

Along the Sports Horizon By BILL LANG

With their undefeated teams racing down the first half home stretch at Holy Rosary and St. Boniface. Of course, the sporting faithful who follow the other ten teams in their trials and tribulations may think any pennant winning celebrations quite a bit premature.

If anyone would have been so rash as to forecast that Joe Wisigman could muffle the Holy Family batting guns with one solitary single in nine innings that stands and might have been a put-out with last infield work.

The good signor, he it recorded, works very well with that other signor, Jimmy Terry, aided by Dick Palmer, Ray Intertessen, Jack Shattell, Al Johnson, Ray Sweeney, Clay Gallagher and the rest who may not be signors but are still good.

The victory fast is over at Immaculate Conception and St. Ambrose. These teams turned in their first victories Sunday and report they're at last ready to make a real issue of this pennant battle.

Catholic League thus far, the Immaculate outfit routed Cathedral so completely at Exposition Park that the home boys were ready to call it quits at the end of seven innings.

Twenty-one hits rattled off the bats of the Immaculate team. Ten runs came in one inning—another record for the season.

St. Boniface-St. Andrew set-off developed the interesting fact that whatever uniform he wears Tony Ferreri is still pretty much a ball player.

The good signor, he it recorded, works very well with that other signor, Jimmy Terry, aided by Dick Palmer, Ray Intertessen, Jack Shattell, Al Johnson, Ray Sweeney, Clay Gallagher and the rest who may not be signors but are still good.

If the St. Andrew's boys had eight other men like Ned Baxter, the good signor Ferreri might be just plain signor at this writing.

School League Standings Table with columns for Team, W, L, Pct.

BASEBALL: Going into the fourth week only five teams still keep that 1,000 per cent. In the American St. Stanislaus has only St. Ambrose to fear.

INTERNATIONAL: Sacred Heart and St. Charles have perfect averages. Both are strong teams. Holy Apostles after losing their opener have come back in great fashion by beating Holy Rosary in extra innings.

NATIONAL: St. Monica's holds the only perfect average in this league. And they seem to have the hardest games out of the way.

ODDS AND ENDS: Sacred Heart has two protests to fight out. One against Holy Rosary, and the other with St. Margaret's.

St. Margaret Mary's is showing the way for many larger parishes. They recently entered boys in both the Swimming and Track Meets; they are in the Provincial Baseball League, and now they are one of the first parishes to begin a Catholic Scout Troop following the Bishop's recent recommendation.

CAMP STELLA MARIS: An Italian sends word that he has his plans all made out for the Baseball League and the baseball instructions this summer.
