IT SEEMS TO US:

Many of those people who, as the saying goes, are painting the town red often forget that they are also painting themselves black!

It seems that this very much up-to-date world is also very much up-side-down.

Perhaps it would not be necessary to make an example out of so many of our citizens if someone only had had the foresight to set them an example when they were children.

It is a presumptuous Catholic who will read or listen to anything in order to know, as he says, the opponent's point of view, while strangely enough he is ignorant of the Catholic point of view!

The old-fashioned mother usually warned her boy not to steal because stealing was sinful. The modern parent, however, sometimes tells the modern boy not to steal because he might be sent to jail. Now the modern boy, especially if he has read some modern jail stories, may think that a prison is a most thrilling place and accordingly that stealing is not exceedingly adventurous. It may be, of course, that the threat of jail is the only thing that can keep a boy from being a bad boy. It seems, however, that a boy's good behavior ought to be dependent on something solid like the love of God, rather than on anything so sinister as prison bars.

Father Peasey, S.J., author of "Fish on Friday," offers a solution to all those who experience difficulty in observing the second commandment. This solution consists of a strange looking word: it is full of magic, melody and force. This very soul-reviving expression is "Skeenanarinka!"

Note from our diary — Wednesday, the Feast of the Assumption of the Blessed Virgin Mary! — As we watched the motley crowds attending Mass, saw their devotion, gazed upon the flowers and listened to the singing, we recalled those prophetic words — "from henceforth, all generations shall call me blessed!" Mary spoke the prophecy; we are fulfilling it.

Catholic loyalty! Some day we would like to write a book on this subject. The other day we saw a solicitor request a lady to subscribe to a very good Catholic diocesan newspaper. She dismissed him with a frigid negative and continued to read her movie magazine. (Oh Skeenanarinka!)

Items — They say that Mr. Joseph I. Breen, the new movie censor, is a good Catholic and for a long time has been raging against Hollywood's waywardness. We shall watch. — There is a somewhat new monthly periodical labeled, "The magazine for men." We have seen it and it is not a magazine for gentlemen! — Richard Dana Skinner, show critic for the "Commonweal," censured Will Rogers' picture "Hi and Andy" because of its "spottiness." We agree!

CARDINAL AT MARIAN RITES FLAYS MOVIES

Brings Pope's Request For Prayers To Root Out Bad Film Influence

Portland, Ore. — (NCWC) — That the prayers of the first Marian Congress in the United States, being held at the Sanctuary of Our Sorrowful Mother here, be directed to "utterly rooting out" the evil influence of bad motion pictures was the request made of him by His Holiness Pope Pius XI, His Eminence Alexis Henry Cardinal Lepicier, O.S.M., Prefect of the Sacred Congregation of Religious, revealed in a radio broadcast here Monday.

Cardinal Lepicier, who came here for the Congress in company with the Most Rev. Raphael Baldini, O.S.M., Superior General of the Servite Fathers, declared that he was conveying a message which the Holy Father entrusted to him with special solemnity at the moment of his departure from Rome, when His Holiness commissioned him to convey his blessing to the members of the Congress.

"This word," the Cardinal said, "has reference to the evils brought about in this country, especially among the youth, by an ill-regulated or rather by a downright abuse of the motion picture. The Pope knows what efforts have been made by the Catholic Hierarchy to remove this great evil, and he even condescended to place under my eyes the success already achieved in the field of morals by the prelates of this country. And he, with an emphasis which seemed to me to bear the impress of a divine inspiration, asked me to direct the prayers of the Congress to this noble end of utterly rooting out what, in the abuse of the motion picture, is doing most to injure the faith, the morality, the honesty and happiness of the American people."

Purpose of Congress
The Marian Congress which, in the words of Cardinal Lepicier, has for its object "to assert anew and to clarify the great significance of this title, Mother of Men, given by Jesus to Mary," was opened Sunday. There

NOTED PRIEST-SCHOLARS CONTRIBUTE TO VOLUME FOR 'PAGEANT OF CELT'

Chicago. — (NCWC) — Among the many contributors to "The Book of the Pageant" which is soon to be published in connection with "The Pageant of the Celt," scheduled for presentation at Soldier Field, here, on the nights of August 28 and 29, are three scholarly priests who enjoy wide reputations in their distinctive fields of learning.

