Press Group Makes Journalism Awards To Seven Students
 Milwaukee—(NCWC)—Catholic School Press Association awards for 1935, given for outstanding contributions to Catholic high school and college publications throughout the country, were announced today by Dean J. L. O'Sullivan of the Marquette University College of Journalism, national director. Each award carries with it a certificate of excellence and a fountain pen.
 The winners for 1935: Poetry, Mary Ellen Russell, Mercy High School, Chicago; editorial, Charlotte Wilson, Marquette College, Chicago; news story, Pauline Lintner, Sacred Heart College, Louisville; social column, Jean Marie Smith, Siena High School, Chicago; short story, Glad Robinson, Saint-Mary-of-the-Wood College, St. Mary-of-the-Wood, Ind.; essay, Joseph P. Sullivan, Fordham Preparatory School, New York, and feature, Virginia Gaertner, Holy Angels Academy, Milwaukee.

CARDENAS SPLIT WITH GARRIDO STARTS ACTION
 know her enemies and will know how to reply with all the dignity of their anti-clerical Revolutionary conviction. We await the day to balance the accounts and to avenge the blood of those who today fall assassinated by your envoys." Significance also is attached here to the words of President Cardenas when he addressed a student group at Guadalajara. He stressed a declaration that "governments must give to every class in society an opportunity to speak, and should listen to their complaints and attend to them."
 There was, moreover, the address a pointed hint to the State government of Jalisco, in which Cardenas lies, that Cardenas expects it and other State governments to live up to his ideas. He said:
 "If the Government of the State of Jalisco lacks persons identified with it who are willing to cooperate with it, let it do what I do now: address itself to the people and sweep of bad elements, of the indifferent and irresponsible."
 Faces Political Problems
 Persons here are taking these indications cautiously. It is fully realized that Garrido, while he is the most notorious anti-clericalist in Mexico, also was a staunch supporter of Calles, and obviously Cardenas aims at rooting out the Calles influence and placing his own man in power. Likewise, with grave political problems facing him, this is no time to commit additional overt acts against religion. Thus the attitude is to wait till the political storm is over to evaluate the throwing of Cardenas into the role of punisher of the Church's enemies.

AUBURN DEANERY NEWS
 Leaflets Defeat Boston Braves
 Little wonder that the Boston Braves stamped Frank (Eddie) Nikola as one of the most perceptive young fellows they have met this season. The bespectacled former Holy Cross College and New York (Rabbits) mascot was in an ungenerous mood Friday afternoon and limited Bill McKenchie's National League to a 4-3 triumph at Schaefer Stadium. A crowd of some 3,000 fans attended this game, the proceeds of which will be divided between City and Mercy Hospitals.
 The Boone's pennant-chasing Leafs outfit the Braves, 9 to 6, and contributed some fielding gems that will long be remembered. W. (Rabbit) Masrullo, 43-year-old Rochesterian and member of the Rochester Council, Knights of Columbus, played eight innings at the keyhole sack for Boston. His spirit and Schachtel's Altroover act with W. Schachtel, former teammate now playing with the Canadians, drew rounds of applause from the thousands of spectators.
 St. Alphonsus Fele Opens
 A gala festival opened Wednesday, July 31, on the spacious grounds of St. Alphonsus Church in East Genesee street and will be continued throughout August 1, 2 and 3. Committees have been named and are now functioning. The festival is being conducted under the direction of the Holy Name Society, Fr. Cawley, pastor, Catholic Action League, Columbian Squires and the Immaculate Heart of Mary and Rosary Society. At-

K. of C. Chapter Names Auburnian As President
 Geneva—John J. Leo of Auburn headed the list of officers elected at the meeting of Central New York Chapter, Knights of Columbus, held here Sunday. Over 100 delegates or alternates were present at the quarterly meeting, to which Geneva Council acted as host.
 Dr. Walter B. O'Neill, past Grand Knight of Rochester Council, was elected member of the steering committee, with John Larkin of Rome as chairman of this committee, and Lewis Edinger of Tully as another member.
 The meeting was addressed by Rt. Rev. Magr. Walter J. Lee, V.P., rector of St. Francis de Sales Church, Geneva, on "The Catholic Press." Monsignor Lee declared that the printed word was stronger than the spoken word, and laid emphasis on the important part the Catholic press can play in the moral upbuilding of a nation. He also discussed the need of equipping a Catholic Chapel at Elmira Reformatory. The Chapter donated $50 towards this purpose.
 Judge Philip Donnelly of Rochester was another speaker at the meeting. His topic was Catholic Action as outlined by the Rochester Council.
 The Geneva meeting had representatives from 24 communities of Central and Western New York: Rochester, Syracuse, Geneva, Tully, Ithaca, Canastota, Waterloo, Seneca Falls, Canandaigua, Newark, Binghamton, Elmira, Fulton and Auburn. The next quarterly meeting is to be held in Fulton.
 Besides Mr. Leo, who succeeds Thomas McInerney of Ithaca as chairman of the Chapter, and the members of the Steering Committee, the following officers were elected: Vice-chairman, John Leo, Geneva, succeeding Mr. Leo; treasurer, John Hurley, Oswego, succeeding George Marshall of Waterloo; inside guard, William Fall, Ithaca; outside guard, Peter Compton, Binghamton, succeeding Charles Fogarty of Seneca Falls.

