Notre Dame comes east three times this season, which is news par excellence to its huge synthetic alumni. On October 21 the Fighting Irish play in Pittsburgh against Carnegie Tech. On No yember 4 "Hunk" Anderson rides his squad to Baltimore to play "Rin" Miller's Navy. On December 2 the big spectacle between Notre Dame and the Army will be played at Yankee Stadium in New

The Irish, as usual, haven't looked for any feathers to fall on. Their biggest home game, of course, is the Southern California contest on November 25. Pittsburgh, too, will play at South Bond, as will Perdue. Northwestern will be met at Evanston, and Indiana at Bloomington.

When Jim Crowley assumed the coaching duties at Fordham he also took over a schedule of games for 1933 that is a man-killer. The Rams. who are to play five of their games at the Pole Grounds and one at Yankee Stadium, have, among other opponents, West Virginia, Boston College, and New York University, not to mention in a whisper three intersectional games of vast importance. namely, Alabama, St. Mary's from the Coast, and Oregon State. Crow-ley's tune up games are with Albright and Muhlenberg, both tough early-season opponents.

Holy Cross, coached this year by Eddie Anderson, of the famous Kiley-Anderson wing combination at Notre Dame, has Harvard. Brown, Detroit and Manhattan on successive Saturdays, and by the time the Cross digests this quartet of tough ones the Worcester boys will be pretty well shot, unless Anderson is blessed with an abundance of material. Boston College craps with Holy Cross this year on
