

St. Joseph's Church
Wednesdays Novena
To Begin Jan. 23rd

A solemn Novena of Wednesdays in honor of Our Lady of Perpetual Help will start in St. Joseph's Church, Franklin Street on Wednesday, Jan. 23 in preparation for the Feast of the Annunciation. Services will be as usual after the 8 o'clock Mass, 12:15, 3:30, 5:30 and 8 p. m. Services will be conducted by the Redemptorist Fathers in charge of St. Joseph's Church.

Hospital Flower Guild
Semi-Annual Party Set

Auburn.—The Flower Guild of Mercy Hospital will conduct its semi-annual social party, Friday evening, Feb. 1, in the Pompeian and Lounge Rooms of Hotel Osborne. Miss Mary R. Lynch has been named general chairman of this function. Assisting Miss Lynch with the arrangements are: Ticket Committee, Mrs. Clara Alexander, chairman; Elizabeth Scollan, Betty McGeever, Miss Keenan, Helen Conroy, Helen Maloney, Veronica Mantion, Helen Mitchell, Mildred Donovan and Katherine Swenick; Music Committee, Miss Nellie Hissett, chairman; the Misses Marion Corrigan and Laura Farley, Novelty Committee; Miss Ruth Rice, chairman; the Misses Catherine Coffey, Regina Engler and Loretta Donahue; Publicity Committee, Miss Mary Agnes Brennan, chairman.

MOONLIGHT MANOR
A Romantic Story
With Scenes Laid in the Genesee Valley

By AGNES HORSCH HOFMASTER

(Continued from last week)
CHAPTER III
The Cross-Ward Puzzle
For a moment after Eileen had turned her back upon him, Larry Weyburn stood stock still, looking after her as she went determinedly up the Normal School walk. Then he did something he had never in all his twenty-one years thought of doing before. And he thought of it there on the public curbstone.
He held up his big, work-tough hands and inspected them minutely. He thrust forth his huge, high-gaited foot and eyed it. He gazed with displeasure upon the rickety, patched-up Ford touring car and said, "Damn," audibly. And all those queer things that he did this last was the strangest thing Larry, big, clean-hearted youth that he was, had never found any need for explosives to express his sane and nature-loving views upon anything.
He swung his overalled leg over the tied-up door of the "chariot" and stepped on the gas, with such force, that the astonished vehicle leaped forward with a mad lurch. It would have upset a less truthful, sturdy car. But Larry never noticed the jolt nor the rattling ghanes cast after him as he tore down the road.
Introspection
What he was thinking about was the fine, steady hands that had helped him carry the handsome, uncomely and unknown led from his car to Mom's spare bedroom like the parlor. Those hands looked like an embodiment of all the things that any man ought to want to be. Well kept, and strong, and what they really were, but Larry just knew that they were the hands of a man who had done things that were like the conquering hero, riding on a white horse, with the ultraprofessional, black mare, galloping and tossing his head, as if some one were riding astride her. Yes, Larry Weyburn belonged on a horse—in overalls and high leather boots.
And that is the very thought that crossed Orren Kennedy's mind when Larry came prancing by, bare back and cracking whip with a light air.
"Oh, God! To feel like that again!" he thought, half clenching his hands in his pockets. Those hands that Larry had thought looked so fine and steady and a symbol of inner steadiness and strength.
Orren Kennedy was innately steady and worthy, true enough. But he had lost his nerve. All his energy was to get away from every man and everything he had ever been—and known and done. Hiking, and riding, and tramping, and hiking again, in unknown cities and towns and over the countryside, he had at last come to Moonlight Manor, beautiful, solitary, and with glistening arms reaching out to the sky, and a luminous June day when it had seemed he had come to the end of the world.
He had stood for five minutes, very still in the road and tried to realize that since this was the end of the world, it would be a good idea to get walking. So he went up the drive, with his honey-suckle and blue and yellow-eyed violets on either side and rang the bell with the old-fashioned clanger.
The vision of health and beauty that opened the door to him seemed a different world from the one he'd inhabited. And it seemed like a dream when he heard himself agreeing with Maryana O'Doone that he was Mr. Kennedy. It was according to the plan that had called and it was hot. The little brook that chuckled happily in the morning, lay, sleepily under the not the Kennedy expected, but until the harm in asking the goods the gods provided? "That," he supposed, to know Andrea well enough to call her by her first name did not seem to clear. He just accepted Maryana's information and decided to wait for further developments. He did not know they were slips.

