Security Through Education

Principles of Thrift in Time, Money, Health. Learned in school or at home or self-taught through experience.

Security Through Accumulation

First money earned. First bank account or resumption of systematic saving stopped by the Depression.

Security Through Life Insurance

Purchase of life insurance as early in life as possible. Planned program or restoration of old policies dropped because of income shrinkage.

Security Through Commercial Banking

First checking account. First contacts. First loan or continuation of present contacts on sounder, if more modest basis.

Security Through Home Ownership

Home of your own. Planned payments to own it "free and clear" in later years or beginning small principal payments on present mortgage for same reason.

Security Through Retirees

Usually middle-age when bank balances grow, cash reserves increase. A period for sound investment or conservative business expansion. A step where many stumble.

Security Through Planned Conservatism

Too often postponed to later years. A period when it is more important to hang on to what you have than to risk adding to it. The final step toward security for your own old age and your family's inheritance. The truest period.