Sister Asks Aid To Preserve Faith In Indian Missions
 An appeal for help in the preservation of Catholic missionary work among the Indians of the United States is contained in a letter by Sister Cecelia, of the Blessed Sacrament for Indians and Colored People, writing from the mission field.
 The letter emphasizes "the spiritual danger to the Indians arising out of their unwillingness to take idea of well-meaning but mistaken missionaries in the complete development of their tribal life, customs and religious practices."
 "We who have been with the Indians for so long know that a pagan people who had to take a long and self-denying step forward to the practice of the Catholic Faith will fit the theistic mold into the religious practices of paganism a short and pleasant one," the letter adds.
 To meet these new conditions, the letter states, opportunity must be provided for Catholic missionaries to practice the Faith "to make sure the children are registered for Catholic instruction, to minister to the sick, to baptize infants in danger of death, to instruct adults, to call the priest to dying Indians, the Sisters will have to be provided with a missionary auto. Without it very little can be done in a land of rugged and jagged terrain where hundreds of acres separate hogan from hogan."
 Our readers who may wish to respond to this plea of the Sisters of the Blessed Sacrament will receive from the Sisters a personal letter of thanks for any gift sent for their Indian field work. Address communications to the diocesan office of the Propagation of the Faith, 50 Chestnut Street.

Students Assemble For Mission Crusade

 members of the National Executive Board: Ambrose A. McAvey, Columbia College; Dorothy V. Swift, Marywood College, Scranton; Donald A. McLaughlin, Holy Name High School, Cleveland; Margaret A. McGill, Bishop McDonnell Memorial High School, Brooklyn, and the Rev. Edward G. Lutz, S.V.D., St. Mary's Mission House, Techy, Ill. A sixth student executive, Lawrence J. Ernst, is at the North American Mission Society.
 Diocesan mission directors, students and educators from 448 dioceses are listed in the official program for special participation in the convention proceedings. Twenty Bishops are expected to attend. The highlight of the inspirational events will be an open-air procession Thursday night, in honor of the Blessed Virgin, Queen of the Mission, which a pilgrimage to the Queen of the Apostles will be delivered by the Rt. Rev. Magr. William Quinn, National Director of the Society for the Propagation of the Faith.

Fr. Fitzgerald Named Monsignor in Rome Has Relatives in Diocese
 The Rev. Charles E. Fitzgerald, spiritual director of the North American College at Rome, who visited relatives in Rochester last year, was appointed by the Holy Father to the office of private chamberlain to the title of Very Reverend Monsignor, according to a news despatch from Rome.
 Monsignor Fitzgerald, who is a native of Livingston Manor, N. Y., visited his uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Cahoon, and another aunt, Miss E. A. Fitzgerald of 217 Merriman Street, a year ago last March, prior to leaving for Rome to assume his new duties as spiritual director of the North American College there.
 As spiritual director, Father Fitzgerald is one of the successors of the Most Rev. Archbishop Edward Mooney, Bishop of Rochester, who held the office at the North American College some time prior to his appointment to the Rochester see.
 Father Fitzgerald has other relatives in the Rochester diocese, being a nephew of Mrs. Felix C. Donahue, 642 Pennsylvania Avenue, Elmira, and a cousin of Howard E. and Earl F. Donahue of Elmira and Charles A. Donahue of Watkins Glen.