Interest Grows As Annual Auto Show
Dates Draw Nearer

Rochester's 27th annual Auto Show which will be staged at Edgerton Park, January 27 to 30, will be not only the most beautiful, but the most interesting that has ever been seen here, according to Arthur C. Lohman, show manager.
"The new 1935 automobiles mark a new high-point in automotive history," said Mr. Lohman. "The American automobile manufacturers are working ceaselessly to offer the public a better product. Each year their efforts are crowned with new success. We feel that our annual Auto Show must keep pace with the achievements of the manufacturers. Hence, our show must be better each year."
Lohman called attention to the fact that the American automobile industry is one of the great industrial forces of the world, 75 per cent of the world's automobiles made in the United States, he said. One out of every five people in the United States and its possessions owns a car. In the year 1934 there was a 45 per cent increase in sales over 1933.
These figures help to show the magnitude of this industry and also help to explain the widespread interest each year in the Auto Shows at the city. The show this year, he predicted, will be the best ever staged in Rochester. It will be staged in buildings which are being used for restaurant and rest room purposes.

Cathedral Knights
And Ladies in Joint Installation Rites

Cathedral Commandery, No. 106 and Ladies Auxiliary No. 262, Knights of St. John held their annual installation banquet, Jan. 10, at the Church Hall, 100 University Ave. The Rt. Rev. Magr. Charles E. Shay, pastor of the Cathedral, was guest of honor.
The banquet marked the fifth anniversary of the organization of Ladies Auxiliary No. 262 in the Cathedral parish. Mrs. Anne Loughlin from St. Peter and Paul's parish acted as Grand Mistress. For actual purposes, the Ladies Auxiliary of St. Eustace Auxiliary, taking the part of installing Deputy Grand Mistress, were installed. Past President, Mary K. Keller; President, Maud Murphy; First Vice President, Mabel Hall; Second Vice President, Mary Heaton; Recording and Corresponding Secretary, Helen W. Bittner; Financial Secretary, Mrs. Bell Philip; Treasurer, Olive Larocque; Social Secretary, Mrs. George O'Connell; Secretary, Mrs. Charles K. Keller; Stacia Hubler and Teresa Stevensky.
Aide de Camp, Louis J. Hoffner, and Aide de Camp, Thomas Murray, installed officers in the Commandery, No. 106, at Edgerton Park. Francis Scott, First Vice President; Valentine Schaefer, Recording Secretary; Charles Keller, Financial Secretary; Major Joseph J. Keller, Treasurer; Peter Fennedy, Andrew O'Brien, William Smith and Thomas Hartley, also in the military rank; Captain Francis Keller, First Vice Commander; Charles Keller, Second Vice Commander; Richard Carey.

Card Party Jan. 25 in Annunciation Parish

Another of the series of card parties being held for the benefit of the Annunciation Parish, will take place Friday evening, Jan. 25, at the Church Hall, 100 University Ave. The party will be given by the Annunciation Parish, under the leadership of all friends of the parish. Refreshments served. The games of cards will be played in the evening.

