A WEEKLY COLUMN OF REVIEW and COMMENT CONCERNING OUR CATHOLIC SCHOOLS
By Scholastic

An educational, instructive and enjoyable Geography project, depicting the vast resources of the United States, with the sections especially adapted to their production was loaned during the past week to Our Lady of Mt. Carmel School, by the Economic Geography class of Our Lady of Mercy High School.

Pupils of various grades visited the room where the project was on display and enjoyed the work shown, visualizing at the same time the work studied in class.

Mt. Carmel pupils wish to take this opportunity to express their appreciation to Sister M. Francesca, principal of Mercy High and to Sister M. Imma through whose efforts the display was made possible. The booklets written by the high school students were of particular interest.

Special thanks are due to Giuseppina Paduano, Monica Lynch, Mary Giambrone, Marie Goffredo and Norman Sullivan, pupils from Mercy High who very kindly arranged the display and lectured on different topics in conjunction with it.

Pupils of other schools will have the privilege of studying the project at a later date.

Catholic school children are responding to the need of the missions for we hear that Holy Family School is adopting a pagan babe to be named Jude Joseph, and the pupils of Our Lady of Good Counsel are doing their share, as they have already sold $2.00 worth of Christmas Seals for the Holy Childhood Association.

New York—(NWC)—In view of the forthcoming observance of the third centennial of the foundation of the Catholic colony of Maryland, a pageant for Catholic schools entitled "Maryland" has been written by the Rev. Henry S. Spaulding, S. J., and published by the George A. Plenum Company, Dayton, Ohio.

The pageant comprises four acts. The first an allegorical scene, while the other three depict the history of the Maryland colony and the establishment of religious liberty.

Holy Cross School children contributed $13.52 to the missions on Mission Sunday almost doubling their offering of 1932, according to a report received from the Society of the Propagation of the Faith; St. Mary's school, Danville, collected $6.00 for the missions.

Asked what he understood by "foreign entanglements," a school-boy replied: "Spaghetti."

The following is a quotation from a recent address given by the Most Rev. James Hugh Ryan, D. D., rector of the Catholic University of America, Washington, D. C., on the occasion of the civic reception tendered him on his consecration as Bishop of the titular See of Modra.

"Our whole system of Catholic education revolves around the proposition that the use of the goods of this world must be conditioned by the claims another world has upon us. Had men always been conscious of that fact, our Government might not be severely tested today in its efforts to remedy the selfishness of man. A supernatural philosophy of life is the very basis of Catholic education.

"Because we believe that religious education is necessary for right living, Catholics have constructed at considerable sacrifice 7,764 parish schools, which now have 2,301,942 pupils; 2,168 Catholic high schools where 226,466 students are being educated; and 160 colleges and professional schools in which 33,000 students are receiving instruction. Thanks to the wisdom and foresight of our Holy Father and the Bishops of the United States, we have a national plan for higher education. That plan, stated and re-emphasized by the last four Bishops, calls for the development of the Catholic University of America as a strong center of research and teacher-training."

To signalize the Feast of the Immaculate Conception the Dramatic Committee of Nazareth Academy Socially is sponsoring an oratorical contest open only to Seniors. The subject is "Why Holiness?" The elimination contest was held in the school auditorium on Wednesday afternoon, November 22. Dorothy Bannon, Winifred Clark, Marguerite Fuehrer, Ellen Kelly, Norma Ransom, and Ruth Weber took part and Winifred Clark, Ruth Weber and Dorothy Bannon were adjudged the three highest and will enter the final contest to be held December 6 at 2:20 o'clock in the auditorium.

Before an enthusiastic audience of parents, friends and school children the pupils of the First and Second Grades of St. Mary's School, Elmira presented an entertainment last Friday afternoon in the Parish Hall. The spirit of Thanksgiving was the central theme of the performance.