Catholic Editors Honored in Paris
 PARIS—(NCWC)—The Rev. James M. Gillis, G.R.P., editor of the Catholic World, and Michael Williams, editor of The Commonwealth, accompanied by a group of 40 American pilgrims, were in Paris recently on their way to Rome.
 The General and the Countess de Chambrun, ne Longworth, organized a reception in their honor, at their residence on Vaugirard Street. The American visitor had the opportunity to meet eminent French Catholic personalities, notably the novelist Francois Mauriac, Professor Bernard Fay of the College of France, and Professor Auliclermont of the faculty of letters of Clermont.

John J. McGuire Funeral Rites Held At St. Ann's Church
 Hornell Funeral services for John J. McGuire, for over 40 years a foreman in the Hornell Department of Public Works, were held at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning at St. Ann's Church.
 The deceased, who succumbed to a heart attack on July 27 at his home, 69 Elm Street, had been foreman in charge of water mains and sewers. It is believed that the strain of his untiring work of repairing the ravages of the flood of July 8 was a factor in hastening his death.
 Mr. McGuire was born in Ireland and lived in Hornell for 46 years. He was a devout member of St. Ann's Church and of the Rosary Society.
 Surviving are one sister, Mrs. Mary Hulbert of South Hornell, and two brothers, Frank McGuire of North Dakota and Michael McGuire of this city.

Abstinance Union Meets In 64th Convention
 Altoona, Pa.—(NCWC)—The sixty-fourth annual convention of the Catholic Total Abstinance Union of America will be held here August 5 to 7. It is announced by the Rev. Daniel S. Coonahan, national president. The convention will open with a solemn Mass in the Cathedral, at which the Rev. Magr. Bernard Conley, Chancellor of the Diocese of Altoona, will be celebrant.

Elmira Deanery Doings
 Elmira a card party for the benefit of the Elmira Deanery Council of the National Council of Catholic Women will be held on the spacious lawns and garden of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Kennedy of Starmont Park, on August 8. Presidents of all affiliated organizations will act as hostesses.
 Elmira Over six hundred people attended opening night of the St. Peter and Paul's Church bazaars last Monday and an equally large crowd was anticipated for the following two nights of the festival. Proceeds of the affair are to be used for improvements and repairs to the church buildings and grounds. Charles E. Fogarty, Mrs. Fred Cauer and Mrs. Clarence H. Kennedy comprise the committee in charge.
 Elmira—Miss Jane Hassett, daughter of John J. Hassett, who graduated from the College of the Sacred Heart, New York City, in the Class of 1935, was notified last week that she had passed the entrance examinations for Oxford University. Miss Hassett plans to enter Oxford next term to study philosophy and modern history.

The Stamp in Mission Work
 The insignificant little postage stamp is a practical missionary—it works for God, building chapels, feeding the starving, paying for teachers, etc.
 It is a universal missionary—it cradles even the poorest to give financial help to the missions.
 All cancelled stamps, preferably on a bit of paper to protect the edges, are useful. Just collect them until you have a pound or more and ship by cheapest way to the

BALANCED TRAINING

An Explanation of R. B. I.'s Modernized Training Program

VOCATIONAL COUNSEL
 R. B. I.'s prospective students are aided in the choice of business careers through its Distinctive Abilities Laboratory—using methods developed by Dr. Harry W. Keyser, head of the Psychology Division of the school of Business Administration at Syracuse University. While students attend R. B. I. personal guidance continues through (1) further study of personality factors and (2) the co-ordination of study programs to meet each specific career need. After graduation guidance is still further maintained. Monthly meetings of both men's and women's alumni organizations keep former students informed of current opportunity trends.

TECHNICAL TRAINING
 Accuracy, speed, and knowledge of business fundamentals will provide the three "R's" of business preparation. R. B. I. supplies each of these through methods tested by seventy-two years in the business education field.
 Employers are demanding an ever increasing scale of business knowledge on the part of business assistants. R. B. I.'s curriculum has broadened in proportion and includes such subjects as Journalism, Production Engineering, Public Speaking and Merchandising Art.

PERSONALITY DEVELOPMENT
 Success is more than brains. Skill must be supplemented by social adaptability to make its mark. R. B. I. develops social factors through extra-curricular activities as sports, debating societies, school dances, parties, fraternalities and societies. Subjects which directly influence social technique as Business Psychology, Secretarial Procedure, Personality Development.

PLACEMENT TECHNIQUE
 The institute maintains an active placement department. This department secures (1) part-time jobs, where desired, for students who are in school; (2) temporary jobs for both students and graduates; and (3) permanent positions for graduates (an average of over 50 each month during the last four years). The placement department, moreover, has been instrumental in securing for many students the best promotion after employment has been secured.