The Working Man's Store
J. J. KIRCHER'S DRY GOODS STORE
Where Your Money "Talks"
Men's, Women's, Children's Wear of Best Quality
We Give Green Trading Stamps
190 CAMPBELL ST. PHONE GENESEE 1222 OPEN EVENINGS

RYAN & McINTEE SERVICE
IS THE BEST AND COSTS NO MORE
B. LEO McINTEE
THE FUNERAL HOME NON-SECTARIAN
CALL STONE 1464

ANDREWS MARKET, Inc.
WHERE MEAT IS ALWAYS FRESH AND CLEAN
71-73 FRONT STREET
Special Attention to Phone Orders Phone: Mols 2547-2548

SHEET MUSIC — METHODS
ORCHESTRATIONS
MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS
EXPERTLY REPAIRED
A Large Stock of
New & Reconditioned
Musical Instruments
Always On Hand
WALKER and ADAMS
Music House
97 CLINTON AVE. SO. STONE 2145

USE
VITAMIN D MILK
BRIGHTON PLACE
DAIRY CO.
GLENWOOD 114

ASK YOUR DOCTOR
Why Prescriptions Must Be Filled Accurately
He'll tell you, "Accurate filling of prescriptions (the right ingredients in the right amounts) is necessary to meet the exact requirements of each case." At Paine's you are sure of getting exactly what your doctor ordered for you.
The Paine Drug Company
Established 1820 24-26 MAIN ST. EAST Rochester, N. Y.

1831—Rochester's Oldest Financial Institution—1935
Do You Remember?
On January 9, 1920, the Franklin Street office of the Rochester Savings Bank first opened its doors for business. All in the community were invited to inspect this latest contribution to Rochester's progress. Thousands came, and the building was kept open additional hours to accommodate all.
This week, our Franklin Street office is marking its seventh anniversary. The opening seems like only yesterday; yet, by opening an account on that day for only $2.00 and adding $2.00 every week, you would now have nearly $800.00.
Why not mark the seventh anniversary of the opening of our Franklin Street office by starting a savings account and depositing in it a certain amount each week? Semi-annual dividends (interest), the ally of all savers, will help you reach your goal.
THERE IS NO SUBSTITUTE FOR A SAVINGS ACCOUNT
Rochester Savings Bank
47 Main St. W. —Two Offices— 40 Franklin St.
Banking Hours: 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.
Saturdays: 9 A. M. to 12 M.
Resources Over $68,000,000.00
1831—MORE THAN 100 YEARS OF SERVICE... 1935

He took a long trembling breath. He seemed suddenly to expand and feel very light. "Gosh!" he murmured softly. And again that unaccountable thing happened. He forgot the back of Larry's head, he belonged if appearance alone were anything. For here he seemed like the conquering hero, riding on a white horse, with the ultraprofessional, black mare, galloping and tossing his head, as if some one were riding astride her. Yes, Larry Weyburn belonged on a horse—in overalls and high leather boots.
And that is the very thought that crossed Orren Kennedy's mind when Larry came prancing by, bare back and cracking whip with a light air.
"Oh, God! To feel like that again!" he thought, half clenching his hands in his pockets. Those hands that Larry had thought looked so fine and steady and a symbol of inner steadiness and strength.
Orren Kennedy was innately steady and worthy, true enough. But he had lost his nerve. All his energy was to get away from every man and everything he had ever been—and known and done. Hiking, and riding, and tramping, and hiking again, in unknown cities and towns and over the countryside, he had at last come to Moonlight Manor, beautiful, solitary, and with glistening arms reaching out to the sky, and a luminous June day when it had seemed he had come to the end of the world.
He had stood for five minutes, very still in the road and tried to realize that since this was the end of the world, it would be a good idea to get walking. So he went up the drive, with his honey-suckle and blue and yellow-eyed violets on either side and rang the bell with the old-fashioned clanger.
The vision of health and beauty that opened the door to him seemed a different world from the one he'd inhabited. And it seemed like a dream when he heard himself agreeing with Maryana O'Doone that he was Mr. Kennedy. It was according to the plan that had called and it was hot. The little brook that chuckled happily in the morning, lay, sleepily under the not the Kennedy expected, but until the harm in asking the goods the gods provided? "That," he supposed, to know Andrea well enough to call her by her first name did not seem to clear. He just accepted Maryana's information and decided to wait for further developments. He did not know they were slips.

