Along the Sports Horizon

By BILL LANG

When the fabled Four Horsemen of Notre Dame charged across the nation's gridirons not so many years back, they were toast to the skies.

So strongly was the spotlight focused on the deeds of this quartet that everyone, with the possible exception of the Four Horsemen themselves, forgot that Notre Dame had seven other men on the forward line.

Now without casting any disparagement on the Aquinas backfield to date, let's glance around at the Maroon who those deadly end runs of the opposition. While we are primarily concerned with the Aquinas line this week, you can't escape mentioning that powerhouse of the backfield, "Ducky" Hirschman, who executes those off tackle plays like a big time star.

When the game ended, Notre Dame was on the long end of an 18-7 score due to the brilliant backfield work of George Molinkovich, Fred Carideo, Wallace Frohman and Mike Layden.

Football, after all, is public entertainment and here's three phases of it picked from the week's scores: Drama-Fordham's 6-0 victory over Boston College in the Columbus Day battle between the two great Jesuit schools.

BOYS Their Interests

"And then Jack climbed higher and higher. He climbed for ages and ages. Finally he looked up and saw - what do you think? A giant! Yes sir, a giant!"

Modern educators do not like parables, stories or fairy tales. The educators of Detroit have decreed that all fairy tales must be banished from the schools in that fair city.

Of course the children in Detroit are going to be taught facts. No more fairy tales! No sir, not one!

Special Note. The two-headed giant is a very special species of the giant clan. He is much more delicate than the one-headed kind, and can be slain more easily with a sword.

Aquinas warriors will receive their supreme test Saturday when they face the Niagara Frosh. With plenty of material with a heavy and fast line, and with plenty of forwards, we look forward to victory for the Maroon and White.

Sports do not make sportsmanship. So said we some time ago and received a few thin smiles. But the smiles are thinner since the World's Series when both sides disarranged themselves by spiking each other gloriously.

Movies were taken this summer at Camp and considering amateur operators, they look fine. Plans are being made to allow the different parishes to borrow the roll by leaving it in the Education Office at Columbus Civic Center.

Knights of Columbus League. The Indians were the only ones able to sweep clean in the K. of C. League this week, winning all three from the Santos while the Guards, Klutes and Puritans registered a pair of victories apiece over the Nines, Pintas and Oriens.

St. Augustine's Men's Smoker Set October 24

The newly organized Men's Club of St. Augustine's parish will conduct a smoker and entertainment in the school hall, Chill Avenue, Wednesday evening, October 24.

A card of boxing bouts will be presented featuring Jimmy Downes, Herman Webster, Joe Leone and Max Blahop in exhibitions. Several national league baseball stars will be present and will deliver talks on the recent world's series.

Chubby Brown is chairman of the smoker assisted by Jack Plant. The show will begin at 9 p. m. and a capacity crowd is anticipated by those in charge of the event.

Catholic Courier CARRIERS

We expect 100% attendance of the Rochester carrier boys at the meeting next Saturday morning. We realize that Saturdays are devoted to sports and other free day activities but that is the best day available for us.

Carriers outside the city are also concerned in the matters to be presented. They will be contacted through the mail.

Notice. Together with next week's issue, we are presenting the OFFICIAL DIOCESAN REVIEW AND ANNUAL CALENDAR as a supplement. Be sure to insert them before you start out on your routes.

different activities of the day, including craft work, baseball, swimming, etc. One of the high lights is the ball game between the Columbian Squares and the championship baseball team from St. Monica's.

St. Francis High of Geneva has entered the football arena after several years of retirement. Here's hoping that they have a good team, and will be able within a year or two to battle Aquinas for diocesan championship!

Caill of St. John's snared games of 211 each. Corpus Christi dropped a pair to Blessed Sacrament on the strength of Lang's consistent pinning which reached a 596 total and included games of 203 and 226.
