Notre Dame is waiting for another week to open its gridiron season with Kansas University, but outside the Fighting Irish, the long trail that stretches from mid-September to the first day of 1934, from early-season set-up games to the Rose Bowl classic, brings its thrills and excitement, its glamor to millions each Saturday, begins this week. The follow-up with money has a choice bid-bit to select from; for the bloke who is fatter than the mailman's feet and this category includes the writer, there is always the radio, and Ted Husinec, not to mention Graham McNamee, if you like your football scrambled.

For Rochesterians who like either interscholastic or college game there is a choice. Aquinas Institute opens its season at Edgerton Park against Mt. Morris High, while at the River Campus the University of Rochester meets Oberlin, traditional intercollegiate foe.

In today's issue of the Catholic Courier we are reproducing a Catholic College gridiron schedule. Cut it out and keep it handy.

Games of unusual interest to be played within striking distance of Rochester are: October 8—Georgetown University vs. Canisius College, at Buffalo. October 14—Syracuse vs. Ohio Wesleyan at Syracuse. October 15—Niagara vs. St. Bonaventure at Niagara Falls. October 21—Cornell vs. Syracuse at Ithaca. November 4—Cornell vs. Columbia at Ithaca. November 4—Syracuse vs. Pennsylvania at Syracuse. November 4—Rochester vs. Hobart at Rochester. November 11—Niagara vs. Canisius at Niagara Falls. November 18—Syracuse vs. Colgate at Syracuse. November 18—Rochester vs. Wesleyan at Rochester.

Notre Dame comes east three times this season, which is news per excellence to its huge synthetic stadium. On October 21 the Fighting Irish play in Pittsburgh against Carnegie Tech. On November 4 "Hunk" Anderson rides his squad to Baltimore to play "Rip" Miller's Navy. On December 2 the big spectacle between Notre Dame and the Army will be played at Yankee Stadium in New York.

The Irish, as usual, haven't looked for any feathers to fall on. Their biggest home game, of course, is the Southern California contest on November 25. Pittsburgh, too, will play at South Bend, as will Purdue, Northwestern will be met at Evanston, and Indiana at Bloomington.

When Jim Crowley assumed the coaching duties at Fordham he also took over a schedule of games for 1933 that is a man-killer. The Rams, who are to play five of their games at the Polo Grounds and one at Yankee Stadium, have, among other opponents, West Virginia, Boston College, and New York University, not to mention in a whisper three intercollegiate games of vast importance, namely, Alabama, St. Mary's from the Coast, and Oregon State. Crowley's line up games are with Albright and Muhlenberg, both tough early-season opponents.

Holy Cross, coached this year by Eddie Anderson, of the famous Killy-Anderson wing combination at Notre Dame, has Harvard, Brown, Detroit and Manhattan on successive Saturdays, and by the time the Cross digests this quartet of tough ones the Worcester boys will be pretty well shot, unless Anderson is blessed with an abundance of material. Boston College craps with Holy Cross this year on Dec. 2nd.

Harry Stuhldreher's Villanova College will feature on its list of games frays with South Carolina, Bucknell, Gettysburg, Manhattan, Boston College, and Temple. Which won't be any bed of roses for the quarterback of the famous "Four Horsemen." The Villanova-Temple game, now that Temple has Pop Warner at the helm of its ship, should stir the sleepy Quaker town out of its doldrums.

Insider's predictions of ten games to be played this week are herewith listed. If he misses on more than two of them he'll quit prognosticating since they're "set up" encounters: Manhattan will beat Clarkson. Boston College over St. Anselm's. Villanova a cinch over Ursinus. Georgetown in a walk over Mount St. Mary's. Fordham over Albright after a hard game. Holy Cross will have workout over St. Michael's. Pitt should beat W & J in tough game. Niagara in romp over Buffalo. Cornell a walk over St. Lawrence. Catholic U. over a. S.alle.