CLYDE
By HAROLD NICHOLS
Clyde—A wedding and two funerals within three hours Saturday morning, Jan. 12, provided an unusually active day for the Rev. J. Curtin, and his assistant, the Rev. F. H. Turner.
At 9 o'clock Father Curtin celebrated a nuptial mass after performing the marriage of John Pace and Miss Santa Filici, both of whom were from Italy to be a cobbler in his father's shop. Recently he sent for the "girl back home" his bride Saturday.
The funeral of James Mann, 78, who died Jan. 8, took place 10 o'clock. Father Curtin and Father Turner were assisted in the solemn requiem mass by the Rev. John Neary of Monticello. Burial was in St. John's Cemetery.
At 11 o'clock Father Turner officiated at the funeral of Miss Mary Alice McCullen, who died Jan. 10. Miss McCullen, one of the best known members of the parish, was for 42 years ticket agent and telegrapher at the New York Central Railroad station in Clyde. She resided five years ago. A native of Savannah, she had resided in Clyde 47 years. The body was taken to Rochester for burial in the McCullen lot in Holy Sepulcher Cemetery.

PRAY FOR ENIGMANTS
Rome—(NCWC)—At the suggestion of the Sacred Consistorial Congregation, the Italian Hierarchy ordered a day of special prayer throughout Italy for the spiritual welfare of Italian emigrants. Collections were taken up in all the parishes to aid in the work of this apostolate.

Haubner Chosen Head
Of Funeral Directors
In Eleventh District
Edward E. Haubner was elected president of the Eleventh District Funeral Directors' Association at the annual meeting held Monday, Jan. 14 in Hotel Seneca.
At the meeting, John W. Matile, chairman of the Code Authority addressed the members.
Other officers named to serve with President Haubner were: Vice Presidents, R. Clinton Monroe County; F. E. McNall, Orleans County; Charles Hartley, Genesee County; Stanley Eaton, Wyoming County; Fred Reed, Livingston County; Eugene DaVaney, Ontario County; Fred Hoshim, Wayne County.
Edward R. Suter was elected Secretary-Treasurer and the Board of Directors named are: Edwin W. Plinke and Thomas F. Trott, Rochester.

Nothing could be more thrilling or romantic than a...
SENOVIA
ILLAN PARKER
RUBEN...
Love and Adventure
The most thrilling...
Nothing could be more thrilling or romantic than a...
SENOVIA
ILLAN PARKER
RUBEN...
Love and Adventure
The most thrilling...
Nothing could be more thrilling or romantic than a...
SENOVIA
ILLAN PARKER
RUBEN...
Love and Adventure
The most thrilling...

BESURE YOU GO
JAN 21-26
2126
AUTO SHOW
10 A.M. TO 10:30 P.M.
EDGERTON PARK
Best Show Ever! 1935

Are You Taking Advantage of This Greatest Bargain
In Trolley and Bus Fare Ever Offered in Rochester?
RIDE A WHOLE WEEK FOR $1.00
WEEKLY PASS
(Transferable)
Unlimited Rides
What This Pass Does For You!
• With a Weekly Pass you can ride any number of times on any city bus or street car from Sunday morning to Saturday night inclusive.
• You can buy the pass easily as a single fare. On sale on every street car and bus.
• The Weekly Pass is transferable to others when you are not using it. Anyone can use your pass.
• On Sundays and holidays a Weekly Pass permits you to take two children up to 12 years of age free!
• With a Weekly Pass you do not need to bother with tickets or tokens, no waiting for change, no bothering with transfers. Just show your pass.
• And last but not least, a Weekly Pass will SAVE YOU MONEY. Our records show that the average weekly sale of passes is 11,200 with an average of 254 rides therefrom. This makes the average ride with a Weekly Pass cost only 3 1/8 cents! The lowest fare that has ever been offered in the history of city!

MOTORISTS
GET A PASS!
Save Your Car!
Avoid Parking
Worries and SAVE MONEY!
BENJAMIN E. TILTON
Traffic of NEW YORK STATE RAILWAY