The Rev. Hugh O'Gallagher, C.S.C., of the University of Notre Dame, is the author of an article entitled "An Taisneamh Seachulach Gaedaelach," (The Irish Pageant), which is written in the Gaelic language. Father O'Gallagher is a native Gaelic speaker and an authority on Irish literature. Owing to the fact that it is almost impossible to find Gaelic type in this country, Father O'Gallagher's article will be reproduced in "The Book of the Pageant" in its original written form, plates having been made from his hand written manuscript. FR. BURGER OF REDEMPTORISTS DIES, AGE 61

Funeral in Baltimore; Was Known Here for Work Among Deaf-Mutes

News of the death on Monday of the Rev. Charles Burger, C.S.S.R., 61, in the Bon Secour Hospital, Baltimore has saddened a host of friends in Rochester, particularly those who were his special care, the Catholic Deaf-Mutes of Rochester Diocese, when received here. The funeral services will be conducted in St. Michael's Church, Friday at 10 a. m.

Father Burger left Rochester last February because of poor health after nine years as assistant rector of St. Joseph's Church, Rochester.

Showing a deep concern for those handicapped in speech and hearing, Father Burger, expert in use of the sign language, was given charge of the Catholic Deaf-Mutes of the Rochester Diocese in 1928.

He served as "pastor" for his charges, conducting special services for them in St. Joseph's Church and later was able to provide St. Francis de Sales Chapel in St. Joseph's Hall as a "parish" church.

Born in Baltimore, July 27, 1873, he attended St. Alphonsus Church in Baltimore. He attended the Preparatory Seminary in North East, Pa., starting in August 1887. He entered the Redemptorist novitiate at Annapolis, Md., June 21, 1893.

Father Burger took his religious vows, August 2, 1894 in St. Mary's Church, Annapolis, and began his seminary course, September 1894. He was ordained at Ilchester, Md., by His Eminence Cardinal James Gibbons, December 21, 1899, and said his first Mass in St. Alphonsus Church, Baltimore, 1899 on Christmas Day.

Conferees in the Redemptorist Order here in Rochester mourn the passing of one who had been held in high esteem throughout the congregation.

WINS STATE POETRY PRIZE

Kansas City (NCWC) — Louis Mendus, a student of St. Teresa's College, here, has won first prize in the State of Missouri for the best poem of any junior college student. The award was made at the University of Missouri.

will likewise give those unacquainted with the Celtic character the opportunity to see them as they are written today.

Another article accepted for "The Book of the Pageant" is from the pen of the Rev. Thomas Talbot, C.M., of the English Department of DePaul University. Father Talbot's subject is "The Celtic Revival" and in it he traces the literary movement in Ireland from its inception to the present day.

The Rev. Bernard A. Foote, S.J., a member of the faculty of Loyola University, Chicago, is the author of "Ireland, the Monastery of Nations," which brings the religious note into "The Book of the Pageant." Father Foote has long been a close student of Irish culture, as was his father, the late Peter Foote, who was a professor at the old University of St. Mary-of-the-Lake, one of Chicago's pioneer institutions of higher learning.

100,000 YOUTHS EXPECTED TO USE U. S. AID

Catholic Colleges of Country To Co-operate in Student Relief Program

Washington. — Catholic colleges and universities in various parts of the country are planning to co-operate in the student aid program of the Federal Emergency Relief Administration.

Institutions of a collegiate or university character, which are non-profit-making, and which require at least the equivalent of a high school graduation for admission of regular students to the principal courses, are eligible to receive Federal funds for student employment. The responsibility for employment of students rests with the college or university receiving funds for this purpose. Students who desire to apply for such employment must make application to the college or university they wish to attend, regardless of its location. The funds to be used to pay for student employment will be advanced to the educational institutions that are eligible to receive it. Payments to individual students for services rendered will be made by institutions thus qualified. Money will not be lent. It will be paid to accepted students for socially valuable work. The work for which students may be paid from relief funds may be either in the institution, such as clerical, library or research work; or outside, such as extension work, adult education, recreation supervision, or other work that "increases the usefulness of the college to the community." Aid will be limited to students who otherwise would not be able to attend college. Students may supplement income received from Federal funds by doing other work, if they so desire. Eligibility of individual students will be determined by the institution concerned.

