ARCHBISHOP HICKEY VISITS ELIMIRA HOSPITAL

Archbishop Thomas F. Hickey, former Bishop of Rochester, now titular Archbishop of Viminacium, will preside at the annual commencement exercises for 22 graduates of the St. Joseph's Hospital Training School for Nurses, according to an announcement made by Sister Rose Sharon, superintendent of the hospital. The event will take place in the auditorium of the Dunn Memorial Building, Sunday evening, June 9, at 8:15.

Archbishop Hickey's interest in the local institution has been an inspiring and helpful aid in the administration of the hospital from its beginning. Identified in an official capacity with the hospital under the direction of the late Bishop McQuinn, whose conduct he was and whom he succeeded as second Bishop of Rochester, Archbishop Hickey brings to his every effort in behalf of St. Joseph's Hospital a kindly interest and benediction that means so much to the administrators thereof.

All Eyes On Graduation

The big day approaches, graduation, the climax of one of life's epochs for your boy or girl. Keen intellects and bright eyes, and a start into that future in which we are all so much interested.

Keep those youthful eyes BRIGHT for much of life's success depends upon good health, which is so vitally dependent upon good vision.

A fine gift for graduation (and we can say this wholeheartedly) is a Better Light, Better Sight student lamp. These lamps carry the approval of the Illuminating Engineering Society. They are the 'last word' in eyesight conservation through proper lighting, and will help, year after year, to conserve that most valuable asset, normal vision.

We shall be glad to explain to you the many features of the Better Light, Better Sight Student Lamp. You can see them at your electrical dealer's or on our Main Floor.
