SODALTALK
Recording the Activities of Rochester Parish Sodalities Union

"The Love of Christ Drives Us On"

There will be an important meeting Friday night, August 16, at the Columbus Civic Centre for all prefects of Sodalities. Father Robert J. Fox urges every prefect to be present, and if she cannot attend to send a reliable representative. Each prefect should make every effort to be present at this important meeting.

Sodalists of SS Peter and Paul's conducted a very splendid booth at the recent church festival. Each night the sodalists were in attendance and their booth did some fine business.

A large group of sodalists are spending this week at Boston College attending the Summer School of Catholic Action

Again we should like to remind all new prefects to send the name, telephone number and address of all their new officers to Margaret Larkin, 132½ Bronson Avenue. The information is important, and should reach her not later than August 13.

Dedication Set

In September, 1930, a parochial school of eight grades was first put into operation, taught by Sisters of the Lithuanian Order of St. Francis, who came here from their motherhouse in Pittsburgh.

Construction of the new edifice was under the direction of Father Baksys, assisted by the Church Building Committee, as follows: Peter Pikunas, Peter Norkeliunas, Vincent Butrimaitis, Casimir Zlotkus, Ignas Kairis, Ignas Vilimas, Theodore Poluikis, Stasys Sedlickas, John Kavoliunas Stasys Kazakevicius, Joseph Mocejunas, Frank Shukis, Joseph J Rickis, John P. Levickas, Simon Valiukevicius, Joseph Baranauskas, Frank Rimkus, Peter Gudelis, Joseph Kovas.

Sailors Ferreted Out for Mass

Wuhu, China.—(JMS)—In the storm-center of the Chinese Reds an international flotilla of gunboats in the river serves as protection for the polyglot Jesuit house of training nearby. For a recent feast-day, an American missionary, Father Charles D. Simons, S. J., visited the American and English gunboats, where he found a half dozen Catholic sailors for Mass at the Spanish Sisters' Convent, near the dock.

41 ORDERS ATTEND

Chicago — Forty-one Religious Orders are represented at De Paul University for the summer session, according to records disclosed by the office of Dr. Howard E. Egan, director.

Sea Apostle

Rev. Basil Mazurowski, O. F. M., Catholic chaplain at the Port of Rotterdam, Holland, who will be remembered by many immigrants from Germany, Austria and the Slav countries. Father Basil has just completed 25 years' work at that port where he ministered to thousands of emigrants to the United States. He studied their languages and lectured to them about the country of their destination. A port chapel and Mass kits for all steamships leaving Rotterdam were among his many • accomplishments. • danger was threatening, or the inadequacy of the measures adopted to defend order in the face of lawlessness. It is not for us to judge those leaders and instigators who by their words and actions hastened and intensified the calamity, nor to assess the guilt of those whom they used as tools to carry out their counsels and commands. Our duty is to turn to Almighty God and implore Him the Divine gift of Peace."

Urges Patience

Bishop Mageean then begged his people to continue to practice patience and forbearance and not to retaliate with reprisals. "The individual who would take it upon himself to avenge these injustices will be doing more harm to Catholics and to the cause of Catholicity than all that has been inflicted upon you by the shootings and burnings and lootings and evictions that have occurred up to the present," he said.

The pastoral closed with a testimony with pleasure to the courage and vision of many high-minded non-Catholics of this city, clerics and laity, men and women, who are endeavoring to assuage the angry passions of men that have been evoked within the last few weeks to stablish tolerance and fraternal charity in our midst, to wipe out the bitter memories of the past, and to rehabilitate Belfast in the eyes of the civilized world," the Bishop said. "In your name, and in my own, I assure them that they will have the help and cooperation of the whole Catholic community."

The Protestant Bishop of Down, Dr McNeice made another appeal for peace when preaching in Belfast Cathedral in which he uttered the significant words: "Make sure that our loyalty to your party does not mean disloyalty to your Lord." When the shipyards and factories opened for work on July 22, 20 Protestant clergymen presented themselves at the various gates imploring the workers to make peace with their Catholic brethren, but were swept aside and threats of violence against Catholic workers were shouted by the crowds. Attempts at reprisals in the Irish Free State, notably at Limerick and at Letterkenny, were immediately and sternly condemned by the Catholic clergy and by Judge McElligott, who was sitting at Limerick Circuit Court. The Judge said, speaking from the bench, that a mob, representing no political party, had broken loose and attacked the houses and buildings of Protestants. He deeply regretted what had occurred, and appealed to his Protestant friends to forget and forgive the gross injury done them by an irresponsible, irreligious worthless mob.

