RECOVERY ACT CODE PLANNED FOR HOSPITALS

Catholic Institutions To Be Represented At Meeting To Prepare Draft

(N. C. W. C. News Service)
Washington.—A meeting of representatives of the American Hospital Association, the Catholic Hospital Association of the United States and Canada, and the Protestant Hospital Association will be held within the next two weeks to prepare a tentative draft of a code to govern the conduct of hospitals of the country under the National Industrial Recovery Act.

The National Recovery Administration already has issued rulings declaring that hospitals' administrative, professional, nursing, and student staffs do not come under the provisions of the national code. Dietitians, technicians and others of this classification of employment also are exempted, but maids, orderlies, waitresses do come under the code provisions.

Writes Superiors

A letter addressed to the Sisters Superior of all Catholic Hospitals by the Rev. Alphonse M. Schwitalla, S. J., president of the Catholic Hospital Association, announced that a code "under which the hospitals subscribing to the National Recovery Act may be encouraged to sign the pledge to cooperate" will be drafted during the week of September 11.

Father Schwitalla also addressed the following telegram to General Hux, Johnson, administrator of the Recovery Act:

"Catholic Hospital Association finds itself in sympathy with National Recovery Act. Pledges sympathetic study of spirit and letter of the act with reference to our six hundred and fifty institutions and will make every effort to conform as soon as implications have been studied. Would ask deference of official decision until question of classification has been settled for fear that public routine and emergency services of the hospital may be impaired thus defeating the intent of the act and imperiling public welfare."

Superior General

The Very Rev. Dr. Charles L. Souvay, C. M., former president of Kenrick Seminary, Webster-Groves, Mo., whose selection as Superior General of the Vincentian Fathers marks the first time that an American priest has been chosen to head the congregation of the Mission. A naturalized citizen of the United States, Fr. Souvay was connected with the faculty of Kenrick Seminary for nearly 30 years before he was, in 1932, named Assistant to the Superior General in Paris, representing all English-speaking communities of the order. The eighty-eight successor of St. Vincent de Paul, Fr. Souvay is also head of the Daughters of Charity. (Milwaukee photo.)

Master General of Dominicans Urges Tertiaries To Form Study-Circles

(By N. C. W. C. NEWS SERVICE)
New York.—Dominican Tertiaries in the United States have been urged to form study-circles by the Most Rev. Martin S. Gillet, O.P., Master General of the Dominican Order, in summoning American Tertiaries to an active participation in the apostolate in the cause of truth. "Rarely," said Father Gillet, "has the world witnessed such confusion of thought. The most sacred truths are called in question. Hence today more than ever Tertiaries should be well grounded in the teaching of our holy faith. "It would be an excellent idea," he continued, "if, as far as opportunity may permit, they formed themselves into study-circles under the

German Hierarchy to Co- operate with Reich in Promoting Education

(By DR. MAX JORDAN
German Correspondent, N. C. W. C. News Service)
Berlin.—His Eminence Adolf Cardinal Bertram, of Breslau, in his capacity as chairman of the Fulda Episcopal Conference, has expressed appreciation to Chancellor Adolf Hitler on the occasion of the signature of the Concordat between the Holy See and the German Reich.

"The Episcopate of all the German Diocese," says Cardinal Bertram's letter, "as is shown by its statements to the public, was glad to express as soon as it was made possible after the recent change in the political situation through the declarations of Your Excellency, its sincere readiness to cooperate to its best ability with the new government which has proclaimed as its goal to promote Christian education, to wage war against Godlessness and immorality, to strengthen the spirit of sacrifice for the common good and to protect the rights of the Church."

Cooperation Pledged

"It is due to the wisdom of the Holy See and to the statesmanlike foresight and the energy of the Government that the harmonious cooperation between Church and State is achieved these days has found its solemn expression in the Concordat."

'Rubbish,' Peer's Reply To Catholics Who Hold Faith Bar To Success

(N. C. W. C. News Service)
London.—"Rubbish!" This was Viscount FitzAlan's reply to the people who say they cannot get on because they are Catholics. Admitting that Catholicism might, in some cases, be an obstacle to worldly success, he said: "But what of that? Stand up to it! What did our forebears have to go through on account of their faith? A great deal more than you. Don't let any grievance of that kind get into your system." Lord FitzAlan's advice to a young man taking his first job—he was distributing prizes at Prior Park College, Bath—was "Make up your mind that you are going to prove to your superior that he cannot get on without you."

Farmers Hear Priest Cite Causes of Plaws In Co-operative Plan

(N. C. W. C. News Service)
Milan, Wis.—One thousand farmers heard the Rev. Urban Esler, pastor of St. John Baptist Church and St. Thomas Mission, here, and widely noted priest-organizer of farmers, cite 10 causes of the flaws in the farm cooperative plan and urge the farmers to beware of "every Tom, Dick and Harry new organization." Father Esler spoke at a picnic of St. Thomas parish here, and in the course of his remarks declared that the "benefits of cooperatives would never be realized until the farmers 'root up the causes why many farmers do not co-operate.' The ten causes given by Father Esler were: ignorance, selfishness, jealousy, politics, too many "co-ops," expectancy of too much Government aid without adequate self-help, misdirection, exploitation, lack of interest and propaganda. Father Esler cited the Catholic Church's solicitude for the laboring class and quoted from the encyclicals and other ecclesiastical pronouncements.

ARCHBISHOP GLENNON WARNS IRISH NATION

Tells Irish Audience to Beware False Advice Offered By Agents of Russia

(N. C. W. C. News Service)
Milwaukee, Ireland.—The people of the Irish Free State were warned to beware the advice offered them by the present rulers of Russia who pose as "friends of the lowly," in an address delivered by the Most Rev. John J. Glennon, Archbishop of St. Louis, at ceremonies attending the laying the foundation stone of the new Cathedral Church of St. Mary of the Diocese of Meath, here.

Declaring that we have no quarrel with the people of Russia but rather with the Godless program of the Soviet Government, Archbishop Glennon voiced the hope that the Russians, "if only the chance were offered them," would "come back into the unity of the Catholic fold."

The American prelate, a native of the ancient parish of Clonard where his parents are buried, described himself as not a stranger but "an exile home returning from a foreign, though not an alien, land to rejoice with you in your triumphs."

After tracing the achievements of the Saints who won over ancient Ireland to Christianity, Archbishop Glennon said: "Waiting at your doors today asking for admission, ready to advise you on the plea that they are the friends of the lowly; that they have taken down the mighty from their seats and elevated those of low degree."

DUTCH BISHOPS ISSUE LETTER OF IMPORTANCE

(By REV. ANTHONY COPPENS
Belgium Correspondent, N. C. W. C. News Service)

Amsterdam.—Counsels of respect for the authority of the Hierarchy and pastors and a warning to Catholics against circulating or listening to generalized allegations against their clergy based on individual cases are contained in an important pastoral issued by the Ordinaries of Holland. The pastoral is regarded here as most important since it has been issued as a result of a pamphlet called "Neo-Communists," in which Catholic priests are accused of being negligent of their duties and responsible for what is described as growing indifference among Catholics.

The pastoral, in condemning the pamphlet, emphasizes that Catholics are not to ascribe the faults of a few individual priests to the whole clergy, a practice which the pastoral condemns as "unjust and scandalous." "To utter light judgments, to exaggerate and to generalize," the pastoral says, "is morally wrong and not permitted to a Christian."

The pastoral, continuing, declares that there are other means of correcting defects, and asserts that the Ordinaries "are always ready to listen to complaints." It adds that the special difficulties encountered by the clergy are generally not known to the public.
