'BLESSSED MARY EVER VIRGIN' ONE OF MANY DISHONEST ARTICLES IN 'THE NEW STANDARD ENCYCLOPEDIA OF UNIVERSAL KNOWLEDGE'

AN INSULT TO THE VAST MAJORITY OF CHRISTIANS OF ALL THE CENTURIES, CATHOLICS, SCHISMATICS AND PROTESTANTS HONESTY AND SCHOLARSHIP VERSUS PREJUDICE AND BAD MANNERS

In a recent issue of "America" (March 23) there is a review of a book published on March 4 by Little Brown and Company. The title of the book is "The King of the Jews." In the preface the author states, what is amazing in the light of its contents, that her story is based on the events of His (Christ's) life as recorded in the four Gospels, according to the facts given in the Scriptures as true.

Among "the facts" she derives from the Scriptures are that Our Divine Lord was not God, never claimed to be God, that neither His Mother, nor His disciples, nor the Apostles believed that he was God. It was Rome that made Him God many years after His death, by writing into the original authentic memories of the Apostles the doctrines of His pre-existence, miraculous birth, Resurrection and the like.

Now, don't believe that I am going to buy it myself. I have a fairly good idea of its contents and its facts. It is but one of the many such books published during the past century. But there is one of its "facts" on which I wish to make a few observations. For you today not because it is contained in this book but for other reasons which will appear immediately. Here is the fact: as the author states it from the written authentic memories in the Scriptures: "He (Christ) was the eldest Son of Joseph the carpenter and of Mary."

Erroneous Statement
As I have just intimated, that "fact" as stated solely in this book could be ignored. I don't think many of your non-Catholic friends or acquaintances will read the book or ask you any questions about it, and even if some of them do read it they'll not find anything new in it. But the statement just quoted is one that has been repeated often within the last 1000 years, since people who used to venerate the Bible began to lose faith in all that is supernatural in its contents.

This is however, a very different matter where a work of reference, an "Encyclopedia of Universal Knowledge," published in New York and recommended in Catholic circles, by public advertisement and by private letters to Catholics, makes the same statement without indicating proofs or even suggesting that there is another view of the same subject, a view that has been held by Christians for over sixteen centuries.

Claims Impartiality
I am referring to the "New Standard Encyclopedia of Universal Knowledge" which is published by Funk and Wagnalls. It claims to be impartial. It is recommended to Catholics. It is published in the State of New York where there are millions of Catholics and other Christians who are Orthodox on this subject. Funk and Wagnalls are a stock company and if my information is correct, the controlling financial interest in the Company is in the hands of a Catholic family.

The publication is new and up-to-date. It is advertised, brought out in 1934. I had a letter from them last year recommending the work and offering it as a "gift" for a four year subscription to the "Literary Digest," published by the same house. I find "The Literary Digest" very useful as I do not want to waste my time reading the daily papers. It contains about all I need to know of the news of the week, and I thought a work of reference would also be very useful if I needed to know Who Who and to look up dates. I think it necessary or at least fair play to state these facts. They will show the character of my protest and why I make it.

I have not gone over the work looking for reasons to find fault. These reasons have come to my notice while I was looking for something entirely different. It was in this case. I had read that Mr. Belle had brought out a biography of James II of England. I turned to "The New Standard" to see the date on which this monarch came to the throne. My eye fell on the James mentioned in the New Testament. The article speaks of three of them. Of the third, it says, "The brother of Joseph and Mary, in Patriotic literature called 'the just.'"

In connection with this matter, Miss Voigt's reply to Miss Regan and Guldwy's W. Jones, headquarters secretary replied to Headquarters. Both replies were in substance the same, each quoting from the "New Standard Encyclopedia of Universal Knowledge" the "fact" of the association's endorsement of birth control. The early part of this letter is reproduced in the enclosure of the birth control committee's endorsement blank. The statement quoted is as follows: "That it is not in accordance with the policy of the National Association of Deans of Women to endorse legislation, but that the association will be glad to send information to members, and that the association suggests the further study of the question of the control of social diseases in connection with the use of contraceptives."

Miss Voigt, in her letter to Miss Regan, states that "it seemed justifiable to allow this information to the public in a booklet which was being sent out to members of the association. I am sorry that we would be perfectly willing to allow information from the opposite angle to be sent, as well as information relative to other matters which have become legislative bills and hence likely to require an informed public in the matter of voting." It was not done in any way which would influence anyone contrary to her opinion; but merely as a matter of information for anyone who might care to have the information.

ROCHESTER GIRL WINS $50 FOR ENGLISH ESSAY AT NEW ROCHELLE COLLEGE

New Rochelle, June 3 - Miss June M. Guncheon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ward C. Guncheon, 90 Maplewood Avenue, won the $50 for the best English essay and was given her award today during the Commencement Exercises at the College of New Rochelle. The prize-winning essay was on "The Nature of the Holy Spirit."

Miss Guncheon, who has majored in English at College, has done outstanding work along literary and dramatic writing. This year she was editor-in-chief of "The Quarterly," the college literary publication, and was a member of Alpha Nu Omicron, select senior honor literary society which consists of the literary staff of the Year Book.

of "brother" But it is made perfectly plain in Scripture that the word "brothers" is used both in the Old and New Testaments to designate a brother-in-law, or even brother, and moreover that in the same it means a "brother-German." It is also made perfectly clear in the Gospel narrative that some of those designated by the name of brothers or brethren of the Lord were children of other parents whose names are distinctly stated.

But see must leave it at that today. The question is important because of the atmosphere in which we are living and of the growing prejudice against all that is supernatural in Christian tradition. But the question is also very interesting as a matter of language and scholarship. So when we have read for a week we will return to it.

staff who took advantage of her position to put over what seems to be an unparadigmatic breach of ethics in connection with such an association as the Deans of Women.

In connection with this matter, Miss Voigt's reply to Miss Regan and Guldwy's W. Jones, headquarters secretary replied to Headquarters. Both replies were in substance the same, each quoting from the "New Standard Encyclopedia of Universal Knowledge" the "fact" of the association's endorsement of birth control.