Announced by Cornelius Murray the program was as follows: Welcome Song, Girls of the First Grade, Accompanist, Mary Segur; Thanksgiving Acrostic, First and Second Grade Pupils; Dialogue, Who Laughs Last, Dolores Segur and Mary Catherine Callahan; Hickory, Hickory Dock, First Grade Girls; Minuet, Second Grade Pupils; Selection, Piano Duet, Virginia Malone and Mary Elizabeth Reidy; "The Gypsy"; Opera in two scenes, characters, Joan Curran, Theresa Murray, Kathleen Reidy, Joseph O'Herron, William Skelly Theresa Shannon, Richard Regan, Thomas Kolb Margaret Crowley, Rosemary Rouse, Mary Catherine Welch, Joseph Hope, Theresa Masla, Robert Sullivan, Piano accompanist, Kathleen Hayes.

The following pupils of St. Cecilia's School, Elmira, presented the second of a series of plays in the school hall last Sunday afternoon: Lawrence Brusso, William O'Brien, John Marlin, William Powers, Robert Cox, James Nelson, Betty Aber, Mary J. Cook, Francis Fornan, James Minahan, Michael Kane, Mary Hall, Jean Reidy, Mary F. Lynch, Jean Driscoll, Ellen Sheahan, Rita McKelvie, Jacquelyn Sheahan, Veronica McKelvie, Madeline Sullivan, Margaret Smith, Mary Rita Caverly, Paul McConnell, Paul Kaminski, Clair Young, Joseph Cesare Thomas O'Brien, Benedict Cesare, Arthur Smith, James Caparullo, John Duran, Mary Wolfe, John Stiecher, William Wolfe, Arthur D. Smith, Frances Wolfe, Patricia McConnell, Shirley Kane, John Sheahan, William Young, Buddy Sullivan, Thomas Kane, Margaret Butler, John Flaherty, Agnes Dombroski, Margaret T. Smith, Anna M. Cesare, Arlene Rutski, Paul Daley, Catherine Smith, Geraldine Keavin.

CENTRE DRIVE OVER TOP WITH 2,487 MEMBERS

erected and by the aid of predecessors in office for doing his part in continuing the Columbus Civic Center as a worthy Catholic contribution to social work in Rochester.

"To the people of Rochester I say, I shall ever be ready to do my part and am happy to know that this building with its healthful, educational and social facilities has such backing as you have given evidence of during this campaign."

Chairman Harry B. Crowley of the drive workers presided and introduced various speakers including the Rt. Rev. Msgr. William M. Hart, V. G., the Rev. George Vogt, Tobias J. Roth of the J. Y. M. A., Melvin Swartz of the Y. M. C. A., Councilman Joseph L. Gazzetta, John J. McInerney and Donald A. Dalley, leader of the special sponsoring committee who turned in 1,016 members.

Women Take Part.
At the speaker's table also were leaders of the women's divisions, Mrs. Alice Kirk, Mrs. Richard Fitz-Harris, Mrs. Walter B. O'Neill, Mrs. Martha Wahl, and Mrs. Cora McParlin, Police Chief Andrew J. Kavanaugh, campaign manager, William T. Nolan and the Rev. Dr. Walter N. Foery, director of the Centre.

Besides the excellent work done by the special committee, feature of which was the work of Leo A. MacSweeney, the team captains and individual members efforts were highly commended.

Harry J. Murphy's division was high among the men with 425 members reported. Two women's divisions, that of Mrs. Anthony J. Ryan and that of Mrs. George Weisenel were tied for first place with 153 memberships each. Hening Beck, with 242 members, was high captain among the men and Mrs. Joseph Kaseman high with 68 for the women.

Thomas J. Maloney, with 182 members, and Mrs. Charles Howe, with 31 members were high individuals. Largest cash amounts in memberships were procured by E. Howard Kannan and Mrs. Rose Sullivan.

Standings of the divisions were as follows: Edward J. Flynn, 117; William J. Hauser, 262; Harry J. Murphy, 425; John Williams, 113; Mrs. Harold Dorsey, 103; Mrs. Joseph P. Doyle, 145; Mrs. Anthony J. Ryan, 153; and Mrs. George Weisenel, 153.

