Along the Sports Horizon

Impire, it was once remarked, constitute a necessary evil in our national sport.

It was Bill Klem, dean of the National League, who first made the remark.

Strangely as it may seem, a winning team and a losing team are equally dependent on the umpire.

We must start off on the premise that the vast majority of umpires are honest despite what some people think.

A good player seldom disputes a umpire's decision, a mediocre player does.

With the influx of players of all nationalities into the pastime, an umpire's job is becoming exceedingly difficult.

Maybe the players today take their umpires more seriously than they did a few years ago.

Only a few days ago, a member of a town team which lost a close game jumped into his automobile.

Even the umpire in the ranks of organized baseball aren't exempting themselves from the summer pain.

This lament is not inspired by a group of plighted umpires.

Umpires will make mistakes and players will "ride" them unjustly as long as the game endures.

At the best the task is not a pleasant one. Plenty of so-called umpires can be dug up at a moment's notice.

It is reasonable that the ballplayer and the umpire should be on the same level.

UNIFIED CATHOLIC YOUTH PROGRAM OUTLINED AT NOTRE-DAME MEET; RADICAL GROUPS ARE DENOUNCED

Notre Dame, Ind. (NCWC) - Plans for a unified Catholic Youth Program were discussed at a national conference held at the University of Notre Dame.

One hundred and seven priests, from twenty-seven dioceses and eight Religious Orders, were present for the four-day meeting.

The aim of the conference was to unify the Catholic youth organizations now sponsored by various groups in different sections of the country.

Highlights of the meeting included addresses by the Most Rev. John J. Neill, Bishop of Port Wayne; the Most Rev. Bernard J. Sheil, Auxiliary Bishop of St. Paul and Apostle of the Queen's Work.

Radical Groups Opposed - The conference is strongly opposed to the spirit which characterizes these radical groups.

Members of Rochester Assembly Fourth Degree, Knights of Columbus and Ladies will enjoy another of the series of summer dinners.

Transportation and reservations are in charge of Theodore R. Huber and Herbert Trimby.

A program of entertainment will be furnished by a committee consisting of Cyril J. Stitt, Hon. Fredrick J. Mix and Clarence M. Lofink.

Consistency would then demand that these several men or women become actively interested in the life of their respective parishes.

When the K. P. list was given out the real counselors found their names in black type.

Robert-Scotfield - The Best Camp's Awards went to Richard Whalen of Rochester, and James Kelly of Hartford.

Honorable mention included Robert - Baumgartner and Don Quigley of Geneva.
