

Marking of Jesuit Chapel Site Recalls Fr. Dougherty's Work

least three monuments and several markers. The cement cross on Bough-ton Hill about a mile south of Victor with the bronze tablet on it was erected through Father Dougherty's effort in 1909. This cross marks the site of the village of Gannagaro which had an Indian population of between 2,000 and 3,000 souls. In this village was St. James Mission and it was attended in 1872 by Father James Pierson. Four miles south of here is the Mud Creek village in which was the St. Michael mission attended in 1869 by Father Fremont. Here a marker was set up by Father Dougherty and if there was any vestige of Catholic interest in the way of a mission, or a chapel, or a Catholic cemetery having been there or of a Missionary having worked there it was noted by him in his records or marked by a cross.
Not content with working among his own beloved Seneca Indians around Canandigua and Ontario County, he made an incursion into another County and another tribe, viz Cayuga County and the Cayuga Indians. Incidentally it might be said he made an incursion into another parish of Aurora. In this town was the St. Joseph Mission to which had come in 1866 Father Stephen Carholl who worked here in all about ten years. He converted the chief of whom he was homesick from war and the hunt was accustomed to ring the chapel bell every morning calling the Catholic braves to morning Mass. Here Father Dougherty erected a cross with a bronze tablet about 1910 and several thousand people were present on the occasion of its dedication.
Souls March On
Father Dougherty wrote "Early Jesuit Missions among the Indians of Western New York"—a paper which he read at a meeting of the Canandigua Scientific Association, December 9, 1902. In it he said: "It is indeed a worthy impulse of the human heart that prompts us to mark the places made memorable as scenes of stirring events. —While the benediction of a thoughtful fellow-citizen is telling the present and future generations the story of the mighty past by 'Sermons in Stone', let us hope that some of the citizens of Ontario County will be inspired to erect at least a few simple tablets calculated to repeat to the passerby that here a century before the Revolution, Gannier dedicated his first rude chapel, Fremont preached the word of God, or Pierson performed the office of his sacred ministry; here in stubborn soil were sown the first seeds of Christian faith and hope and love, that know no bounds of space or race, but were as limitless as God. The inevitable power of a mighty purpose made those Jesuit Fathers grand inspiring examples. Their lives were an epic. Centuries hence they may find their Honor. — Their souls go marching on forever."

I write these lines to congratulate the Alhambra on this occasion and to assure them that, if Father Dougherty were alive he would heartily commend their plan because he was about thirty years before them in giving to these sturdy missionaries recognition of their Christian character and Catholic accomplishments. They were not left without commemorative monument as long as we have guessed; but through the broad sympathy and scholarly vision of Father Dougherty they have been, in the process of time, held up as examples of priestly zeal and manly courage to those who may be profiting by their having lived in those parts.
Very sincerely yours,

Charities Director Urges All to Vote For State Bond Issue

have marshaled their forces and they may defeat it. If this happens, the reason will be that those who should have been concerned with the publicity of it, neglected their duty. If the proposition is voted down, relief now inadequate, will necessarily be eliminated. The Bond Issue of $60,000,000.00 will assist the various communities to finance their ever increasing relief load. It will give the people of the State an opportunity to spread the payment of the relief bill over a period of years. Without this State Aid, widespread and appalling suffering, and privation will result.
"I believe that we cannot too strongly insist that the voters must keep in mind that on the Voting Machine this year various amendments and propositions will appear. The Proposition which covers the Bond Issue is NUMBER ONE. If you vote "YES", you are approving it, and by your decision enabling the officials of the State to do "At Least Something for the Unemployed." I believe that during this coming winter more people will need relief than at any time in our experience.
"During the years that I have been following the rising cost of relief expenditures I have observed that only partial aid has been given in the past to many of our families. Unemployment has been so prolonged that gradually thousands of families have become totally dependent upon relief.
Relief Will Be Needed
"It is probable that such conditions will improve, but there will be no lessening of the need for relief

N. C. C. M. CITE RADIO'S VALUE TO RELIGION

nation-wide hook-up of the National Broadcasting Company. Particularly the speakers mention the number of listeners whose interest in religion has been revived by the "Catholic Hour" programs.
The speakers included the Most Rev. Bernard J. Shell, Auxiliary Bishop of Chicago; the Rev. Michael J. Reedy, Assistant General Secretary of the National Catholic Welfare Conference; the Very Rev. William J. Finn, C.S.P., Director of Music of the "Catholic Hour"; Franklin Dunham, Director of educational and religious programs of the National Broadcasting Company; the Rev. Dr. Fulton J. Sheen, of the Catholic University of America; and John S. Young, official broadcaster of the N.C.C.M. who is the announcer of the "Catholic Hour." The Most Rev. Joseph F. Rummel, Bishop of Omaha, also was at the speakers table.

Thousands of Letters
Speakers told of letters that have come to the N. C. C. M. from distant points at the rate of 4,000 a month. One week's mail, it was stated, brought letters from 43 persons who stated that they had been led to return to the practice of their religion through listening to the "Catholic Hour." Robert M. Switzer, of Chicago, was toastmaster at the dinner.
The convention adopted resolutions expressing gratitude to the Holy Father for his messages to the world on Catholic Action, Reconstruction of the Social Order, the Sanctity of the Family and Education.

Support was pledged to the National Recovery Administration, and the convention applauded "the earnest endeavor of President Roosevelt to aid in the reconciliation of rival ambitions" of nations and thus to avert war.
Another resolution urged President Roosevelt to "use his power and influence" to have included in the proposed code for the Motion Picture Industry provisions that would prevent the production of immoral films.
The convention also approved the formation of a Catholic Youth Bureau as a service of the N.C.C.M. This bureau, it was stated, is to be a clearing house for Catholic Youth activities. The Rev. Vincent Muench, C.S.C., was appointed director of the bureau.

Hart Cycloflame Provides Dependable Heat System

From early Fall until late Spring, the home needs heat—at least 70 degrees of it—just as badly as it needs light. Modern comfort and convenience demand that source of heat be as dependable, and as automatic, as Oil Heat answers this need, solving efficiently, as surely and as economically as electricity solves lighting problems.
A Hart Cycloflame, installed in your present furnace (whether it be of the steam, hot water, vapor, or warm air type) gives you clean, quiet, even heat. "Care-free heat" is perhaps the best description.
Let your own preference, or your doctor's advice, decide what temperature you want inside your house. Your Hart Cycloflame will do the rest.
Select the Hart and you'll always be glad that you did. It costs far less than you think, and the complete satisfaction you'll get out of it will always make you remember that the Hart pays big comfort and health dividends year after year.
Consult Wright & Alexander Co., the Hart dealer in Rochester and having the many advantages of this heating system explained to you.