Reprisals Denounced

The City of Limerick expressed its abhorrence of the reprisals when Mayor J. M. Casey, and City Manager P. J. Geraghty called on the Protestant Bishop, the Rt. Rev. Dr Irwin, to express on behalf of the City Council and Catholic citizens, regret for the outrages perpetuated on members of his flock. They also called on Dean Swain and other Protestant clergymen and on Protestant laity who suffered at the hands of the rioters. In the Redemptorist Church, Limerick, Father Gorey, addressing the members of the Archconfraternity of the Holy Family, said he thought they would wish him to express in the name of all, their sense of shame and humiliation that there should be even a handful of irresponsible youths in Catholic Limerick, who could act according to the pagan principle of an eye for an eye and a tooth for a tooth. Their action was not the Christian charity one expected from a Catholic city, he said, adding that he was sure that every decent Confraternity man would condemn and repudiate the un-Christian destruction of property.

AUBURN DEANERY NEWS

FETE FOR HOSPITAL

Auburn An old-time festival will be conducted Wednesday afternoon and evening, August 21, on the Mercy Hospital grounds in southwest Auburn under the auspices of the Mercy Hospital Guild. A large list of committees is being formed by the officers of the guild. In the afternoon of this event, a program of entertainment and amusements for the children will be presented. Supper will be served on the grounds. A social party will be featured in the evening.

FESTIVAL IS SUCCESS

Auburn The Rev. Francis Waterstraat, assistant pastor of St. Alphonsus Church, was general chairman of the gala festival which closed Saturday evening at the church grounds in East Genesee Street and Lawton Avenue. This affair also was staged Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evening last and was sponsored by the five societies of the parish. Stephen H. Baier was vice-chairman of the festival; A. J. Linnenbach, secretary and Mrs. Lawrence Salser, treasurer. Members of the Holy Name Society, Columbian Squires, Catholic Action League, Young Ladies' Sodality and the Immaculate Heart of Mary and Rosary Society, assisted the General Committee.

JOINS K. C. STAFF

Auburn—Dick Corcoran, one of the ace hurlers of the Auburn City Softball League, has joined the pitching staff of the Auburn Council No. 207, Knights of Columbus softball team and will appear on the mound in future games. Clarence Hoey and Frankie Smith are in charge of the K. of C. outfit. The game, scheduled between the Geneva and Auburn Councils Sunday afternoon, was postponed until a later date.

Liturgical Music School to Begin Here on Tuesday

Pius X School of Liturgical Music will open for its second annual summer session at the Academy of the Sacred Heart, Prince Street, on Tuesday, August 13.

This summer school, which is under the patronage of the Most Rev. Archbishop Edward Mooney, Bishop of Rochester, is designed to give a basis for appreciation as well as an understanding of the technique of Gregorian music. It will meet the needs of choirmasters and organists, as well as being of cultural benefit to the layman, according to the statement of the diocesan office of education.

The period of instruction lasts from August 13 to August 30, and classes are taught by a specially trained staff from the Pius X Liturgical Music School of the College of the Sacred Heart, New York City.

Lone Catholic Adult On Tristan Da Cunna Converts Her Mate

By REV. ANTHONY COPPENS
(Belgium Correspondent, N. C. W. C. News Service)

Brussels—Word has been received here from Mrs. William Rogers, only adult Catholic resident of the Island of Tristan da Cunha, who writes: "You will be pleased to hear that my husband is now only waiting for the priest to come to be received into the Church. He is blind and cannot read or write, but I am preparing him for Confession and Communion. I also have prepared my other children."

"You will also be glad to know," she adds, "that I had another visit from a priest, Father Sherry. He was aboard the Empress of Australia that called last week. I was able to go once more to the Sacraments. My two little children made their First Communion. It put me so much in mind of my First Communion Day. I was only 11 years old, but I never forgot it.

"I have had more than 100 letters but was so sorry that I could not answer them all, on account of having no writing material, but I hope to do so now as I had some by this boat. I have now three grandchildren and am expecting another soon. My children of my first husband are John, Joseph, Thomas and Mary Glass. Joe is still alive and is here with me. He has a dear little daughter aged three years. He has promised to come to the Church, when next priest comes. Also one of my nephews will come back if a priest comes here more often.

"I was so sorry that my four sons were away when the ship came and so missed Mass. They were over at Nightingale Island, 30 miles from here, after sea-grass; they came back the same day the ship left. We hope for better luck next time. You will also be pleased to know that the Rev. Wilde (Anglican Church) who is here is such a nice man. He does not interfere in the least with our religion. We all like him very much and the children say that they would not miss school for anything."

Missionaries Caring For 25,000 Lepers

Rome (NCWC-Fides) Catholic missionaries care for approximately 25,000 lepers in various parts of the world. In the 127 organized asylums directed by missionaries there are some 14,000 inmates, while almost as many again receive help and treatment at Catholic missionary dispensaries

Did You Remember Yourself In Your Will?

By remembering God's missionaries you make yourself the greatest beneficiary.

Benefactors of the Society for the Propagation of the Faith share in the labors and merits of 175,000 workers in the missions during life and after death.
