing himself as modest, despite published reports to the contrary, concluded his talk with: "I'll win 18 or 20 more games this season, and then I'll show you all what kind of hitters Ruth and Gehrig are when I pitch against them in the World's Series."

Parochial Baseball League

EXTRA! Holy Redeemer sends O. L. O. S. into first place by defeating the League Champions, St. Stanislaus, 10-5!

St. Michael's and Holy Rosary only a name behind Sacred Heart!

St. Augustine's creeps into first place by their victory over the Immaculate and St. Monica's loss to St. John's!

What a League! This week's games tell the story. In every League there is the possibility of defeat for the leaders. Sic 'em boys!

Holy Redeemer's victory was a bombshell in the American League. With Staub pitching a cool, heady brand of baseball, and with a lusty brand of batting, St. Stanislaus had no chance.

As O. L. P. H. had played all their games, they have a half game lead on St. Stanislaus. If St. Stanislaus wins Friday over St. Ambrose, there will have to be a game to decide the championship in the League. 'Whotta game' that will be!

Sacred Heart had better be careful of that 1,000 average when they meet St. Michael's on Friday at Seneca Park. That w. k. German determination is aroused to cop that final game and tie up with Sacred Heart. If they do and Holy Rosary wins their game, there will be a three cornered tie.

A smooth working St. John's team handing a beating to St. Monica's, 2-1. It was a beautiful ball game with the winning and tying runs on the bases when the last St. Monica man popped out. Innesetto played a bang-up game at second, and Bietzer a fielder looks good at the bat with two timely hits to his credit.

By the way! If St. John's plays off the rest of their games this week and wins them they will tie for first place.

The Immaculate has one of the surest outfielders in the League. Their three fly hawks, Hammer, Sackett and Nyhan, do a fine job in the field!

St. Boniface was idle this week, thus allowing St. Augustine's to creep a half game ahead. If they play the brand of baseball they have been showing, they ought to defeat both St. Peter's and the Immaculate, their last two games, and tie for leadership in that League.

Important games this week: St. John's vs. St. Augustine's; at Genesee Park, St. Michael's vs. Sacred Heart; at Seneca Park, St. Stanislaus vs. St. Ambrose; at Aljo Field. All these games will be on Friday.

IMPORTANT: ALL GAMES MUST BE PLAYED BY JUNE 19. PLAY OFF THOSE POSTPONED GAMES THIS WEEK.