The maximum amount to be earned by students shall not exceed $20 in any one month. The monthly rate of pay shall be such as is commonly paid by college or university, but shall not be less than 30 cents an hour. The average amount to be earned per student is $15 a month. The Federal Emergency Relief Administration has authorized a program of part time employment for approximately 100,000 college and university students during the 1934-35 school year. These students will be paid approximately $13,500,000 during the school year, or about $1,500,000 a month for nine months. About 75,000 students were aided last year.

K. of C. Is Called To Renew Film Decency Crusade

Detroit. — (NCWC) — "This convention should express in strongest terms its condemnation of both the immoral and vice-teaching films and those who continue to be responsible for their production, and pledge to the Committee of Bishops sponsoring the Legion of Decency the vigorous and continued support of the Knights of Columbus," Martin H. Carmody, Supreme Knight, declared in presenting his report to the fifty-second annual meeting of the K. of C. here today.

William F. McGinley, Supreme Secretary, reported that as of June 30, 1934, the Knights of Columbus had a total of 454,763 members in 2,469 Councils spread throughout the United States, Canada, the Philippine Islands, Panama, Cuba, Mexico, Puerto Rico, Newfoundland and Alaska.

Supreme Knight Carmody told the delegates that "this convention shall not be unmindful of the present opportunities for a Catholic Action under the immediate direction of our Episcopal leaders," and listed as "foremost among these" the concerted action by the Hierarchy of America "to bring directly home to all citizens and particularly to all Catholics the great source of evil that lies in the vicious films that are being advertised and presented for the entertainment of the public."

Washington, (NCWC) — The Rev. Richard S. Cartwright, C. S. P., has been appointed rector of the Apostolic Mission House, here and Editor of the Missionary, succeeding the Rev. Thomas A. Daly, C. S. P., who goes to the Motherhouse of the Community, in New York, as first counselor to the Superior General, the Very Rev. John B. Harney, C. S. P. Father Cartwright assumed his duties at the Apostolic Mission House on August 15.

CENTRAL VEREIN CONVENTION ACTS THROUGH RESOLUTIONS ON TIMELY SOCIAL PROBLEMS

ARCHBISHOP TAKES PART IN CONVENTION

Addresses Mass Meeting
Lauding Central Verein
Efforts For Social Justice

Manifesting special interest in the conventions here of the Catholic Central Verein of America and the National Catholic Women's Union, the Most Rev. Archbishop Edward Mooney celebrated solemn pontifical Mass, Sunday in St. Joseph's Church and addressed the mass meeting Sunday afternoon in Columbus Civic Center Auditorium.

There is to my knowledge no society in the United States which has done so much to keep before our people the social principles of the Catholic Church as the Catholic Central Verein of America," the Archbishop said in addressing the mass meeting.

After expressing his own hearty welcome to the delegates of the Catholic Central Verein and the National Catholic Women's Union, and announcing the regrets of the Apostolic Delegate, the Most Rev. Amleto Giovanni Cicognani at not being able to be present, the Archbishop told the delegates that the voice proclaiming the Church's principles of social justice is a voice listened to with respect, admiration and enthusiasm.

Message of Salvation
Declaring that "the message of salvation is in very truth a message of salvation," the Archbishop expressed pleasure that the delegates were taking up the question of the Restoration of the family. Expressing a wish that thousands of Catholics would become aroused to sacred enthusiasm.

Tell Sufferings Of Polish Priests In Prisons of Russia

Warsaw. (NCWC) — Word of the frightful sufferings of Polish priests imprisoned in Soviet Russia is given in a dispatch from the Moscow correspondent of the Polish Catholic Press Agency.

Many of these sufferers for the faith spent the bad season in the most terrible circumstances, packed together with criminals of all kinds in very small houses or in barracks. These barracks are overcrowded. In rooms, the size of eight steps in length and seven in breadth, 10 to 30 prisoners are heaped together. In the barracks there are several tiers of bunks for 300 to 350 persons.

The food in the barracks is awful. Its basis is of course bread, of which each prisoner receives 200 to 300 grams daily. In the morning a very small quantity of gruel is given, literally 3 to 5 spoonfuls. A little vegetable oil is added to the gruel. Dinner consists of one dish; either cabbage soup or millet-seed soup with stale dried fish, or stale meat. For supper the prisoners receive only boiled water.

And now there is news brought of an increased anti-religious campaign by the GPU. To attain their aim more surely, the Soviets resolved to exterminate first of all those few priests who are still in Russia. The atheistic action is directed chiefly against the Catholic Church.