The work of the 250 men and women who participated in the campaign proved so successful that Father Foery announced Monday evening, they would be formed into a permanent organization.

Archbishop Marella Going to Japan Post Brings Blessings

the people among whom he is to be displayed by the new Apostolic Delegate to Japan, the Most Rev. Paul Marella, who has left Rome for Tokyo. The Holy See chooses as its representatives prelates who have a deep interest in the countries to which they are named, and it is clear that Archbishop Marella's interest is rather a long nurtured affection.

"As far back as I can remember," explained His Excellency, "Japan has been my country of predilection. I recall years ago beginning by reading of Japan, and then undertaking to study carefully its problems. I have had Japanese friends wherever I have gone, particularly in Washington where I was privileged to make acquaintances with Japanese of rare qualities of mind and soul, which contacts I shall treasure all my life among my most precious friendships."

"I have found nothing more enjoyable in recent years than the consideration of the great forces at work in Japan which make this nation one of the outstanding in the world, particularly in the influence which its culture is to exert on other peoples. It is with real longing, therefore, that I look forward to my arrival."

"True, Catholics in Japan are few, but they have been one of the best possible advertisements for their religion throughout the Western world. Do you desire an example of the courage and of the tenacity of the Japanese? Glean, then, at the story of the Japanese martyrs. Do you wish to know something of the qualities of the Japanese ladies and gentlemen of today, whom so few people in the Western world have met personally? Listen to the excellent things which Catholic priests and Sisters who have lived with them have to say about them. I have never met a priest or Sister who has not been highly enthusiastic about its people.

"I hope and pray that God will deign to use me for His Church in this great country and for the welfare of the people of this great nation."

PRAISES LAND MOVEMENT
London—(NWC)—The time is ripe for a back-to-the-land movement to revive agriculture here and to restore a sane balance between town and country, declared the Most Rev. Richard Downey, Archbishop of Liverpool, in a speech at Manchester in which he sought financial backing for a new plan to encourage rural industries.

CATHOLIC U. DAY WILL BE KEPT SUNDAY

time to be our greatest need. Upon a stable endowment depends stability in professional tenure. For the next fiscal year the university has been compelled to reduce all salaries 10 per cent. This action was taken by the Executive Committee, with great reluctance and for a period of one year. Salaries at Catholic University are, and always have been, at a low level, to be compelled to reduce them, as we were, entails hardships for professors who have devoted their lives to the welfare of the university and to the cause of higher education. It is imperative to find the means to restore teachers' salaries in 1934 to the level of the preceding year and we ask the friends of the university to help us effect this most worthy purpose."

Two national broadcasts have lately helped to focus interest in the Catholic University of America Day, the first presenting His Eminence William Cardinal O'Connell, His Eminence Patrick Cardinal Hayes, Postmaster General Farley, former Governor Alfred E. Smith and Bishop Ryan, the second, presenting Archbishop Francis J. L. Beckman, Archbishop John Gregory Murray and Bishop Ryan.

Widmer's Grape Juices Recommended For Health
Widmer's Natural Grape Juices are made of pure, undiluted juices of the grapes only. They contain only the natural, readily assimilated grape sugar derived from the fruit itself. No cane sugar, preservative, coloring matter, artificial flavor or other foreign material has been added.

Widmer's Natural Grape Juices, made from grapes grown in Naples Valley in the famous Finger Lake district, are unsurpassed. Widmer's Natural Grape Juices are available in two delicious flavors: Catawba, golden in color, unusually fine flavor, made from selected Catawba Grapes, Ives, made from ripe, jet black Ives Grapes, specially processed to produce the rich, natural grape flavor, body and color.

Widmer's Natural Grape Juices are highly recommended by physicians and other authorities on health foods because of their health-giving qualities.

Serve Widmer's Natural Grape Juices for breakfast and give freely to children.
