ACCOUNTANCY AND a C.P.A.

by Ernest W. Veigel, Jr.

President, Rochester Business Institute

Surrounded as we are by C.W.A., N.R.A., P.W.A., and A.A.A., it is quite natural that there should be misunderstandings regarding the alphabetical designation "C. P. A." I might say first of all that these initials have nothing whatever to do with government bureaus. They stand for Certified Public Accountant.

In the realm of accounting the letters C. P. A. have unusual significance. The individual entitled to their use is the object of special respect, I might even say, envy. Not everyone, it seems, knows just how this degree is obtained, or why it is particularly coveted. Perhaps the most common error is the belief that C. P. A. represents a college degree.

No university or college is empowered to grant the C. P. A. degree. After finishing a prescribed course of study at an accredited school, the applicant must demonstrate in actual practice his ability in the accounting field. His original preparation must include a four year high school course and (I quote the C. P. A. manual) a "course of study in a college or school of accountancy registered by the department as maintaining a satisfactory standing." "Department" in this case refers to the Education Department of the State of New York.

It will be seen from this that the matter of initial preparation is most important. Although the Education Department has not as yet designated its list of institutions from which candidates will be deemed eligible, their selection will undoubtedly be from among schools best equipped and longest established.

Not all accounting students aspire to the C. P. A. degree. Many achieve success through special fields. At R. B. I. students are encouraged through the Pace and Pace method to lay the complete foundation necessary. Having acquired this thorough basic training one may or may not later wish to enter competitive examinations before the state board of examiners.

The Pace and Pace method of accountancy preparation used at R. B. I. is divided into seven semesters. Subjects range through record forms, partnerships, corporation accounts, industrial accounts, foreign and branch records, and special accounting phases—together with a groundwork in law for each subject.

R. B. I. is registered by the Board of Regents of the University of the State of New York. It offers both day school and night school courses in this field. Night school classes (semesters A and C) start Wednesday evening, September 26. The next day school date for entrance is October 1.

Accounting offers at the present time one of the most promising fields open to young men and women. The C. P. A. degree is indeed a worthy goal of accomplishment. In any case where information as to opportunities or courses of study in this field are desired—do not hesitate to call upon me personally at the Institute offices, or telephone the R. B. I. Registrar, Main 3869.—(Adv.)

Liturgical Arts

A QUARTERLY DEVOTED TO THE ARTS OF THE CATHOLIC CHURCH

SURELY you must know some priest or sister or seminarian to whom Liturgical Arts would be an inspiration! And it is about as inexpensive, and yet appropriate, a token of your esteem as you can find in these hard times. Only two dollars a year for this splendid and beautiful publication! Irene Cooper, president, were retained in office at the annual election meeting of the Auburn Deanery, National Council of Catholic Women, held last Tuesday evening at the Catholic Daughters of America Home in South Street. The members voted unanimously to retain the present officers until January so that important business now before the organization may be completed by those under whom it was started at the annual Diocesan convention at Rochester in October.

Dean of St. Joseph College, Brooklyn Speaker Named On Program Sunday For 10th Anniversary of Nazareth College

Formal ceremonies Sunday afternoon will commemorate the tenth anniversary of Nazareth College, conducted by the Sisters of St. Joseph, with a Foundation Day program sponsored by the Alumnae Association being held on the college campus, Augustine St. This year also marks the largest Freshmen registration in the history of the college, and a record total enrollment of students, numbering 225, when the institution began the 1934-35 school year on September 12.

The Rev. William T. Dillon, J. D., Dean of St. Joseph's College for Women, Brooklyn, N. Y., will be the principal guest speaker, according to Miss Helen Gunterl, general chairman of Foundation Day. Alumnae speakers on the program are as follows: Word of Welcome, Miss Adelaide Biesenbach, '30; Reminiscing, Miss Marcella Reichenberger, '28; Toast To College, Miss Betty Griffin, '33. Sister Teresa Marie, dean of Nazareth college, will address the gathering. Singing of the college hymn, O Salutamus, will conclude the official observance.

Ceremonies, which begin at 1:30 P. M. will be followed by a formal tea. Class reunions are scheduled for some time during the weekend prior to Foundation Day. Miss Gunterl is being assisted by the committee chairmen: The Misses Alma Lou Ginnity, Estelle Mehan, Mabel Perdue and Mary Moran. General arrangement committee includes: Mrs. W. Gorsuch, the Misses Margaret Leary, Adelaide Biesenbach, Eleanor Craig, Grace Murray, Virginia Kirch, Mildred Durnherr, Betsy Jones, student representative.

The Rev. Walter A. Foery, pastor of Holy Rosary Church, celebrated the annual opening Mass last Wednesday and addressed the students advising them to remember that "a college education should fit us for a livelihood and at the same time fit us to live."

"The Catholic College girl is judged," Father Foery said, "not so much by her intellectual attainments as by her Moral Excellence . . . the honesty of your speech, the nobility of your thoughts, the rectitude of your conduct. The standard of this excellence does not depend upon the fancy of human beings, it is measured by those ten laws of right action, which were engraved not only upon the tablets of stone on Mt. Sinai, but on the fleshy tablets of every human heart."

Out of the 77 students in the entrance class, 25 are out-of-town students from every part of the diocese. One Freshman is a resident of Mexico City, Mexico, but the remaining 24 live nearer Rochester; four from Geneva and Auburn; 2 from Hornell, Oswego and Canandaigua; one representing each of the following places: New Rochelle, N. Concerning Our Catholic Schools

By SCHOLASTIO

"James Cardinal Gibbons, A Great American," is the subject of the eleventh annual Fourth Degree, Knights of Columbus prize essay contest for junior and senior high school students in all accredited public, parochial and private high schools, according to word received from John H. Reddin, of Denver, Supreme Master.

Complete rules and dates governing the contest will be given in this column in a short time. Begin now and read up about Cardinal Gibbons.

Second reminder for news. If the Catholic schools are considered of sufficient importance to have a special column in the CATHOLIC COURIER, why not supply up-to-date news immediately. Report every month; have your school represented as progressing and aiding greater Catholic education?

Boys and girls read the following and then think twice before seeing a motion picture which is not recommended: "My parents are giving me a Catholic education to teach me how to save my soul. They want me to be strong enough to do right from wrong, and to be strong enough to do the right. If I attend moving pictures which show wrong as right I shall grow up unable to distinguish between the two. I may even lose my soul because of such pictures. Therefore: if my pastor, teacher, or parents tell me a movie is wrong, I shall not go to it. In this way I shall protect myself against spiritual harm, and also cooperate with the Church's campaign against indecent moving pictures." You aren't going to tease Dad and Mother anymore to see a picture that is wrong, are you?

Offer Membership In Orchestra To Catholic High, College Graduates

Flower City Orchestra, non-sectarian group, under the direction of Leonard Elmwood of Eastman School of Music, has resumed rehearsals for the third year of organization under A. A. Carroll.

Sponsored by the Columbus Civic Center, this orchestral club meets every Monday evening at 8 o'clock in the Columbus Building.

The purpose of the orchestra is to enable high school graduates to continue their musical education and training. The number of such a group is necessarily limited and this year there are a few places still open to graduates of Catholic high schools and colleges. If interested, call Mr. Carroll at Glenwood 2217.

Holy Name men deserve cooperation in COURIER CAMPAIGN.