Deciding Game In Catholic League To Be Played Sunday

BY INSIDER

Holy Rosary knotted up the title playoff series with St. Andrews at Edgerton Park on Sunday morning so the Catholic League Indoor championship will be decided in the third game this week, to be played at the same field. The Lexington Avenue nine hung up a 9 to 7 margin over St. Andrews, the first time off season they were able to do it. St. Andrews previously had beaten Holy Rosary three times. A bumper audience is assured for the final on Sunday.

The pitching benches of both managers reminded of Specs Topolcer's selections in the late and lamented Bison-Rod Wing series. The starters couldn't finish, and it remained for the relief hurlers to feature. Tony Ferrari, St. Andrew ace, usually effective against Holy Rosary, was knocked out of the box after allowing eight runs in four innings. Joe Witzgman was clouted hard in the fourth and fifth and Barney Agness rushed to his assistance, with one out in the fifth, to save the game. No runs were charged against Agness in the 2-3 innings he pitched, while Ernie Rebnan who succeeded Ferrari, was scored upon but once and that in the eighth. Had Ernie and Barney started there's no telling what might have happened. The teams might be playing yet.

Tischler Hits Homer "Lofly" Tischler was the hitting star for St. Andrews, getting a long circuit clout and a double. His home run came with two team mates perched on the sacks. Ferrari had two for four, giving him six for eight for the series. Joe Farrell and Leo Gallagher hit hardest for Holy Rosary. Joe getting three out of five, and Gallagher two out of four.

Holy Rosary showed a revamped infield with Pulvino at first, Krenble at second, Gallagher at short and Blum at third. The same quartet will take care of ground balls this week. In the two games played St. Andrews holds the edge in runs, 10 to 6; Holy Rosary is ahead in hits, 21 to 19, while each team has erred 7 times. St. Andrews have won three of four for the season.

President Lang will be prepared for the largest crowd to witness a game this season on Sunday. Extra police protection will be provided to keep the base lines free of spectators.

It will be the last game sanctioned by the Catholic League this year. The annual banquet of the organization will be held early in October. Score by innings: St. Andrews—0 1 3 3 0 0 0 0—7 10 4 Holy Rosary—2 4 1 0 0 0 1 x—9 11 1 St. Andrews' Ferrari, Rebnan and Tischler; Holy Rosary, Witzgman, Agness and Bieler.

Fr. Predmore Will Sing Parents 50th Anniversary Mass

Mr. and Mrs. William F. Predmore of Spencerport, will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary on Wednesday, October 11. They will attend a high Mass celebrated by their son, the Rev. George V. Predmore, pastor of St. John's Church, Spencerport, at the Immaculate Conception Church at 10 o'clock. Music for the Mass will be furnished by the Immaculate Conception Church choir directed by Paul A. Predmore, another son. A dinner for nearly ninety guests will be held at the Columbus Civic Center in the afternoon.

Columbus Center Health Education Planned for Fall

Columbus Civic Center Health Education Department has planned a fall program arranged, those in charge say, to meet the needs of those interested in physical well-being. The gymnasium offers classes in reading, regular gym work, made up of Swedish and Danish rhythm exercises. For those who enjoy sports instruction will be given in volleyball, basketball, indoor baseball, and regular gym games. These are classes for the Business Men's Club, General Men's Club, Business Girls Club and women of the home.

Boys and girls' classes will meet twice a week in the gymnasium where every effort will be made to give them instruction in health education. The swimming pool period will be devoted to teaching swimming, diving, life-saving and pool games.

The game room, just started, will be an added attraction to the Club this year. This room is designed to furnish a place for children to spend their spare time reading books of interest, and playing checkers, card games, etc. This work will be supervised by competent boys leaders of the club who will work up tournaments from time to time.

Closed for cleaning in September, the swimming pool is now open. Tested weekly by a bacteriologist, the water in the swimming pool is declared pure at all times. A system of filtration, ultra-violet rays and chlorination assures pure water.

