Nazareth College Alumnae Forms Fund Committee

Inadequate building facilities for students at Nazareth College has brought about the necessity of forming a building fund committee, to conduct a campaign for funds, Sister Teresa Marie, the dean of the college announces. The committee, organized by the Nazareth College Alumnae Association, headed by Sister Teresa Marie, has present registration of 200 students overtaxes buildings now in use in Augustine Street. A secretarial course has been added to the curriculum this year, bringing additional scholars and thus taxing the college to capacity. A larger enrollment is expected in the next few years, making the building fund committee of extreme importance. According to preliminary plans the drive will continue over a period of two or three years.

First object of the building fund campaign, according to Miss Eleanor Craig, committee chairman, will be the erection of a new administration building. Her committee includes: The Misses Marcella Reichenberger, Cyrella Stibel, Helen Coyne, Clementine Koch, Monica Toole, Adelaide Beisenbach, Veronica Dolan, Mary Olive Schreiner, Helen Howland, Mildred Burke, Mary Eva Henner, Mary Leary, Mary Moran and Betty Griffin.

PLANNING A Halloween party? Why isn't? And who ever heard of a party without favors, especially a Halloween party? Edith Ellis Shop, 38 East Ave., has the most novel favors that Suzanne has seen in all her travels. And the price is better than right. A matter of fact they've everything from Jack O'Lanterns right down to witches. Also the candy to go with them. While you're prying around ask what the special in candy is. It's sure to be something you'll like.

Shell fish of all kinds may be canned. The shells and all foreign matter should be removed. Shrimps should be peeled.

HOW ABOUT IT! Been to the Nook Restaurant, 14 Gibb St., for that perfect meal yet? A 50c dinner is served every evening. They also have a 30c plate or a la carte service. Didn't I see you at lunch there the other day. Let's have dinner there tonight.

Mate your bracelets—one on each wrist, says Vogue and so we pass on to you.

LET ME TELL you about the SEMI-FINISH laundry service some of my thrifty friends are using. All flat pieces are nicely ironed and practically all of the wearing apparel is ready to use. Their weekly bills average only $1.25. You can save, too, by calling Tatlock Laundry, Main 3291, for their Semi-Finish Service.

ON THAT DAY of days, you won't want to be bothered about small details. Arrange to have your wedding breakfast or party at Crissy's Tea Room, 232 Ohio Ave. They're equal to the occasion. Here's a hint to your friends. What's better for a pre-wedding event than a bridge luncheon. And when the price is only 35c and up. Call Crissy's right now for reservations. Gen. 7136-W.

AND THE WIND will blow. And before it does, let H. J. McGuire re-upholster that living room suite. You know it needs it. Don't keep putting it off. You'll be sorry you've waited so long when you see how reasonably you can have it done. Call Glen. 1325-W.

NOW'S THE TIME. Bebe's Art Linen Shop's the place to get your gifts lined up. Take advantage of the pre-holiday prices. They've just got in a new line of Russian linens. The color and crispness of the designs strange to say, are very attractive. Their peasant linens are also very popular. These can't be appreciated until seen. When you're down shopping, drop into Bebe's Art Linen Shop, 61 East Ave. They'll be glad to show you their stock.

Benefit Card Parties For Catholic Deaf Set

A card party for the benefit of the Catholic Deaf-mutes of the Diocese of Rochester will be held in St. Joseph's Hall on Tuesday and Wednesday, next, October 24 and 25. Proceeds will be used to further the work among these members of the Diocese.

Owing to the rather small number they cannot be expected to defray all the expenses entailed in sustaining the ministrations of the priests among them. Since it is a Diocesan work the Redemptorist priests in charge are encouraged to call upon the kindness and charity of all to help in the work.

Speaking of the cooperation being given them, the priests in charge said this week: "We deeply appreciate the assistance of our friends and benefactors which they gave us in the past and beg God's blessings upon them. May they receive the much of the hundredfold reward of Christ even in this life."
