Along the Sports Horizon

By BILL LANG

The Nazareth College football game is off. This definite decision has been reached by college authorities after a series of futile attempts to bring together two outstanding teams for the second annual building fund game in mid-November.

their hearty support to this new venture whatever it may be.

But football game is no football game, Nazareth College is ready to step out with a basketball team of its very own.

Yes, it's true, the girls are going in for the court game. They're holding a practice session at the Columbus Civic Center this week and have booked a game, 'tis said.

Coach Johnny Sullivan's Aquinas warriors stepped out of their class for a brief hour at Edgerton Park this weekend and a group of frontier huskies from Niagara ran roughshod over the Maroon and White.

This is the second successive year that the Aquinas team has suffered a reverse of this nature at the hands of the frosh but the result cannot be construed as derogatory to the fine record which Sullivan's charges are piling up on the gridiron against foes in their own class.

Despite the slight difference in age, there is a vast chasm between the game as played by high school boys and college freshmen. A high school team may be selected of rather average-sized lads capable of holding their own against opposition in their own class but a college frosh outfit is generally picked by a coach who has his eyes on brawn as well as brains with a view toward the grueling varsity battles in years to come.

Naturally when teams of these opposite make-up meet, the little fellow must yield to his huskier opponent. The schedule makers at Aquinas might keep that in mind in considering college freshman teams as opponents in future years.

The pre-game dope bucket has been spilled far and wide across the nation's gridiron frontiers and favorites are falling into discard like so many autumnal leaves.

Conquerors of Southern California in the Rose Bowl last January, the snarling Columbia Lions fell to Navy and immediately the middies visioned their first victory over the Army in recent years. Minnesota's Golden Gophers sprang a sensation-soaked rally in the final quarter to down Pitt and take the lead in the mythical race for a mythical national crown.

Notre Dame shook off its jinx of recent years to put the skies under Carnegie's Skibos before a sparse crowd and Holy Cross passed its way to a one-sided decision over fair Harvard.

The Gaels of St. Mary's dropped the mighty Fordham Rams for the second successive year in another story book contest and Detroit and Villanova pounded each other across the gridiron to a scoreless tie.

Before an appreciative audience fairly bubbling over with the victory split and parish pride, Holy Rosary, a 1932-33-34 champions of the Catholic Baseball League were feted at a banquet in the school basement the other night.

A 236 single game and a 582 total gave Joe Gaffney all the honors there were to acquire in this week's league session.

Secretary Bill Staub garnered 216. Other games over the double century mark were Swartz with 215, Owen with 212, Austing with 204, Wahl with 202 and Schoeneman with 201. Pintas, Ninas, Guards and Orions won two apiece from the Puritans, Indians, Santas and Klutes.

Knights of St. John League Charley Mura is at it again. The demon statistician hurls his first bundle of facts and figures at the bowling public this week and they're bound to leave anyone reeling.

For instance, did you know that in the first few weeks of the season, the Knights of St. John circuit has witnessed four 600 totals, 88 two hundred games, 1,062 strikes, 1,306 spares, 373 splits, 29 splits picked, 844 misses and 22 (yes, twenty-two) sewers.

And so, with Charley's aid you can go straight down the list. Why it's like looking into the private life of every bowler! Suffice to say, H. Ritz of St. Boniface is leading the individuals with a 1067 average while Jacques Maritain Will Visit Notre Dame U.

Notre Dame, Ind. (NCWC)—Jacques Maritain, brilliant French Catholic philosopher and author, will interrupt his current tour of the United States to visit the University of Notre Dame on October 27 and 28, it was announced by university officials today.

St. Boniface, St. Michael's and St. George's are tied for top place with nine straight victories apiece. Ritz did some fancy pinning last week to take the lead when he rapped out a 628 count to lead the Bonnies to a triple victory over St. Cathedral. The eminent Mr. Joe Gutberlet of St. Michael's tapped out a 606 score to help his team to three straight over St. Bernard's. Augie Maier wasn't far behind with 606.

Ed Bach, Sr., showed the way in St. George's triple win over St. Peter's and Paul's with a 588 total. In the other match of the week, St. Mauritius won two contests from St. Eustace, thanks to the plugging of F. Kress with 591. Muhleisen's 568 was best for St. Eustace.

H. R. A. A. League The highest individual game of the week in Catholic pinning circles was hung up by Scheuch of Ace Drugs in this circuit with a 264 count sandwiched in between games of 183 and 183. Scheuch's score however failed to prevent Miller's Inn from winning three straight. The winners were paced by George Vinette's fine 590 total.

L. Schleuter of Father Stauder's Boosters came through with a fine 606, piecing together games of 166, 218 and 222. As a result the Boosters took two of three decisions from Yanki's Market.

In the other H. R. A. A. League match, Hodder's Grill bowled out a twin decision over Meyers Shoes. The game was devoid of 200 scores but E. Walls proved high for both teams with a 196 score.

"But Dorothy, aren't you getting Jack and Bill confused?" "Sure, I get Jack confused one night and Bill the next."