The Health Education staff of the Columbus Civic Center consists of Wilbur E. Quinn, graduate of the Savage School for Physical Education, Executive of the Department; Marie Kinnear of Boston School of Physical Education, instructor for women and girl classes in the gym; Dorothy Pasini of the American Red Cross, instructor in swimming, assisted by Margaret Sullivan; and James Ehnman, head of Leaders Corp of Club for the past two years.

K. C. Columbus Day Program Is Set For Tuesday, October 10

Columbus Day program of Rochester Council, Knights of Columbus, will be presented on Tuesday evening, October 10, in Columbus Civic Center, the date having been advanced in order not to conflict with the Installation Ceremonies of Archbishop Mooney.

Speakers secured by the committee in charge include the Rev. William A. Ryan, Dr. Joseph E. Guzzetta and Frederick J. Mix. A program of musical numbers will be given under the direction of Anthony Infantino with two soloists, A. Vines, baritone, and S. Maggio, tenor, to be heard. Following the program of speakers and music there will be dancing until 12 o'clock. Admission will be by invitation ticket. Grand Knight, Dr. Walter B. O'Neill, is honorary chairman with Dr. Charles I. Maggio serving as general chairman, and Christopher H. D'Amada as vice chairman.

A large list of committee workers headed by the following subcommittee will prepare for the celebration: Speakers, Angelo DiNiro; Heating, Joseph Palandino; orchestra, Edward Rizzo; entertainment, Dr. Joseph A. Inverso; seating, Paul Street and has been thus engaged for many years. For many years he has sung in the Immaculate Conception choir and the Knights of Columbus Choral Society and is noted as a soloist of ability.

Old Time Fiddlers To Be In Contest Oct 4

The old time fiddlers contest will be staged in the Immaculate Conception Auditorium, Rochester, New York, Wednesday evening, October 4. This fiddlers' contest and the Red River Rangers proved extremely popular last year. They are expected to be equally interesting next Wednesday evening.

Aquinas Football Squad Gets Ready For 1933 Season

The Aquinas football squad, 150 strong, reported to Coach Johnny Sullivan in the school gymnasium, on September 5. It was explained to the candidates that all would be given a fair chance to show their ability, but due to the proximity of the opening game, veterans of the past three years would be given the preference, as well as the experienced members of the group.

Sullivan has approximately 1 dozen such veterans about whom a splendid team can be built. Green, Mike Tschott, Mura, Riley, and Berardil number among the linemen, with Farrell, Dehond, Rozan, Sullivan, Hirschman and Uter in the backfield. Johnny's only worry is for two tackles of the caliber of the men lost to the team by graduation. Malley and McManus. However, a pair of likely looking men have been found, and are being trained in the tactics of the position, and, if they come up to Sullivan's expectations, should go far toward strengthening the team.

Six of the desired seven games have already been scheduled with teams from Western New York and it is hoped that a seventh will soon be arranged. September 30 is set for the opening game with Mount Morris and the remaining open date is October 21.

In the opinion of this writer, the present team far surpasses that of last year in spirit and co-operation, and although no game has been played as yet, it is felt that these qualities will also be manifest on the gridiron.

The teams, which undergo a tiring practice session every night behind the school, are waiting the election of a captain and Mike Dehond and Sullivan are likely candidates for the office. The student body of the school, freshmen and all, are showing great interest in the team and are looking forward to and hoping for a pep assembly and the selection of cheer leaders during the coming week.

Thus, a successful season is expected, athletically, financially and socially.

The complete schedule follows: Sept. 30—Mt. Morris High at Edgerton Park Paddock. Oct. 7—Brighton High at Brighton. Oct. 14—Albion High at Edgerton Park Paddock. Oct. 21—Niagara Frosh at Edgerton Park Paddock. Oct. 28—Genevieve Wesleyan at Edgerton Park Paddock. Nov. 11—St. Joseph's Collegiate Institute of Buffalo at Edgerton Park Paddock.

Berlin—(NCWC)—A volume entitled "Pope Pius XI, a Biography," containing 100 large photographs with accompanying texts explaining and illustrating the life of the Sovereign Pontiff has been published here.
