TEWSPAPERS are an important factor in the progress of the world, supplying all of the news from at home and abroad to every interested person at a negligible cost. The service which they render has come to be taken more or less for granted, but there is one factor that is deserving of your attention and consideration.

The carrier boy who delivers your newspapers, regardless of weather or other interfering forces, is the principal link be-tween the publisher and the reader. It is through his enterprise and industry that you are able to enjoy the convenient service that characterizes newspaper delivery.

This young man in most cases is not a newspaper employee. He is an independent young merchant, buying and paying for his papers by the week and selling them to weekly credit basis to his entomers. His profits for the service that he renders are small, ret many of these boys, by thrifty manage ment, are paying their way through school with their earnings and at the same time putting something away for the future.
